

SALEM HIGH WINS TRIANGULAR DISTRICT DEBATE

Salem high school won the district championship in debate last night by a one point margin when the local team defeated Woodburn high by a unanimous decision at Salem and lost to Albany by a split decision at Albany. The final count stood Salem 4, Albany 3 and Woodburn 2. Woodburn defeated Albany 2 to 1 in the third corner of the triangle, held at Woodburn. Affirmative teams traveled.

In the contest held at the local high school auditorium Avery Thompson and Margaret Pro, comprising the Salem negative team, had little difficulty in disposing of the arguments presented by the Woodburn affirmative, consisting of Harold Ewalt and Betty Ballillo.

Homer Richards and Thomas Childs composed the Salem affirmative team which lost to the strong Albany aggregation by a one-point margin. The one judge's vote at Albany was all that saved the locals from defeat. If the decision had been unanimous the final count would have placed Albany one notch above Salem.

The question was, "Resolved, That a strong third party would promote the interests of good government in the United States."

Pending word from Salem, Massachusetts, the local debate authorities are not definitely decided as to what course to take next. There is no intention of withdrawing from the inter-district debates to which Salem is eligible by virtue of last night's victory, but in case the debate materializes between the high schools of the two Salems it looms as a probability that the strongest possible team will immediately begin work to represent the locals. Such action would hamper Salem's chances in the state debate, but Orlando Horning, debate coach, has indicated that even in case a weaker team should prepare on the state question, such a team would probably be able to work up a stronger case than his strongest possible team, working on two questions. In any case the contest with the eastern school is bound to hamper the local's chances for the Oregon state championship, it is said, but school authorities believe that the benefit to Salem of an inter-sectional debate will far surpass the benefits of winning state honors another year.

TURNER NEWS

Turner, Or., Feb. 28.—Ball Bros, last week sold a radio outfit to Floyd Speer. Floyd probably wants the latest market reports.

Rev. Ben J. Kimber and family of Salem were dinner guests of Mrs. L. J. Rowley and son, Sunday.

Mrs. C. Bones was a Sunday guest at the home of her daughter in Hal. m. Sunday.

Mrs. McHaley and Mrs. O'Neil of Salem were Turner visitors Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Martin were in Salem, Friday night, attending the Democrat meeting at the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Miss Dorris Barnett of Portland spent the week-end with home folks.

Alvin Bond was home from Willamette for the week-end.

Cordell Ball has purchased the McKinney tract of timber, near West Stayton and will soon begin cutting.

Rev. Ben J. Kimber, field secretary of the county Y. M. C. A., occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church, Sunday morning.

Miss Thelma Peltzell came home from Woodburn and Miss Aralyn from the Oregon Agricultural college Saturday for the week-end to visit their mother, who is recovering from a severe illness. Miss Aralyn says the exams are very hard and many will not return after the March vacation.

G. W. Farris and wife and Mrs. Briggs are still confined to the house with colds. They think it more like the old fashioned flu.

The Christian Sunday school is progressing nicely under the management of Charley Standley, the new superintendent.

The tractor clinic put on by Bones Bros, last Friday which was conducted by two of the Ford Motor company's Fordson experts, drew a number of interested farmers, who learned many new ideas concerning the care of the tractor. The tractor was torn down and then assembled before them. Each piece was taken separately and explained as to the part it played in the operation of the tractor.

Charles Bones, an Aumsville visitor Monday night.

Since the Turner meat market purchased the new delivery car we notice that Jack stays in the shop and Mrs. Barber runs the route.

Albert Lulay, of the Stayton Mail, was a Turner visitor Tuesday. While here he called at the Tribune office. Mr. Lulay is contemplating the starting of a paper at Falls City.

Harry Bennett, former third trick operator at the Turner station, left Monday for southern Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Thomason enjoyed a visit from their daughter and family of Albany the first of the week.

Mrs. A. Steele was called to McMinville, Tuesday, on account of the death of her niece, Mrs. Homer Estes.

Mrs. E. C. Perry of Portland was a visitor at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. E. Putnam, Saturday.

The concert which was to have been held last Friday has been postponed on account of sickness and will be held in the near future, possibly one week from next Friday.

Frank Lyle and family of Portland spent Sunday with his father and mother.

R. Littlefield and daughter of Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Holloway of Portland were the guests of their cousin, Mrs. H. W. Smith last Sunday. They spent Monday and Tuesday with Mrs. Smith's brother, George Staples, of the Cloverdale district.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barber of Aumsville were Turner visitors Tuesday.

Miss Agnes Kelly spent Sunday and Monday at home.

LABRADOR GETS NEW YORK OVER RADIO

London—The Moravian mission boat, the 211 ton bark Harmony, the smallest boat on a regular run across the Atlantic, has berthed here on the return from her annual voyage to the mission stations in Labrador.

It took the bark 13 days to return from Newfoundland, according to her skipper, Captain Jackson. For the first time for many years, he says, the Esquimaux population shows a slight increase. The one wireless set in northern Labrador regularly receives all the New York concerts, but cannot tune in with British stations.

LADD & BUSH, Bankers

ESTABLISHED 1868

GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS

Office Hours from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Orinoka

DRAPERIES & UPHOLSTERIES

COLORS GUARANTEED SUN & FADING

Colors that stay as you bought them

There is a double satisfaction in lovely new draperies when you know they will not fade from exposure to sunlight or from washing. That is why so many home-makers are using Orinoka Fabrics.

They are not only beautiful, but remain so—washing but brings back their original freshness. Every yard of Orinoka draperies is guaranteed against fading from sunlight or washing, or your money back.

C. S. Hamilton

GOOD FURNITURE

Five Floors of Good Furniture

Two Profits of Home-Owning— Are You Getting Both?

The first comes when you save rent money by owning a home. The second when you own a Home of permanent materials, escaping expensive up-keep and depreciation. Let the makers of concrete tile show you how much more profitable it is to pay for your home only once.

Oregon Gravel Co.
Hood at Front Street

"Build a Home of Your Own"

Build for Beauty Plan for Permanency

The selection of the proper lumber is a mighty important consideration in the erecting or repairing of that building work that you have in mind. It's only seasoned lumber that you can depend upon for wear and assurance that it will keep in kilter. Take up that lumber question with us before you build.

J. W. COPELAND YARDS

PHONE 576

West Salem—Albany—Lents—Hubbard—Yamhill—
Hillsboro—Eugene

BEGINNING
TUESDAY,
MARCH 3rd

IDAH McGLONE GIBSON
A bas-relief from life
by Bartholdi

BEGINNING
TUESDAY,
MARCH 3rd

Men, Mothers and Maids

By Idah McGlone Gibson

WATCH FOR THIS GRIPPING STORY

Paris and Hollywood, Wealth and Sudden Poverty—Told as Only
Idah McGlone Gibson Could Tell It

TUESDAY, MARCH 3rd

IN

THE CAPITAL JOURNAL