U. OF O. BASEBALL OUTLOOK ROSY

University of Oregon, Eugene, March 7.—(Special.)—During the spring vacation, from March 21 to March 30, candidates for the University of Oregon baseball team will remain in Eugene in order that they may get in shape as early as possible for the 1925 season.

The turnout has been retarded this year because Coach Billy Reinhart is at present giving all his attention to the basketball team which is contending for the championship of the northern section of the Pacific coast conference after a brilliant finish. Varsity pitchers and catchers have turned out, however, talking daily work-outs in order to get limbered up by the time the regular candidates turn out. They have had two weeks of training.

Only six lettermen will be back for the 1925 season from last season's varsity team but a number of promising men from the 1924 freshman team will be eligible for varsity places. Herbert Brooks and Ray Williams, veteran pitchers; Howard Hobson, third base; Douglas Wright, outfielder; Jack Bliss, catcher; and Sam Cook, catcher and outfielder, are the varsity lettermen back for this season.

From the yearling squad of last year six men should make good material for the varsity. Frank Reinhart, third base; Rex Adolph, first base, and Jones, third base, are the most promising of the infield material from the fresh of last season. George Mimsaugh, pitcher, and Pavey Adolph and Harry Dutton, pitchers, are former freshman battermen who should make good on the varsity squad.

1500 LOSE HOMES BY COURT ORDER

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 7.—The 1500 residents of the town of Lavoie, Wyo., were deprived of their homes by a ruling of Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy here Friday, who ordered that the townsite, must be vacated in favor of the Ohio Oil company which holds a government lease on the land. It is in the Salt creek oil field.

The court gave Lavoie residents sixty days in which to obey its order to vacate, which was first issued April 21, 1924, stating that all who did not obey within that period would be cited for contempt of court. The court's order commands that buildings and other improvements owned by occupants of the townsite shall be removed. Louis P. Lavoie claimed the townsite under a homestead entry. The Ohio company sought the election of occupants of the property on the ground that their occupancy interfered with the corporation's development for oil under its lease from the government.

LEWIS DROPPED FROM TARIFF COMMISSION

Washington, March 7.—Alfred P. Dennis of Maryland was nominated Friday by President Coolidge to succeed David J. Lewis, also of Maryland, as a member of the tariff commission. Like Mr. Lewis, Mr. Dennis is a Democrat. The former has been one of the storm centers in the row that has kept the tariff commission deadlocked for months.

Men and Women in the Day's News

CHARLES BONZI and PRINCESS KENIA

Princess Kenia, of Russia, second cousin of the late Czar Nicholas, wife of William B. Leeds, of New York, cos of the late tin plate magnate and Princess Anastasia, of Greece, has given birth to a baby girl in her New York home. The home of Governor A. J. Pothier, of Rhode Island, is under police guard in Providence, it being rumored he may be the victim of law breakers against whom he has been active. Charles Post, of Boston, former international postal coupon financier, who has served one sentence for frenzied finance, has been found guilty again on charges of larceny from clients. Henri de Castellane, descendant of Prince Talleyland de Perigord and relative of Count Bondi de Castellane, former husband of Anna Gould, has been dropped from Harvard University for failing three times to pass his German examinations.

WEST SALEM NEWS

West Salem, Or., March 7.—The West Salem Sunday school gave a farewell reception on Wednesday evening in the church in honor of Roy Morris of the United States navy, who has been enjoying several weeks' vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Morris of Salem. The evening was very pleasantly passed away with music and games after which a luncheon was served by the ladies of the church. Roy will leave soon for San Francisco and will then sail for Australia.

Those from a distance who attended the D. K. Brannon funeral were: Lester Brannon of Seattle, Walter Brannon of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Will Squires of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bales and family of Portland. Mrs. Squires has been with Mrs. Brannon the past week. The ladies' aid of the local church met at the dwelling of Mrs. E. Brockenridge on Wednesday evening. A large number of the ladies turned out and spent a very profitable time. The next meeting will be in a fortnight at the home of Mrs. Homer Barber. A Neil Garner, who had several of his toes amputated at a hospital in Salem, is home getting along as well as can be expected.

Quite a few folks from town attended the funeral of Mrs. Gardner, Monday. It may be of interest to the friends of Mr. Gardner to hear he is suffering with the flu and is very dangerously ill. Mrs. Mary Arnold is visiting with her son, J. J. Arnold of Kingwood avenue.

GRAND THEATRE One Night Only Wednesday, March 18

As big, if not a bigger production than "Kismet." A brilliant, whirling, colorful panorama of drama, music and dance. "SANCHO PANZA" is based on that gold mine of Spanish humor, "Don Quixote."

Mr. Skinner and his large company stops at Salem on his Transcontinental tour from San Francisco to Portland.

SANCHO PANZA is one of the greatest comedy figures in all literature, brought to life by America's greatest character actor.

A HUGE PRODUCTION, presented by Russell Janney, staged by Richard Boleslawsky of the famous Moscow Art Theater, the dances arranged by Bert French of the Music Box Revue, the songs and music by the brilliant Hugo Felix.

AND THE SPLENDOR of the entire production enhanced by gorgeous costumes and scenery designed by James Reynolds of Ziegfeld Follies fame.

After this she will demonstrate that she still has the power of vision.

Beck and Barry are entertainers who will offer a varied program of singing and dancing in their own Broadway style. For the past three seasons they have been featured in two of the big town's largest revues.

Minstrel days are brought to light by Gruett, Kramer and Gruett, who have an entertaining bit called "Dixie Dan, the Minstrel Man." This act carries all the lure of the minstrel show, with the additional combination of excellent musical numbers, graceful dancing and snappy comedy.

"The Merry Jesters" are Clifford and Leslie. They have put together an offering of comedy, singing and dancing. They come to vaudeville from musical comedy.

Stanley and Frank present an athletic turn. These comedy artists perform neck-risking stunts on the bicyclo sticks. They are among the first in vaudeville to present this sort of a novelty.

The existence of a species of tiny, unclassified animals has come into evidence in the basement of the Salem high school building.

J. T. Barnes, head janitor, is confined to his home with blood poisoning as a result of a bite by one of the mysterious creatures when Barnes reached into a waste paper basket. He was bitten on the end of a finger of his right hand, a red streak spreading rapidly to his elbow. Stiffness set in shortly after the animal made the attack and Barnes found himself utterly unable to use any of the fingers of the hand bitten.

The creature responsible for the tragedy is described by the few who have seen any of the species as resembling a mouse, but not having tail or legs as long as an ordinary mouse. Its short legs enable it to travel only very slowly. It is said.

Up to the present time none of the secret societies of the school has been blamed for the existence of the animals.

Except for Barnes' tragedy, no mishap has yet occurred to any of those who occupy the school building. None of the students has reported injuries.
