More than a hundred members of Chadwick chapter of the Eastern Star were the guests at a chicken pie dinner at Turner last night when Victoria chapter entertained for them. Practically all of the officers of Chadwick chapter and many of the members motored to Turner for seven o'clock dinner and the degree work of Victoria chapter which followed.

The banquet was served in the chapter banquet room which was gayly decked with daffodils and other spring flowers for the occasion. Mr. Edwards, patron of the Turner group, served as toastmaster, and the main address was given by Judge George H. Burnett. Responses were given by Mrs. W. P. Babeock, matron of Chadwick chapter, Mrs. Frank Minto, Mrs. Emma Murphy Brown, Mrs. Betty Smith, Mrs. Paul Hauer, Albert Thompson, Charles Pratt and Rev. U. G. Crowder.

Conferring of degrees and the initiation of several new members was effected by Victoria chapter following the banquet.

Honoring her son, John Elliott, Mrs. F. A. Elliott entertained at a charming eleven covered dinner last night. Daffodils centered the table with covers laid for Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCammon, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hendricka, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Becke, Mr. and Mrs. Orris Fry, John Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown enjoyed the Capital club in their home at an interesting evening of five hundred last night. High scores were won by Mrs. W. H. Dancy and Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner. Mrs. W. A. Jence was a special guest. Mrs. Brown was assisted by Mrs. H. H. Ollinger.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Meyers, Dr. and Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Ollinger and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown.

Back of the film "Abraham Lincoln" which the American Association of University Women have secured for showing at a local theater the last three days of this week, lies a story which for dramatic intensity rivals the plot of the film itself. It is the story of struggles and disappointments and finally success for Al and Ray Rockett, the two young men who independently produced this great picture.

The Rockett boys were born in Vincennes, Indiana, and reared by a widowed mother. Lincoln was their earliest hero and devotion to the great president seems to have been the guiding spirit of their boyhood. When they both entered the business end of the moving picture industry they threw all their might into the production of films and just three years ago, without capital, without a studio and without actors or means of hiring them they started independently to produce the life of Abraham Lincoln and to attempt to make it a fitting exponent of the man after whom it is named. The story of their struggles is heart-breaking at times and one marvels at the tenacity and faith of these two young men.

The complete story of their accomplishment was published last year in the March issue of the American magazine.

Previous to the showing here the theater management yesterday gave a pre-viewing of the film which was attended by more than one hundred and fifty club women, members of the G. A. R. and residents of the Old People's home.

Five tables of bridge players were entertained in the W. I. Needham home last night when members of the Thursday bridge luncheon club entertained in honor of their husbands. Attractive bowls of daffodils were placed about the living rooms and in the dining room where a late lunch was served.

High bridge scores were won by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hucklestein. Miss Macyle Hunter was an additional guest.

Hostesses and honor guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Aldrich, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hunter, Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hucklestein, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Inman, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Kapphan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knowland, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Patton, Dr. and Mrs. John R. Sites and Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Needham.

Issue Warrant in McClintock Case

ISABELLE POPE and Wm. D. SHEPHERD

Without making any specific charges, the State's Attorney's office in Chicago has ordered a warrant for the arrest of William D. Shepherd, chief figure in the investigation into the death of his millionaire foster son, William Nelson McClintock, whose fortune he inherited. Miss Isabelle Pope, the dead boy's fiancée, is aiding in the investigation.

Mrs. Wyan Johnson was a charming hostess yesterday when she entertained her bridge club at a charming one o'clock luncheon at the Colonial Dame Tea Shoppe followed by several hours of bridge at the J. L. Stockton home.

A long, low basket of spring flowers centered the luncheon table and St. Patrick's day novelties were used. Yellow candles in black holders were attractive.

Guests of Mrs. Johnson were Mrs. Ivan Martin, Mrs. J. L. Stockton, Mrs. C. E. Statte, Mrs. U. S. Laughary, Mrs. Harry Belt, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Tracy Staate, Mrs. W. L. Soehren, Mrs. L. D. Brown, Mrs. Harry Woods and Miss Zoe Stockton.

Mrs. N. Baird entertained at an elegant dinner recently honoring her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Baird, Peach blossoms in a blue bowl, golden candles, peach blossom favors and miniature colonial ladies for place cards aided to make the affair very delightful.

The Willing Workers' class of the First Christian church will entertain at a St. Patrick's party in the church parlors tomorrow evening. The program will begin at 7:30. All members and their families will be welcomed.

Miss Julia K. Webster motored to Portland to attend the Fritz Kreidler concert in the auditorium last night.

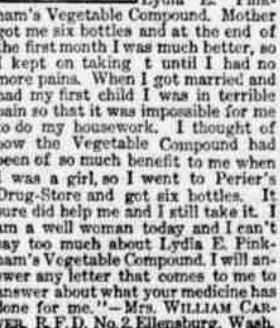

According to word received yesterday by Salem relative, Mrs. George J. Pearce and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Pearce, who left shortly after Christmas to spend several months in California, are enjoying immensely their visit in San Diego. Mrs. Pearce's health is improving wonderfully according to word received here.

Miss Helen Pearce, who is living in Cambridge, Massachusetts, during the time that she is taking work in preparation for examinations for her master's degree, has written recently of several enjoyable evenings spent with Dr. and Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney, formerly of Willamette university who are now living in Cambridge.

TWICE IN THIS WOMAN'S LIFE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her from Sickness to Health

Ellensburg, Washington—"When I was first coming into womanhood I suffered terribly every month. My mother did everything she could think of, so she took me to several doctors and they only helped me a little. My mother was talking to another lady about my condition and she told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mother got me six bottles and at the end of the first month I was much better, so I kept on taking it until I had no more pain. When I got married and had my first child I was in terrible pain so that it was impossible for me to do my housework. I thought of the Vegetable Compound and had been of so much benefit to me when I was a girl, so I went to Perier's Drug-Store and got six bottles. It sure did help me and I still take it. I am a well woman today and I can't say too much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I will answer any letter that comes to me to answer about what your medicine has done for me."—Mrs. WILLIAM CARVER, R. F. D. No. 2, Ellensburg, Wash.

An art exhibit loaned by the Elson Art publication company consisting of a collection of 200 reproductions of masterpieces representing the best in Egyptian, Greek, Roman, Italian, Dutch, French, German, English, Spanish and American art was on display at the Highland school yesterday, today, and will be open tomorrow.

Tonight the parent teacher association will present a program in connection with the exhibition.

The reproductions have been made from famous pictures in many public and private galleries and include reproductions of sculpture, the great cathedrals and important views from nature. According to opinions by competent critics few collections have ever been brought together which so completely cover the history of art. The majority of the pictures are in sepia but some color prints are also included.

March 11, 12 and 13 are the dates for the showing at the Highland school. The collection will be displayed at the Englewood school March 18, 19 and 20 and at the Lincoln school March 25, 26, 27. The funds raised from the exhibition will be used to purchase pictures for the schools.

Mrs. Ida M. Babeock entertained at three tables of five hundred in her home on Friday evening. Spring flowers were attractively arranged about the living rooms. High scores were won by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bernard.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Vase, J. C. Brand, Mrs. Mable Radcliffe, Mrs. Abby Farrar, Miss Grace Babeock and the hostess, Mrs. Ida M. Babeock.

The women's society of the First Baptist church will meet in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 for a program and social hour. Hostesses will be Mrs. Harry Ralph, Mrs. E. M. Barley, Mrs. F. Edgar, Mrs. Earl Barham and Mrs. C. Munding.

The program for the afternoon will be in the nature of a school session with officers and hostesses taking the part of teachers and pupils. Mrs. O. P. Neptune will take the part of the principal, and the various subjects will be handled as follows: reading, Mrs. Earl Gregg; writing, Mrs. Harry E. White; arithmetic, Miss Mina Gile; geography, Mrs. Theodore Roth; history, Mrs. Ernest H. Shanks.

The devotional will be led by Mrs. B. Eilers. During the afternoon Mrs. Theodore Roth and Miss Mina Gile will play several duets.

Fifteen members of the Salem branch of the American Association of University Women attended the first class meeting of the recently organized literary section in the home of Prof. and Mrs. E. C. Richards last night.

Prof. Horace Williston gave an interesting history of the development of the modern novel. Plans for the remaining lessons were also discussed.

Because of spring vacation on the Willamette campus in the regular meeting week, the section will meet again Wednesday of next week in the Richards home.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves entertained at their house guest for several days this week their daughter, Mrs. Paul Morse of Vancouver, Washington.

Plans were discussed for an old fashioned play party and jolly supper on Saturday evening, March 14. This will be open to the public. Supper will be served at ten o'clock.

The parent teacher association of the Hazel Green school are sponsoring a play and musicale in the Hazel Green school tomorrow evening at 7:30. Supper will be served later.

MOTHER!

"California Fig Syrup" Dependable Laxative for Sick Baby or Child

Hurry Mother! Even constipated, bilious, feverish, or sick, colic babies and children love to take genuine "California Fig Syrup." No other laxative regulates the tender little bowels so nicely. It sweetens the stomach and starts the liver and bowels without griping. Contains no narcotics or soothing drugs. Buy "California" to your druggist and avoid counterfeits. Insist upon genuine "California Fig Syrup" which contains directions.—Adv.

Quick Starting SHELL GASOLINE

Salmon book lovers are primarily interested tonight in the appearance of Miss Frances Gill in Waller hall at 8:15. Miss Gill, a member of one of Oregon's pioneer families and heralded as one of Oregon's "coming" poets, will read from her two volumes of verse, "The Little Days" and "Windy Leaf."

Miss Gill is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Willison one of Salem's first families. Even during her student days at the University of California she wrote creditable verse, following always the style suitable to children. Her readings tonight will be taken promiscuously from her two volumes. The writers' section of the Arts league and a small group of Willamette students are sponsoring her Salem appearance and a general invitation has been extended to the public.

During the evening Miss Elizabeth Silver will sing a group of songs. Miss Eugenia Savage will serve as her accompanist.

The Sweet Briar club members were entertained delightfully yesterday when they met at the home of Mrs. A. H. Bunn. Spring beauties and violets were arranged in low baskets about the rooms and on the luncheon table.

During the program hour Mrs. M. C. Petteys read an interesting paper on Turkish rugs illustrated with actual specimens of the rugs which she described in her paper. Mrs. Petteys exhibited a number of prayer rugs and other examples of Turkish weaving.

The three special guests of the afternoon were Miss Mildred Scully of Los Angeles, the house guest of Mrs. Fred Allen; Mrs. Noyce and Mrs. Mildred Nash, Boston brown bread for which Mrs. Bunn is famous, was a special feature of the luncheon hour.

Members in the group were Mrs. Arthur Utley, Mrs. Corydon Blodgett, Mrs. William F. McCall, Mrs. M. C. Petteys, Mrs. Al Steiner, Mrs. Lou Grote, Mrs. C. C. Chaffee, Miss Nellie Taylor, Mrs. E. O. Moll, Mrs. C. C. Page, Mrs. James Inlath, Mrs. Karl Kugel, Mrs. Glenn Adams, Mrs. M. P. Adams, Mrs. Ferd Allen, Mrs. Theodore Madsen and the hostess, Mrs. A. H. Bunn.

The meeting of the Salem Arts league in the public library on Tuesday evening, under the direction of the Civic Arts section proved to be a very interesting one largely because of the main address which was given by Howard Everts Weed. His subject was "city beautifying" and his suggestions were pertinent, clear and extremely interesting. Mr. Weed extended a general invitation to the Salem league to visit his gardens at Hillboro in May and June to view his iris and peonies. He has more than five hundred

Shattered Love

Should a woman tell her husband all the secrets of her past? Should she uncover things gone—but not forgotten? Can she hope to find happiness while hiding the truth? In a recent issue of True Story Magazine, a woman to whom love and marriage brought only the deepest misery and despair, frankly tells what it means to seek happiness in married life while haunted by the ghostly specters of her past mistakes. Her story appears complete in April True Story under the title of "My Own Story of Love," and is but one of 18 remarkable features in this issue of America's greatest magazine.
