

LOSS TO FIGHT TO RETAIN JOB ON FISH BOARD

Portland, Or., March 13.—Dr. Thomas W. Ross will carry his fight to remain on the fish commission to the supreme court.

Proceedings in "quo warranto" will be instituted in the high court immediately, John W. Kaste, attorney for the commissioner, declared last night. "Quo warranto," freely translated, means "by what authority," and the purpose of the case will be to determine by what authority, if any, Governor Pierce removed Ross and appointed John C. Veatch as his successor.

Attorney Kaste also announced that Bert C. Ross, master fish warden, would receive no salary at least until the legislature next convenes. He pointed out that under the law the master fish warden must be paid out of moneys appropriated for that purpose from the general fund. The legislature failed so to appropriate. To pay the master fish warden out of revenues would be illegal, according to Kaste.

Decision to take the Ross-Pierce controversy before the supreme court was reached when the attorney general held in an opinion that Veatch and not Dr. Ross was a member of the fish commission.

"The attorney general bases his opinion on a political hearing, in which the governor usurped the power of the judiciary," declared Dr. Ross. "He disregarded the law."

EXPECT FIFTY TEACHERS HERE

More than 50 delegates are expected from all parts of the state to attend the convention of the Oregon State Physical Education association in Salem, Saturday night. Miss Grace Snook, supervisor of physical education in the Salem public schools, has charge of the program, which will be given immediately following a dinner at the Gray Belle.

The program is to include a report by Miss Thayer, chairman of the basketball committee of the association. Miss Thayer is a professor in the physical education department at the Oregon Agricultural college.

Charles Botsford of Reed college will give a review of Bowen & Mitchell's new book on "Theory of Play." A general discussion will follow the review, the discussion being led by Miss Ballance of the Oregon Agricultural college. Miss Stupp of the University of Oregon and Professor Scott of the University of Oregon.

The delegates will meet at Walter hall at 5 p. m.

PICTURE HATS AGAIN COMING INTO FASHION

London, March 13.—The picture hat, shrunken a bit as compared with other days so as to fit bobbed heads, is coming back for spring wear in England, says the milliners.

The "cloche" or pudding basin helmet must go, they decree, and fair faces again will be framed in sweeping leather or flower draped trims, softened with velvet folds and adorned on the crown with flowers, hand painted or otherwise.

Some of the new Dolly Vardens or modern Gainsboroughs will be of straw, finely woven and there will be many bright colors, suggestive of the garden and hot house blooms of spring.

WANTS PRISON FOR FLASK TOTERS

Denver, Colo., March 13.—Prison walls, not jail bars, should be the penalty for the flask toting youth of today, in the opinion of Dr. Albert A. Lowenthal, Chicago alienist, who declared in an address here last night that the "world is living upside down and we are in a jazz mania, crazed age."

"Any boy caught with whiskey should be sent to the penitentiary and not to jail," he said. "We arrest men who sell whiskey and jail them, but the most danger exists in the youth who carries a flask on his hip."

"Last year in New York alone, 50,000 delinquents were born. These included children who were insane and deformed. Each of these children costs the state or country for that matter $15,000. It is bankrupting our nation."

Because She Loved Him So

She was only seventeen, beautiful, fresh and wholesome. He was forty-five and wealthy—gross in appearance, grosser in mind. Her purity, her beauty of body and soul, appealed to his jaded fancy. And she married him—rather, her parents sold her to him. Then youth and love—strong, clean, fine—came to besiege her heart with true reverence and adoration. What did she do? What could she do? She found an answer to that question—but through a process so strange, so startling that it simply proves that no fictionist's fancy is half so strange as truth. Don't miss this true-life story, entitled "Playing With Fire" in True Story Magazine for April. And this is but one of 18 absorbing features.

GIBBONS EXPECTS TO FIGHT DEMPSEY ON THE COAST

St. Paul, Minn., March 13.—The next bout for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world will be held on the Pacific coast if Jack Dempsey, title holder plays the leading role, in the opinion of Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul aspirant for heavyweight honors, who resumed training today after a two weeks' layoff.

Gibbons said that the turn in events in the heavyweight situation which has caused the New York boxing commission to demand that Dempsey either accept or reject the challenge of Harry Wills, has convinced him that the next heavyweight title bout will be held in California.

Dempsey will never accept Wills' challenge to box in New York, Tommy said he believed. He thinks that Dempsey, if prohibited from boxing in New York, through refusing to meet Wills, will accept a Pacific coast offer to meet Gibbons in a championship fight.

Because of the serious illness of his twin sons, Gibbons has not trained for two weeks, spending all his spare time at the bedside of the children. They are now well on the way to recovery and Tommy resumed hard work today with a ten-mile road jaunt.

COAST POWER TUNNEL BORED THROUGH STONE

Los Angeles, Cal.—The Florence lake tunnel, 15 feet high and the same width, extending more than 13 miles, mostly through solid granite in a snaky line under the high Sierras, is a construction feat that has drawn the attention of the engineering world. It has just been completed.

The tunnel is one of the most important works in the Big creek-San Joaquin river project of the Southern California Edison company. The entire project will bring in 1,407,000 horsepower, and, with its transmission lines, sub-stations and accessories, will cost $275,000,000.

Passing a two year goal within twelve months!

WE PREDICTED our sales would double—so certain were we of the quality of our new blend in the vacuum tin.

But we placed the goal at two years—then passed it in one!

Such a response can mean only one thing—real coffee value! And that is exactly what Crescent Vacuum Packed Coffee does bring you.

Perhaps "richness" describes this proven blend better than any word. Rich in color, rich in flavor, rich in aroma—a thoroughly satisfying cup through and through. You'll like it.
