Irish Music In Program Monday

With the avowed purpose of promoting and internationalizing a love of the folk music that has originated with the Celtic race the MacDowell club will sponsor a program of Irish music in the Woman's clubhouse on north Colgate street on Monday, the 15th of St. Patrick's day. A variety of talent is included on the program in some of the best known and best loved Irish tunes.

The MacDowell club, one of Salem's leading musical organizations, has had an interesting history in the few years that it has been in existence. When Mrs. W. E. Anderson was president of the Salem Woman's club in 1921 she organized the Woman's club chorus and with 32 voices under the direction of Paul Petri, now a member of the O. A. C. music faculty, and with Miss Dorothy Pearce accompanist, the chorus made its initial appearance on December 5, 1921. Mabel Garrison, soprano, was the soloist. On January 17, 1924, the Woman's club chorus was absorbed by the local MacDowell club and the local club affiliated with the national organization of MacDowell clubs.

In addition to the regular concert series the club features Christmas concerts and other affairs significant of the various holidays and seasons.

The complete program for the Irish concert Monday is as follows: "I'll Take You Home Again" Kathleen, Ronald Craven, Colne Marsters, Earl Riggo and Arlie Anderson.

Extension Course May Be Offered

University of Oregon extension courses in Salem may be a possibility as the result of the efforts exerted by Mrs. Monroe Gilbert. With a lecture course in design to be taught by M. R. Zane, member of the university art school faculty, as the drawing card Mrs. Gilbert is recruiting members for the class. Until this time Portland has been the only extension center in the state.

If at least forty pupils are secured for the class regular class work will commence coincidentally with the beginning with class work of the spring term on the university campus at Eugene. The classes will be held probably on Thursday evening of each week for two hours and regular university credit will be given. This movement is significant for the success of the classes there is the possibility of other courses being added later.

The purpose of the course which Mr. Zane will offer is to develop the student's own creative powers along the following lines: clear comprehension, coordination of eye and hand, self confidence, technical excellence in line, form and tone, and originality.

Success of the plan is practically assured since nearly thirty people have already signified an interest in the classes. Applications are being made through Mrs. Gilbert at the Gilbert studio, upstairs, 147 north Commercial, before Tuesday of next week.

The Founders day meeting of the foreign missionary society of the First M. E. church was held at the home of Mrs. E. T. Barnes on Wednesday afternoon with a short business meeting.

Mrs. J. L. Brady read several missionary letters. "The King's Highway" was sung by the members. An article was read by Mrs. W. L. Pennington. Special prayers were offered for one of the missionaries, Miss Pohle. Miss Betty Sedall gave a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Eugenia Savage. There was a representation from each of the auxiliaries of the foreign missionary society. Mrs. A. A. Lee gave a talk on the foreign missionary society as a universal mother.

Mrs. O. E. Price, chairman of the tea committee, was assisted in the dining room by Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. Savage, Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. Rice. Mrs. R. V. Hollenberg and Mrs. Richards poured.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Mills and son Charles of Portland, were the guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Spaulding.

Members of the Three Link club were entertained yesterday at tea and a social hour in the W. O. W. hall. Hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. Myrtle Terrill, Mrs. Ida Traglio, Mrs. Grace Webster, Mrs. Fannie Millard and Mrs. Alice Miles.

Mr. and Mrs. David R. Yantis, formerly of Salem, announced the engagement of their daughter, Constance Elizabeth, to Arthur Frank Kerckhoff, son of Daniel C. Kerckhoff of St. Louis, Missouri, at a bridge luncheon given in their home in Detroit, Michigan, recently, according to word received by relatives in Salem.

The announcement luncheon was an attractive affair with covers laid for twelve intimate friends of the bride-elect. The centerpiece was an attractive basket of spring flowers and at each place was placed a large pink rose which contained, sealed in its petals, two tiny hearts which bore the news of the engagement. The wedding will take place in June, and the young couple will make their home in St. Louis.

Until nine years ago Miss Yantis made her home in Salem with her parents. She is a cousin of Mrs. Linn Smith.

MacDowell Concert Thursday

Royal Dadmun, the great American baritone, will close the concert season for the MacDowell club when he appears at the Grand theatre on Thursday, March 19. Dadmun has been a prominent figure among American singers for the better part of a dozen years which have elapsed since he began his public career. He has sung with much success in New York and throughout the country in general and his appearance is awaited with great interest by Salem music lovers.

"Musical America" in a recent issue, says of him: "We are wondering, after having heard Royal Dadmun, eminent American baritone, who is really America's most noted baritone, for his recital was a display of some of the smoothest singing that the writer has ever been privileged to listen to. Mr. Dadmun's voice meets all the numerous demands that are made on an artist who undertakes serious song recitals. It is smooth, delightful of quality, splendidly managed, and can be spun to a very fine pianissimo without losing any of its exquisite quality. He is a past master of shading, and knows how to most successfully portray moods."

Mrs. Seymour Jones, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. U. G. Shipley, chairman of the state committee on chapter extension, Mrs. Russell Catlin, Chemeketa chapter regent, and Miss Lillian Applegate motored to Lebanon yesterday to attend an "inspirational" meeting called by a group of Lebanon matrons interested in the organization of a chapter of the daughters in their town. According to Mrs. Jones it is very probable that Lebanon will have a chapter within a short time.

The Leisure Hour club will meet at the John H. Scott home on Wednesday with Mrs. Scott and Mrs. John H. Albert as hostesses.

Important because of its patriotic significance will be the tree planting to be conducted by the Children of the American Revolution on Monday afternoon at four o'clock when they will plant with due ceremony, on the court house lawn, the tiny tree grown from a nut from a tree at Mt. Vernon which was planted by Washington himself.

Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, who has presented the tree to the children for planting, and who organized the Children of the American Revolution in this state, will make a short address. There will be music also. Mrs. James Heltzel, president of the children's chapter, will be in charge, assisted by the members of Chemeketa chapter of the daughters.

The women of the Central Congregational church will entertain at a chicken dinner on Tuesday evening in the church dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Mills and son Charles of Portland, were the guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Spaulding.

Oregon, I ask, that the highway and county commissioners build ten miles allotted out of the seventeen allowed and make the second paved road complete. The Salem-Champoeg highway is the most enterprising allotment of the money allowed. Seventeen miles are to be paved somewhere, then complete another main valley road—only ten miles and you have it. Connect the north road now built eight miles out of Salem with the Mt. Angel-Newberg paved road and you will send half the Pacific highway travel spinning down to Portland. The crazy man went by unheeded. Wake up all along the line. Wake up commissioners. Wake up Oregon, and listen to Ella M. Finney (she has said something). Rt. 2, Gervais, Or.
