FIRST OF SUITS BY VETERANS OF WAR IS OPENED

Portland, Or., March 19.—Trial of the first eleven suits against the government by World War veterans for amounts alleged due on back payments of war risk insurance began yesterday in federal court, the case of C. Clarence Likins being started. He seeks $3164 back payments, a disability rating in the veterans, and $57.59 monthly for life, alleging injuries prevented him from earning a livelihood. He told of fighting in the Argonne in the last days of the war.

W. G. Beardslee, Seattle, national judge advocate of the Disabled Veterans of the World War, and A. B. Green of Portland are attorneys for the veterans. L. A. Lawler of Washington, D. C., connected with the legal department of the veterans' bureau, is assisting the local district attorney's office in fighting the cases.

Roseale News

Roseale, Or., March 18.—Mrs. Frank Crom had her mother, sister and two brothers from Gervais visiting her last Saturday.

Goddie Sims is improving nicely at the Deaconess hospital since her second operation last Wednesday. Grandpa Thomas visited his son and family here last Sunday.

The school ball team played with the Liberty school team last Friday and won the game.

A family has moved onto the place across from the school house. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson sold their place near here and Monday moved to a place near Beaverton. The community regrets to lose this estimable family but wish them success in their new home.

A party of young people met at the Boye home Saturday evening and had an enjoyable time.

Little Miss Margaret Campbell's fifth birthday was celebrated Tuesday by a few of her small friends going in and surprising her.

Mr. Thomas was working near Scottie Mills last Thursday and Friday.

There seems to be much sickness in the community, mostly flu. Mr. Trick, Mrs. Way, Mrs. Thomas and others have been enjoying (?) it.

The parent-teacher association will meet for the regular monthly meeting Friday night.

Health Survey of Schools In Polk County Completed

1660 DEFECTS IN CHILDREN FOUND

Dallas, Or., Mar. 19.—(Special)—In a report covering two months spent in the schools of Polk county inspecting the physical health and condition of the pupils, Miss Margaret Gillis, public health nurse sent here for that period by the Oregon Tuberculosis association, tells of the inspection of 1314 children and the finding of 1660 defects.

The prevalence of enlargement of the thyroid gland, indicating danger of goiter, was noteworthy in the report of Miss Gillis. There were 391 pupils who showed this condition, 26 in a marked degree and 255 denoted as suspicious.

"The prevalence of thyroid gland disturbance calls for attention, and some form of preventative treatment," Miss Gillis states in her report. "It, as we certainly know, there is a deficiency of iodine salts, then this deficiency should be supplied but only under medical supervision."

The thyroid enlargement was noted in 263 pupils out of 696 examined by Miss Gillis in the Dallas city schools, including high school, junior high and grades.

Only 18 cases of apparent malnutrition were observed. Six of these were in the Falls City parochial school, seven in the Pioneer school, three at Airle and two in district 42. In some cases, this was thought to be due to lack of a hot dish at lunch and to the manner of eating lunches at the school.

During the two months which she was allotted to the county, Miss Gillis was able to cover 17 schools. She will not be available for work in the remaining schools of the county.

Her work was to instruct pupils and teachers in methods of overcoming bad health conditions in the schools, and in bringing the defects of children to the attention of parents. She worked in close cooperation with the doctors of the county.

Miss Gillis reported a very hearty response on the part of teachers, pupils and parents to avail themselves of the services she was giving.

The work has created considerable favorable comment and it is probable that an attempt will be made another year to secure a full time rural nurse for the county.

Man Hunt Fizzles

An exciting man chase which developed in Polk county Wednesday when it was thought that the man who held up the Dayton bank about noon was making his getaway south on the West Side highway was found to be a cold scent.

The man suspected, driving a high powered car, turned out to be none other than Harry Felberbaum, well known Corvallis attorney and financier. Mr. Felberbaum was stopped at Monmouth but turned loose when he convinced authorities there of his identity. They reported soon after, however, thinking the drivers license and other identification found might have been stolen from the owner and sent word to Corvallis.

The Benton county sheriff at once recognized Mr. Felberbaum. He was making speed back to Corvallis for the Woodcock funeral. The speeding car aroused the suspicion of people in McMinnville who telephoned ahead to stop him. Waldo Finn took up the chase at the McCoy crossing and followed the big car to Rickreall containing on in to Dallas to warn Sheriff Hooker.

The senior class of Dallas high school will present its class play Thursday night, March 19, at the Majestic theater. The play is "Billy" a comedy with a setting of a sea voyage to Havana. Mrs. R. R. Turner is coach. The seat sales have been heavy.

Tax Collections Brisk

Tax collections this year are exceedingly brisk in Polk county, according to Sheriff T. H. Hooker, and more receipts have been written up to the present time than any corresponding time in the past 10 years. The receipts have averaged $12,000 a week since the 1924 tax rolls were turned over for collection.

Taxpayers have until April 5 to pay before a penalty is levied on the first half of the tax.

Booze Offender Released

Al Wilkinson, who has been in jail since early January serving a sentence on a liquor law violation, was released Wednesday on payment of the balance of his fine. He had completed his jail sentence and served a part of the time on his fine. It is understood that a conditional pardon had been granted by Governor Pierce for Wilkinson, that would have allowed him to pay the fine in installments.

A conditional pardon is also expected for Frank Coon and George McCormick who were arrested at the same time as Wilkinson. All pleaded guilty and received heavy sentences. They were arrested by a state agent.

SILVERTON NEWS

Silverton, Mar. 18.—(Special)—Fifty-eight men and three officers of Company I of the Oregon national guard underwent the federal inspection Tuesday of this week. This is an annual event and at this time a regular army officer comes to look over the appearance of the company and test them in drills and other O. N. G. duties. Of Company I forty of the fifty-eight men were new members and appeared for the first time under federal inspection. At the semi-monthly meeting of the Delbert Reeves post of the American Legion, the members decided not to organize a drum corps until autumn. The post has been discussing this for some time and has not begun a fund to be used for this purpose. The Legion also decided to put on a program for members only in three weeks. The post will give a dance for the public on March 28th.

Very little business came up at the regular auxiliary meeting held Monday night. As not enough chances had been sold on the scarf which was to have been raffled off this was postponed until a later date. The scarf is on display at the Ames Hardware company store. It was made by a Legionnaire who was crippled during the world war and who is using this means of assisting in the support of his wife and two children.

That Silverton men are not "Joungs Hards" or "tea hounds" was conclusively proved Tuesday afternoon when the Legion auxiliary gave a St. Patrick's tea at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Lemmon at 212 High street. Among the ninety who called between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 was not a single man, in spite of the absence of the moon, the tea was a brilliant success and the largest social event of the season at Silverton. In accord with the day, the "wearing of the green" was carried out by means of green carnations and green candles. The three maids who assisted about the rooms also wore green caps. Green dillies in the shape of shamrock ornaments decorated the plates.

Acting as hostesses were Mrs. Russell Scott, Mrs. E. E. Kinners, Mrs. George Steinhilber, Mrs. LeRoy Lemmon and Mrs. C. M. Wray presided at the serving were Mrs. John Elder, Mrs. Claire Jarvis and Mrs. Paul Wray.

Trinity Dorcas society met for its regular monthly business session Tuesday evening at the Trinity social rooms. Mrs. M. G. Gunderson explained the Woman's Missionary Federation meeting which will be held at Silverton next week. Delegates from this society for the federation were elected Tuesday night. These were Marie Yingsland, Mrs. Jelmara Refa, Mrs. Samuel Torwood. New members admitted to the society were Mrs. George Quesset, Miss Stella Dybevik, Miss Florence Haa-land, Mrs. L. M. Kaufman, Mrs.

William Blak. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by Mrs. Lewis Hall, Mrs. Andrew Hall and Mrs. John Lauderbeck. Mrs. Oscar Satern and Mrs. Hans Jensen motored to Vancouver Wednesday morning to spend a few days as guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hansen. Mr. and Mrs. Hansen were former Silverton residents.

Alfred Jensen motored to Salem Tuesday afternoon on business. He remained until evening in order that he might meet his brother, Reuben, who came up from Corvallis to spend spring vacation at the home of his mother, Mrs. Anna K. Jensen. Reuben Jensen reported that there were a great many cases of influenza at Corvallis.

Walter Goplerud, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Goplerud, is reported as being ill.

What Happens After Quick Starting?

A common characteristic of almost any good gasoline these days is the ability to start a motor quickly. But you should know what more is possible:

Non-detonating gasoline supplies controlled energy—producing a smooth, quick, powerful vibrationless acceleration and gliding, rushing speed.

And all of this kind of fuel is completely burned—turned into power. A maximum of mileage is thus obtained and carbon formation is delayed.

"Knocking," even on steep hills under heavy pull, is minimized, because the explosions are progressive and power impulses are delivered to the pistons throughout the entire stroke.

Union is insurance of your motor's best performance—that is certain.
