OREGON YEOMEN WILL MEET HERE

Between 100 and 150 delegates, said to be the 400 living in Salem, are expected in this city to take part in the Oregon state convocation of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, April 7 and 8. The state convocation is held every four years. In 1921 it was held in Eugene. Officers will be elected for the coming four years' term, and three delegates selected to attend the national convocation at New York early in June. The actual convocation at Salem will convene Wednesday, April 8, at 10 a. m. At that time, after singing "America," and hearing an invocation by Ward Willis Long of Salem, the Yeomen will receive the address of welcome by Mayor John B. Giesy. The response to the welcome will be given by E. Earl Felke of Portland. The entertainment committee consists of five residents of Salem—Lucille Biver, Dick Hooper, Clara M. Albin, Carrie Chase and L. DAWES TO CARRY FIGHT TO SENATORS' PEOPLE

Washington, Mar. 20.—Vice-President Dawes plans to go into the states of senators who have expressed opposition to his proposal to revise the senate rules to prevent the one man filibuster and in public addresses attempt to build up sentiment there in sur-port of his views. Before the senate adjourned Mr. Dawes conferred with most of the senators and quite a number of them were reported to have pledged their support in the effort to facilitate senate procedure.

PIRATES TO HAVE STRONGER TEAM

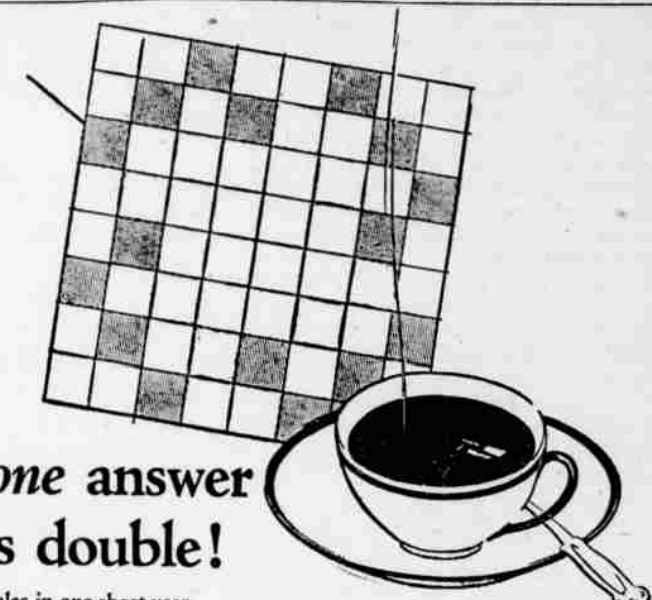

Paso Robles, Cal., March 20.—(By Associated Press)—The Pittsburgh club of 1925 with two new faces in the infield will be a better team than the Pirates of last year's season, said Manager W. B. McKechnie today, in discussing the outlook for his team. "No other club in the league possesses an equal amount of speed," he asserted, "and according to the average of the various players, it should, as a unit hit well over the 300 mark. Headed by Max Carey, who over a long course of years has been leading base stealer, and one of the smartest outfielders in the league, its lineup contains such men as Bigbee, Moore, Grantham, Niehaus and Wrights.

"Several important cogs in the machine last season, thrown off their stride by illness, have reported in better physical condition this year. This is especially true of Faird Baseman Trayer, who slumped so noticeably last season that he had to be taken out of the lineup for a time. Bigbee at present gives no sign of the trouble which dimmed his batting eye over the past two years.

"Last winter's trade with the Cubs which brought Grantham, Aldridge and Niehaus to Pittsburgh in exchange for Maranville, Grinn and Cooper will benefit this club. Eddie Moore, one of the finds of last year, will supplant Maranville. He is faster, will hit better and can be depended upon in a pinch. Aldridge will win as many games for Pittsburgh as Cooper will for Chicago.

"Albert Niehaus, first baseman last year with Chattanooga, has done about enough in camp to satisfy me that first base will be well cared for and has convinced me that he is a better hitter than Grimm.
