HI SCHOOL TEAM TO ARRIVE BACK HERE WEDNSDAY

The Salem high school basketball team, returning from its trip to the national tournament at Chicago, is expected to arrive in Salem at 9:45 Wednesday morning. They left Chicago Sunday morning at 10:35. Coming west on the Northern Pacific line, the team will arrive at Portland at 7 a. m., Wednesday, and at Salem less than three hours later.

Reports received in Salem indicate that the players have not been in good health, either because of the long trip through a colder climate than that to which they were accustomed, or for some other reason. Ashby has been in the hospital, it is said. His condition was poor when he arrived in the city, but he insisted on playing part of the first game. Ellis is reported to have come down with tonsilitis.

All things considered, the local boys are believed to have made a good record at the tourney, having held two strong teams to close scores, and decisively defeated a third. The first game, with Torrington, Connecticut, was lost by a 4 point margin, the final count standing 23 to 27. Salem led by one point at the end of the first half. In the consolation series Tonopah, Nevada, was taken into camp 29 to 18, a score that was not even close. In the second round of the series, however, Salem lost to Fort Smith, Arkansas by a one point margin, the score being 23 to 22. That Salem would have won over Forth Smith if its players had been in good condition is evidenced by the fact that Franklin high of Portland, defeated by Salem, won over Fort Smith by a decisive count in the next round.

General sentiment expressed in Salem is that the record of the local team has been nothing to be ashamed of. Every team met knew that it was in a real game. The trip of the local boys was the longest trip taken by any team in the meet, and took them through a climate to which they were unaccustomed—otherwise Salem would have given an even better account of itself.

MARCH RAIN FAR BELOW NORMAL

The month of March, 1925, was an unusually dry March, 1.41 inches of rain falling during the month, or two and a half inches below the average rainfall during that period, according to statistics announced today by Clarence Oliver, government weather observer for Salem. Rain fell on 16 days of the month, the precipitation on 10 of the rainy days being less than one tenth of an inch, and on five days only one hundredth of an inch.

The report indicates that 16 days of the month were clear days, 12 were cloudy and 3 were part cloudy.

Temperature was below freezing on just three days of March, the mercury getting down to 31 degrees, or one point below freezing, on the 6th, 7th and 29th days of the month.

That March came in like a lamb is evidenced by the fact that its first day was its warmest, the temperature getting up to 55 degrees on that day. The superstition that it would go out like a lion, however, did not materialize in this case, the ending of the month being no more severe than any other part except the first.

JOHN BRENTANO, OF ST PAL, PASSES ON; JUSTICE FOR 40 YEARS

about St. Paul, because the matter was settled.

But that doesn't mean he was a gang politician, because he wasn't. The candidate had to be right on the issues, or St. Paul went the other way.

The only time known to man when Brentano himself voted any thing but the democratic ticket was when he voted for Ben Olcott two years ago as a matter of principal.

He established the postoffice at St. Paul. Throughout the years he studied law and was so well versed in it people came from miles around to take his advice, and seldom went wrong in following it. He was known to the leading men all over the country and they listened to what he said.

His father was a physician coming to St. Paul in the early days. John was one of three brothers. One is dead. The other lives in Yamhill county. John, himself, is survived by four sons and three daughters.

The funeral will be held Wednesday at 9 o'clock at St. Paul. It is probable that numerous leading citizens from various parts of the county will be there.

WATERS CLAIMS CHARGES TRUE DESPITE DENIAL

F. N. Waters, author of a written statement recently given publication to the effect that trusties at the state penitentiary are violating the fishing laws of the state and that the absence of a fish ladder over the water wheel at the penitentiary is a much abused privilege, today reiterated his charges, declaring they could not be denied successfully by Warden Dairympie. He said he had 13 witnesses to prove his statements. Waters said his statement could be confirmed by Henry Stevenson, local deputy state game warden. When asked about it today Stevenson refused to have anything to say.

The Waters letter was written to the state game commission and it is understood some of those interested will endeavor to compel the state to install a fish ladder at the prison, which Warden Dairymple says is impossible. One of the charges is that the convicts not only fish without licenses on the grounds but that they angle in the mill race when the fishing season is closed.

Another statement was that the local warden entered the prison grounds to protest and that he was ordered away by a guard. Stevenson also refused to say anything about this statement.

EUGENE FXPRESS DEPOT ROBBED

Eugene, Or., Apr. 6. — While the station agent was at a nearby restaurant the office of the American Express company at the Southern Pacific depot here was burglarized at 2 o'clock this morning. A number of railway company pay checks were taken, according to a report today of a special officer of the company.

Local merchants and others at points in the Willamette valley have been warned not to cash the checks.

The door was jimmied by the thief, and the robbery was discovered as soon as the agent returned to the office. The railroad pay checks were in sealed envelopes. The agent was away for only a short time, so that the robbery was evidently committed by some one who made a rapid entrance and exit, it is said. Familiarity by the looter with the method of sending the pay checks and the hours of the agent was hinted by the officers.

TO SET DATE FOR BLOSSOM DAY

The date for Blossom Day will probably be determined tonight at a special session of the council of nobles of the Cherrians which has been called by King Bing J. C. Perry to pass on the question.

It is probable the day will be fixed for the coming Sunday, but that is a matter to be definitely decided tonight if reports from the various sectors can be compiled in satisfactory shape to indicate that the blossoms will be at their best at that time.

King Bing Perry made a trip through the main blossom districts yesterday and reports that in the Rosedale section the blossoms are not showing very strong, although some are in sight. In the Liberty district Blossom Day is being urged for next Sunday.

A few warm days unquestionably would bring the blossoms to their height on Sunday, according to the concensus of opinion.

PIERCE REFUSED ADVICE SOUGHT ON SCHOOL ACT

Declaring there is no proper occasion for the governor to ask the question, Attorney General Van Winkle, in a letter to Governor Pierce, declines to answer the governor's question whether the act appropriating $125,000 for the construction at Independence of a model training school for the Monmouth normal school is constitutional. The constitutionality of the act was questioned by State Treasurer Kay, who pointed to the constitutional provision that all state institutions must be located in Marion county unless otherwise authorized by vote of the people. Others are of the opinion that the normal school has been legally located at Monmouth, and that the training school school, being part of the normal school, may be located outside of Marion county without a vote of the people.

"Permit me to say," says Van Winkle, in his letter to Pierce, "that this is a question upon which arguments have been advanced on both sides.

"As I understand the facts this act has been fully passed, approved by the governor, and filed in the office of the secretary of state. There is, therefore, no action which you are called upon to take in the matter at this time.

"The question of the validity of the statute may be raised when it comes to insur any expense on behalf of the state of Oregon to be paid from such appropriation, and it may be that it will be advisable to present the matter to the supreme court to have the question settled. In view of this condition it seems that there is no proper occasion for this office to render an opinion upon the validity of said statute under the circumstances as they now exist."

KLUXER ATTACKS INDICTMENT

Indianapolis, Ind., Apr. 6—Indictments returned last week against D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, charging him with an assault upon Miss Madge Oberholtzer of this city, were attacked by his attorney in criminal court today. A plea in abatement was filed against each of the five indictments. Judge James Collins indicated that arguments upon the motions asking abatement of the indictments would probably be heard next Saturday. Stephenson will enter no plea until Judge Collins has ruled on the motions.

Miss Oberholtzer remained in a critical condition today from the effects of injuries from poison she is alleged to have taken following the attack.

SACK OF FEATHERS IS EVIDENCE OF THEFTS

Dayton, Or., April 6.—Dumping a sack, full and tied, into the Tualatin river from the covered bridge on the highway between here and Portland yesterday led to the apprehension of Jack Stores of LaFayette who was brought before Justice of the Peace J. E. Proffitt on a charge of chicken stealing from C. E. Fitzpatrick, Lafayette. He was bound over to the grand jury in $1000 bail.

Stores, driving a runabout with Washington license, had been followed for several miles by linemen of the Yamhill Electric company. Their suspicions were aroused when they saw the sack shoved through one of the windows of the Tualatin bridge and drop into the river. After taking the number of the machine they rescued the sack and found it full of chicken feathers. Stores was stopped some miles further down the highway and is now in the county jail at McMinnville.

KANE SURE GIBBONS TO WIN BY KNOCKOUT

St. Paul, Minn., April 6.—Confidence that Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, will knock out Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, when they meet in New York, June 12, was expressed last night by Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager.

Gibbons will stop Tunney in six rounds or less,' said Kane, who came here to discuss plans for Gibbons' training for the fight. 'Gibbons can punch harder, he is a smarter ring general and is vastly superior on the defensive.'

Kane said that Gibbons would do all his preliminary training here and will put in three weeks in New York to wind up his preparations for the fight.

JEALOUS HUBBY KILLS POLICEMAN IN DUEL

Memphis, Tenn., April 6.—Policeman T. B. Knox was killed and Carl M. Rogers, 27, is dying as the result of a spectacular pistol fight last night, when the policeman attempted to rescue Rogers' divorced wife and Enoch Gregg, 23, from Rogers, who was menacing them with a pistol in an automobile.

Rogers stopped the machine in a downtown street and the fight began when Policeman Knox responded to the screams of Mrs. Rogers. The woman was wounded slightly and a bullet passed through the coat of Gregg, her escort, without injuring him.

RETURN OF BANK OFFICE DEMANDED

not take effect until May 26, reads:

"The superintendent of banks shall maintain his office in the city of Salem, and the secretary of state is hereby required to furnish suitable quarters therefor: provided the superintendent of banks, when considered by him to be expedient or convenient, may establish branch offices within the city of Portland."

The Journal charges that the transfer of the department office to Portland is a direct violation of the law now in force, which does not even permit of a branch office, and an attempt to evade the spirit and intent of the amended law, which provides for only a branch office in Portland.

The letter demanding the mandamus action reads as follows:

"April 6, 1925.

"Mr. John H. Carson, district attorney, Salem, Oregon.

"Dear Sir:—As a taxpayer of the state of Oregon and of Marion county, I herewith make formal demand that you inaugurate immediately mandamus proceedings directed against the state banking board, the secretary of state and the superintendent of banks to compel the superintendent of banks to comply with the state statutes and establish and maintain his principal office in Salem, the state capital, and the secretary of state be required to furnish suitable quarters therefor, as provided by law.

"Sincerely yours,

"GEORGE PUTNAM."

Promising to look into the matter and pledging whatever action his findings appeared to justify, Mr. Carson replied as follows:

"April 6, 1925.

"Mr. George Putnam, care of Capital Journal, Salem, Oregon.

"Dear Sir:—Your letter of the sixth instant, formally demanding action of this office concerning the removal of the principal offices of the state banking board to Portland, Oregon, was duly received.

"An investigation of the whole matter will be made by this office at an early date. Should it develop from such investigation that action is warranted, action will be taken.

"Yours very truly,

"JOHN H. CARSON."

SENATORS LOOK GOOD IN ACTION

From the looks of the Salem Senators in action on the Oxford park grounds yesterday afternoon, Salem fans will have one of the best teams in years. All of the old members are back in uniform and they are performing in fast style and will be even better than last year. The prospects from Corvallis are looking good and Mike Miller will have to step pretty lively to hold his old position at short. Speck Keene brought the two boys up, and both of them are short and stocky built. One of them has been playing winter baseball and he is in perfect condition. The Senators are trying hard this year to land in the first division and possibly the top of the Inter-state league.

Barham and Ashby are both going good and they will give the fans plenty of action before the season closes. The league season opens next Sunday when the Senators meet the Camas nine on the Oxford Park grounds.

GOES FOR ALLEGED FORGER

Constable Walter De Long left today for Aberden, Wash., to return to Salem, J. M. Shanafelt, who is wanted here on a charge of forgery. Shanafelt is accused of passing checks totaling about $158. Among the victims were the White House restaurant, the Dusick grocery and Walter Zosel, tire man.

The checks were signed Sheridan Auto Wrecking company and were on the First National bank of Sheridan, where Shanafelt was formerly in business.

De Long carries a requisition from the office of Governor Pierce.

OREGON IS HELD IDEAL STATE FOR DAIRY PURPOSES

The state of Oregon, particularly the Willamette valley, is one of the foremost sections of the world in dairying, according to facts brought out by dairymen who spoke at the Salem chamber of commerce luncheon this noon. Among those speaking were O. G. Hewitt of Independence, C. J. Berning of Mt Angel, H. D. Iliff of Independence, Herman Carl of Hubbard, Frank Lynn of Perrydale and Eric Glad of Tillamook. Governor Pierce was present at the luncheon, and stated that he was thinking of abandoning his white faced calves and going into the dairying business. "But what will become of my life long politics?" he asked. E. A. Rhotes, dairyman in the vicinity of Salem, presided at the meeting.

"Many of us do not appreciate the facts," said Rhoten, "but so far as Jersey cows are concerned Oregon ranks the highest of any section in the world." The facts and figures as compiled prove the fact, he said.

Hewitt spoke on "Laying the Foundation for World Record Cows." The main thing is the selection of females, he stated, and getting high production as far back as possible in the line. He recommended the use of purebred stock as more profitable and as involving no more expense.

Berning was introduced as the owner of a national Holstein champion. The cow, which is named "Tillamook Daisy," has produced 31,588 pounds of milk in a single year, Mr. Berning stated. Butter fat during the same period reached a total of 1,026 pounds, or 1,282 pounds of actual butter. This amounts to over 10 and a half gallons of milk a day, and over three and a half pounds of butter. At the Pacific International Berning's cow placed second to a New York cow.

Mr. Iliff stated that he started in the dairy business with grade Jerseys some 16 years ago. He now deals in pure breds. Carl, Lynn and Ladd spoke briefly.

LAPSE INTO COMA STATE AS END NEARS

schools and religious institutions.

"The Catholic History of Oregon," written by the Rev. E. V. O'Hara, refers to the archbishop's work as a builder as follows:

"A few days after his installation the archbishop laid the cornerstone for the handsome new monastery of the Benedictine fathers at Mount Angel. The event was to be typical of his work in the northwest, for his time will be known as the building epoch of the archdiocese."

It was said of Archbishop Christie that he built schools before churches, and one of his cherished aims was the development of a church school system with a Catholic college like that of Notre Dame as its apex. It was in the hope of fulfilling this vision that the old Portland university was bought from the Methodists in 1901, and renamed Columbia university. Formation of the Catholic educational association under his direction some years ago was another evidence of his interest in the school work of the church.

Passage of the Oregon compulsory public school law, which if upheld by the United States supreme court, is expected to wreck the parochial school system, was said by John F. O'Hara, editor of the Catholic Sentinel, to have been a severe blow to the archbishop. The campaign against the proposed law was said to have been a drain upon the prelate's strength.

Archbishop Christie succeeded Archbishop W. H. Gross in 1899, about six months after the death of the latter. Less than a year previous he was consecrated by Archbishop Ireland in the St. Paul Cathedral, and assigned to the see of Vancouver Island. He was born in 1850 at Highgate, Vermont, and grew up in Wisconsin. He received his classical education at St. John's university at Collegeville, Minn., and carried on his ecclesiastical studies at the Grand seminary, Montreal, where he was ordained a priest for the St. Paul diocese by Monsignor Fabre, archbishop of Montreal, December 22, 1877. Before his elevation as a bishop he held pastorates in Waseca and Minneapolis, Minn.
