POLK RESIDENT FOR 63 YEARS IS DEAD AT AGE OF 86

Dallas, Or., April 7.—Abel Uglow, age 86 years, who had resided in Polk county for the past 63 years, died at his home in Dallas Monday. Funeral services will be held from the family residence at 2 o'clock Wednesday.

Mr. Uglow was born in Lancaster, England, on January 22, 1839. His father, James Uglow, was a flour miller and Mr. Uglow was apprenticed to that trade. He came to the United States in 1861 and to Oregon in 1862, where he had resided almost continuously since that time.

He followed his trade in the pioneer flour mills at Kings Valley, Red Prairie and Rickhill. About 1871 he purchased the flour mill at Dixie (now Rickhill) and operated it for three years. He then moved to a farm north of Dallas for a few years, later purchasing the Dallas flouring mills in 1876 and operating them until 1924.

Few men that have lived in this area are as widely known as Mr. Uglow. Until stricken recently with influenza and pneumonia he looked after his varied business interests about the city and was in full possession of his keen business faculties.

He was a character that would have been unique in any community. He spoke his thoughts abruptly and without diplomacy, and to those who knew only this exterior he seemed almost harsh at times. Yet many had good cause to know that this served only to cover up a big heart and a more gentle nature.

His boyhood and early youth had been spent amid surroundings that schooled him well in the old country ways of thrift and toil, and he measured himself by those standards throughout his entire life. His business ventures and investments had for the most part proved good and he had accumulated considerable property, but he never allowed himself to let down and cease work and business cares.

Although with little early schooling, Mr. Uglow had acquired an education in legal and classical lines that was surprising. He was a constant reader of Blackstone. He talked fluently of poets and poetry and his little office library contained volumes of well-thumbed classic.

Mr. Uglow's property interests were extensive. He built the Uglow brick building in Dallas in 1903 and owned a number of residences. He also held extensive timber lands in Tillamook county.

Mr. Uglow was married to Margaret Hunter on December 13, 1873. Mrs. Uglow and four of their seven children survive him. These are John Uglow, Mrs. Mary Cressy, Mrs. Alice Wismer and Mrs. Maurice Turner. Three other daughters, Mrs. A. M. Sanders, Mrs. W. G. Vaughn and Mrs. Robert Gaynor, are dead.

BOARD INQUIRES INTO AUTO-TRAIN COLLISION

Dallas, Or., April 7.—A Southern Pacific board of inquiry was busy Monday working on the accident in which Miss Dorothy Kyler of Corvallis lost her life Sunday when an auto in which she was riding struck a Southern Pacific passenger motor at Nesmith station. It is thought that no conductor's request will be held. C. L. Crider and C. S. Keller, Dallas businessmen, have been acting with the railroad men in the investigations. It is thought that no blame can be placed on the train crew, as the case indicates too much speed and carelessness on the part of the driver of the auto.
