

WHEAT SCORES ADVANCE OF 10 CENTS PER BUSHEL

CROP REPORT OF SHORTAGE PUTS MARKET ON RISE

Chicago, April 11.—Wheat made a sensational advance in price today, jumping at the start as much as 7 1/2 cents a bushel. On the initial bulge, May delivery wheat touched $1.60 as compared with $1.52 1/2 to $1.53 at Thursday's finish. The government crop report indicating 216,000,000 bushels short in the 1925 probably yield of winter wheat as compared with the 1924 harvest was the immediate reason.

Winnipeg, Man., April 11.—Wheat prices were on the rise here today. May delivery wheat making an early advance of 8 1/2 cents to $1.61, and deferred futures showed relative strength. Course grain were above Thursday's close. The bulge was attributed to the bullish wheat report of the United States government.

1924 ONION CROP NEARLY CLEANED AT FIRM PRICES

Portland, April 11.—It almost "certainly" for the 1924 onion crop in Oregon. There is very little U. S. No. 1 stock with estimates placed at two or three carloads. The deal is closing in good shape with both growers and dealers reporting a prosperous season taken as a whole.

Prices are holding firm around $4.50 to $4.60 per hundred in the wholesale markets. Prices in the country are more or less nominal with quotations ranging all the way from $3.60 to $3.75 at landing point.

Several carloads of new crop Texas onions are rolling towards the Portland market and should commence to arrive in a week or ten days.

Flour and mill feeds advanced sharply in the Portland market today as a result of the sensational jump in wheat. Family flour is now up 20 cents to $10.20 per barrel; whole wheat and graham flour up 60 cents a barrel at $8.20 and $5 respectively. Bakers' bran is up 40 cents at $10.10 and bakers' hard wheat up 20 cents to $9.40. All scratches and mashers up $1 a ton.

Country dressed meats were easier at the close. Good calves were offered at 15 cents with choice light hogs held around 18 cents.

Live poultry arrivals have been by no means sufficient to meet the requirements of the trade during the past week and the market maintained a good healthy tone at all times.

PAROLE ON ONE COUNT IS REVOKED

Defalcations Extended
Thompson was employed as cashier in the state treasurer's office under State Treasurer O. P. Hoff and Jefferson Myers. At the beginning of the present administration of T. B. Kay, Thompson was replaced in the usual readjustment of positions that follows a change of administrations. He got employment as calendar clerk in the house of representatives at the legislature, and it was while serving there that his defalcations, which had extended over a period of years were discovered. To representatives of his surety companies Thompson said he had diverted an even $5000. He was placed under arrest and a bond fixed, and Thompson was allowed to finish his work in the legislature.

Of the $5000, investigators could find evidence in the books of only $1021. This amount Thompson paid back after his arrest. After he had been indicted by the grand jury he pleaded guilty and received his first sentence and parole. His arraignment had been scheduled for Wednesday morning of this week, but a special session of the court was called last Monday night when the plea was heard and parole granted. Early Wednesday morning, in time for the new evidence to have gone before the court, had the arraignment been as first scheduled, the full evidence of another defalcation of $3000 was discovered in the state treasurer's office.

OREGON STOCK WINTERS WELL REPORT SHOWS

A summary of the livestock condition after the close of the winter months reveals the fact that Oregon livestock in the main, wintered exceptionally well, according to Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian, notwithstanding the fact that many herds went into winter quarters with less fallow on their ribs than for many years.

"During the winter months," says Lytle, "quite rigorous winter weather was encountered, but the cold spell lasted only for a brief period during which time there was some loss of thin animals. The losses were confined chiefly to horses on the public domain and to thin cattle.

"There was some loss experienced in ewe bands, particularly among the old ewe members of the flocks. This was in part due to the fact that some of the Oregon flocks have not been sold down to the young breeding animals as closely as in former years. During the liquidation period a considerable percentage of the strictly range district flock members were forced to sell their younger ewes and in these districts there was perhaps a 7 per cent ewe loss. The animals were not available excepting for their ability to raise a lamb.

"The health of the Oregon livestock was never better. Outside of some losses in horses which have been due to botulism caused by the eating of moldy or botulism infected food. This infection is the same that caused the California olive poisoning.

"The cattle herds of the state have been relatively free from disease. The sheep herds are free from sheep scabies for the first time in a number of years. A light lamb loss has been experienced by a few breeders engaged in winter lambing. This infection appears to be due to loss of condition in some of the ewe flocks, which was probably in part caused by the long period of dry feed that the herds subsisted on last summer and fall. The losses have been confined to individual flocks and in no sense could be considered as a general infection.

"Disease in hogs have been confined chiefly to pneumonia in young pigs and young stocked animals. As far as we know there has been no hog cholera reported in Oregon since the first of the year.

program is being vigorously carried on in Oregon. There was passed at the last session of the legislature, a compulsory tuberculin test law for all that territory in Oregon lying west of the Cascade range. This will insure the compulsory tuberculin testing of 99 per cent of the dairy animals of the state. A survey recently completed by the United States department of agriculture shows that in all excepting six counties of Oregon there is less than 1 per cent of tuberculosis, which is a record equalled by but few states of the Union."
