

CHORAL SOCIETY TO SING SPECIAL EASTER PROGRAM

Silverton, Or., April 11.—(Special.)—On the evening of Easter Sunday the Silverton Choral Society will give its sixth semi-annual program. On Christmas and Easter of each year for the past three years the choral society, a community affair, has given a program for the entertainment of Silverton folk. The program is always free, only a collection being taken to defray expenses. And as the choral society contains Silverton's best talent it is an event looked forward to by all, including those who have access to many good entertainments and those who can attend only those entertainments which are free.

The program to be given this year is particularly good and differs from those of former times in that it does not consist of one cantata but is made up of the best selections from a number of cantatas. The numbers given include the following:

- "Hosanna" and "O, Sacred Head," (F. Melius Christianson), by choral society; "The Magdalene," (Warren), by Gordon McCall; "In the Breaking of the Day," (Bart), Mrs. G. B. Benton and Miss Adena Franzen; "Morn's Rosette Hue," from resurrection story, (Carrie B. Adams), women's voices; "Oh, Come and Mourn," (Adams), and "Out of the Night of Darkness," (Wildermere), by choral society; "Hosanna," (Granier), Miss Marie Corhouse; "Guide Me, Oh, Thou Great Jehovah," (Lansing), Mrs. E. E. Richardson, and Tom Karhus; "All Hail," (Adams), men's voices; "Open the Gates of the Temple," (Crosby and Knapp), Mrs. M. G. Gunderson, with violin obligato by Alfred Jensen; "In the Splendor of His Glory," (Wildermere), and "Who-soever Believeth Shall Live," (Adams), choral society.

Churchill Elected To Be President of New Ashland Normal

J. A. Churchill, who for nearly 12 years has been state superintendent of schools, was yesterday elected by the board of regents of Oregon normal schools as president of the state normal school to be established at Ashland.

The election of Mr. Churchill was announced as unanimous. The names of two other candidates were before the board, J. O. McLaughlin, superintendent of the Corvallis schools, and George A. Briscoe, superintendent of the Ashland schools. The board first expressed itself by a ballot vote and Churchill had an easy majority, whereupon the election was made unanimous. Mr. Churchill himself a member of the board, did not vote and was not present. They are Governor Pierce, Secretary of State Sam A. Kozar, C. L. Starr of Portland, Frank J. Miller of Albany, E. E. Brazz of Salem, George A. Hartman of Pendleton, W. C. Brown of Moro and J. V. Fuller of Ashland.

Mr. Churchill was appointed state superintendent of schools by Governor Oswald West 12 years ago the first of the coming June. Prior to that time he had been for 22 years superintendent of the Baker schools.

His election as president of the Ashland normal school will be effective not earlier than January 1 or later than March 1, 1926. The exact date will be determined by members of the board. Prior to assuming his new office he will go east to make a further study of normal schools and to select some members of his faculty.

The 1925 legislature made an appropriation of $125,000 to revive the Ashland normal, this amount to be used in the construction of a new building. The act also provides for a tax levy of one-twentieth of a mill for maintenance purposes, the equivalent of approximately $40,000 a year. Mr. Churchill's salary as president of the normal school will be $4500 a year. The contract entered into with the board of regents is for four years.

LEWIS DEFEATS DAWSON EASILY IN 10 ROUND GO

Frankie Lewis of Salem took the best of the fight with Charles Dawson of Eugene at the armory last night when he received a well earned decision. Dawson was completely outclassed and he did not receive a single round, Lewis taking eight rounds, three of them by a large margin, and the other two were about even.

Dawson made Lewis come down to ounces for this fight and Lewis worked hard to get down to the limit. Just before the fight Lewis objected to too much tape on Dawson's hands. The crowd booed when Dawson came back and made a grandstand play by taking all of it off. In the first round the fighters felt each other out although the Indian lad did most of the leading. The second round went to Lewis by a ehnde and the third was about even. In the fourth round, Lewis opened up and sent Dawson to the canvas for the count of nine.

Lewis continued to paste Dawson from pillar to post and Dawson was goggy all through the next three rounds, although he snapped out of it a little in the seventh. The eighth round started off fast with Dawson landing a few blows but Lewis took the best of it when he landed a solid left to the chin that sent Dawson down again. In the ninth the Indian kept hitting him with both right and left but was unable to connect with a solid punch. Dawson made the best showing in the tenth round when he came out of his corner and landed several blows but it was too late. In the last part of the final round Lewis hit Dawson time and again but was unable to put him out.

Billy Gardeau will be matched with Lewis for the card on the 24th of this month.

Eddie Sanderson of Salem, who weighed in at 118, fought Pee-Wee Bond of Eugene, and the Indian took the fight in the third round of the scheduled four-round mix. Sanderson was a little too heavy for Bond and in the first minute of fighting in the third round connect with a left to the jaw that sent Bond to the floor.

The second preliminary was a frost, both of the fighters acting like they were at a "pink tea." Jack Roberts of Albany and Tommy Evans of Hood River were the participants. Tom Louitt, referee, stopped the fight before the first round ended. Matchmaker Plant announced that neither of them would receive any money for the farce.

Shadow Bretz of Salem knocked out Eddie Pater in the first round of the scheduled four-round fight.

Kid McCormick of Oregon City fought a game but losing fight in the semi-windup with Billy Robbins of Portland. Robbins took the first, third, fourth and fifth rounds. The "Kid" was game and took a lot of punishment in the fourth and fifth rounds, going down to the canvas twice in the fourth and three times in the fifth when the "Kid's" seconds threw the towel in the ring.

Many achievements in Oregon school development in the last decade are credited to Mr. Churchill. He has promoted the standardization of rural schools, standardization of high school courses in the state and organization of boys' and girls' industrial clubs. The high school tuition fund law, passed by the legislature of 1915 was an idea of Mr. Churchill and resulted in a great increase in attendance in Oregon high schools.

The giving of credits to high school students for music work outside of school hours was inaugurated in Oregon by Mr. Churchill. Also he promoted moral instruction in the schools, and it was through his efforts that Oregon became the first state in the union to provide week-day religious schools. Vocational education under the Smith-Hughes act was inaugurated in this state by Churchill.

The Bible study plan in schools and the allowing of credits for the study was originated by Mr. Churchill in 1915. Also he has promoted playground and gymnasium work among Oregon schools.

Great Falls, Mont., April 11.—(By Associated Press.)—Senator Burton K. Wheeler will take the witness stand in his trial which begins here April 16 and will tell the entire story of the circumstances leading up to his indictment for accepting money for appearing before a government department after being elected to the United States senate, he announced here today.

The Montana senator, who is formally accused of receiving $4000 from Gordon Campbell, Montana oil operator, for prospecting claims before the department of the interior, declared that he "had nothing to conceal," and that he would insist on telling his story to the jury in federal court here.

BROOKS PEOPLE IN AUTO SMASH

Brooks, Or., April 11.—The trip from Brooks to Marshfield by auto made last week by Robert Nusom and his son-in-law, Martin Aicher, had its rough spots, according to a letter received describing the journey. Mr. Aicher was ahead and arrived without mishap, but the rest of the party in the following machine did not put in an appearance when expected. About 2 o'clock in the morning, Robert Nusom arrived in Marshfield about 30 miles from the point of collapse that he was only able to tell that the other machine had gone over an embankment some 14 miles back. Condition for a while was serious and while part of his people went back to search for the occupants of the overturned machine others stayed to care for him. He was unable to give them any clues to assist in locating the place of the accident and after spending the remainder of the night on the road the searchers returned to Marshfield for more help. Upon the second trip the party was located and the machine righted and all came into Marshfield. Fortunately no one was injured.

Denver, Colo., April 11.—The noles of bolterous mob clamor—shouting, cursing and swearing—swept down the corridors of the Denver county jail last night when scores of prisoners caught in the underworld roundup were lodged in the city prison—and they brought terror to the heart of Alfred Dorchak, confessed youthful slayer.

Alarmed by the bustling mob, the ever-increasing gangs of prisoners rushed into cells, Dorchak, who was held for the killing of Paul Shannon here last week, screamed hysterically to "don't let them lynch me."
