He Is Risen
That joyous cry has been echoing down the years for nearly two centuries. "He is risen! The Christ who was crucified is arisen!" It was the evidence of His teaching that there is no death; that life is eternal, everlasting.

Easter, the anniversary of that Third Day, upon which He arose, is with us. We would all profit by sincerely contemplating the significance of the day.

PLODDING, plodding, ever trodding—trips here, trips there, all about the town—and most steps wasted because Madame Shopper goes unguided. Really, it's the end of a wasted day. Madame Shopper is worn and weary—without having accomplished her quest.

Of course, you can't expect Madam Shopper to know of all the good things, the good stores and the good values in town—no, not unless Madam Shopper reads the advertising each day in the Capital Journal.

How much easier everything moves in one's shopping tour, when one has first consulted the advertisements. There are the best offerings of the day listed in an orderly manner, the special services rendered by each store—where the stores are located—just like buying from a huge catalog in your home.
