STUDENTS START WORK ON ANNUAL SEEKING PRIZE
 With the beginning of an intensive campaign to secure advertising for the 1925 Clarion annual at Salem high school, the final lap in the completion of that book definitely got started today.
 Those in charge of the publication are bending every effort to repeat the record made by the annual for the years past. Twice in succession the Salem high school has won the cup offered by Sigma Delta Chi, national fraternity at O. A. C. If the trophy is won again this year it will be awarded permanently to Salem.
 "We're out after that cup this year harder than ever," said Cecil Edwards, editor of the annual, this morning. "I think we can put the stuff into it, if we can only get the money to pay for it."
 The annual will have 250 pages and a Malloy imitation leather stiff cover. It is customary for the Malloy company to make its own design, but one of the high school students, Nathan Buell, has made an original design which will be used on the cover this year. "The design is fully as good as any they'd give us, and we'll get more credit in the contest if we have an original design," was the explanation given by Edwards. The annual will not only be entered in the state contest, but in a similar national contest to be held at Chicago.
 "I have no doubt but that the editorial staff and art staff have everything necessary to turn out a winning book," said Jack Minto today. "The main thing now is to get the necessary advertising."
 Both the photography and the printing are being done in Salem. The engraving is being done in Portland.

BAREFOOT JAUNTS DENIED
 New York, April 14.—Mrs. Frederick Y. Daisiel today denied a sensational report from South Salt Lake Springs, Va., that she had taken daily jaunts over the golf course in her bare feet. She said the report was an "absolute and total error" and that she had never appeared outside of her own apartment in her bare feet, except on the bathing beach.
 Jurist Shot to Death.
 Brook, Va., April 14.—Judge Joseph H. Kelley of the Virginia supreme court of appeals, died today of gunshot wounds. He was entering the basement of his home when the family heard a shot and found him fatally injured.
