The heaviest shower of the year at Salem fell at four o'clock this morning. Many Salemites were awakened at that time by the rain which came down in torrents. Nearly half an inch fell during the single shower, which lasted at full strength for only a few minutes, and was abated by the time daylight arrived. The heavy rain did not continue long enough to affect the Willamette river materially. The river was reported to be falling at 7 o'clock this morning, the rain not being sufficient to offset the lack of moisture due to the fact that the snow in the hills has not melted to any appreciable extent during the past few days, the weather having cooled slightly.

VON HINDENBERG BACKED U-BOAT WARFARE, CLAIM

Berlin, April 15.—(By Associated Press.)—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is now fair game for his political opponents, says Vorwaerts, the socialist organ, which declares the republican parties in Germany for the past five years had scrupulously lived up to a gentleman's agreement which prescribed a "closed season" for the venerable field marshal.

It was understood, says Vorwaerts, that Von Hindenburg was not to be dragged into controversies over the loss of the war or the conduct of the war, and that the halo which popular acclaim placed over the head of the hero of Tannenberg was to remain sacred. The agreement pre-supposed that opponents of the republic would keep Von Hindenburg out of politics, a condition which Vorwaerts declares now has been violated and which therefore deprives him of further immunity.

The socialist organ then proceeds to reprint an extract from a protocol drawn up at great headquarters at Ploes early in January, 1917, when Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg attempted to head off Germany's unrestricted submarine warfare. The chancellor apparently wavered in the face of the determined attitude of Von Hindenburg, General Ludendorff and other army leaders, who demanded ruthless application of the U-boat weapon.

STATE EXCLUDED FROM POWER RIGHTS ACTION

Attorney General Van Winkle has informed State Engineer Luper that the state cannot intervene in the appeal to the United States supreme court by the Pacific Power & Light company of its controversy relative to the adjustment of water rights on Hood river. Originally the Oregon Lumber company sued the East Fork irrigation district to restrain its use of certain waters that the company wanted. The lower court held in favor of the district. The Pacific Power & Light company and other power interests were made a party to the action by the state water board, and the Pacific Power & Light company has appealed to the United States supreme court. The attorney general holds that while the state cannot intervene it can file a brief in the case.

GOLF WIDOWHOOD NOT CAUSE FOR DIVORCE

Chicago, April 15.—"Golf widowhood" was unsuccessfully pleaded today as grounds for divorce. The petitioner said her husband, though a hopeless "duffer" with a wretched drive, spent most of his time on the links.

SANSON AND M'NARY TELL ROTARIANS OF LINEN MILL PROJECT

Linen was well known and approved wherever he went, Sanson stated.

He referred briefly to Henry Ford's new linen mill in Michigan. The mills were to eventually produce over three and a half million yards of heavy material a year, the purpose being to use it in the manufacture of automobile tops. The flax produced in Michigan is of a grade inferior to that grown here, but well adapted to making coarse material.

"Ford states that the line mills should be placed where the flax grows," said Sanson.

In concluding, Sanson gave as one of his main reasons for wanting to establish a plant in the United States the fact that the market is protected by a heavy tariff. He stated that it will probably take about nine months to put the mill in operation after it is definitely begun.

"I wouldn't put my money into this unless I were sure it is a good proposition, and I don't want anybody else to invest unless they feel the same way about it," he said.

He stated that Russia, where much of the flax of the world has
