Following the lead of President Coolidge and Governor Pierce, Mayor Gleay today issued a proclamation calling for an observance of American forest week in Salem. The dates are from April 27 to May 3. The proclamation urges that the public, teachers, heads of civic organizations, clubs, Boy Scouts and the press of the community bring to the attention of every individual the importance of the forests, and the responsibility devolving upon each individual in the prevention of destruction and waste of the forests.

Work on the channel of the Willamette river between Salem and Portland has been going on all week. The Salem, a river boat, was sent up the river with a crew of men, and started at Mission Landing, near St. Paul, to clear snags and blast away obstructions in the channel. It is said that the Montecella may be brought up soon to start dredging. The original intention was to bring the Matolona for dredging purposes, but that boat is said to be in use elsewhere. The Montecella will have to be towed from bar to bar, not being able to move, like the Matolona, under her own power.

Vanouever Golfers NOT TO PLAY SUNDAY

Fred A. Williams, chairman of the tournament committee, announces that the match play between Vancouver Country club and Hilsbee Country club has been postponed until Sunday, April 26. The excessive rain during the past week has softened the greens so that it would be permanently injurious to play on them at this time.

The semi-finals for the Krause trophies however will continue and Hilsbee will play MacLaughlin and Sanford will play Woods in the cup flight. Glinger will play Kay and Farmer will play Locke in the trophy flight, subject of course to changes to suit the convenience of the contestants.

70 OCCUPATIONS OF WOMEN SEEN AT CHICAGO FAIR

Chicago, April 15.—(By Associated Press)—More than seventy occupations of women are represented at the women's world fair, opening here today. Only one, needle work, was represented at the last world's fair here, the Columbian exposition of 1893. The occupations exhibited this year include plumbing, circus riding and prospecting.

Cabbages played a large part in making such diversifications, according to Miss Estelle Bennett of the fair management. "For it was the cabbages thrown at Susan B. Anthony in the past years ago," said Miss Bennett, "that prompted a plainman to introduce in the legislature of Wyoming territory, the first woman's suffrage bill in history.

"He offered it as a rebuke to the cabbage-throwing, and as an expression of the chivalry of the frontier. He argued that the men of Wyoming would not sit silent and inert while a woman was mistreated. The bill was adopted.

"Later when Wyoming asked for statehood, the question arose as to whether she would be permitted to retain her suffrage provisions. The men of Wyoming replied that they would wait forty years more for statehood rather than enter the sisterhood of states without their women. When Wyoming attained statehood, it was as the first suffrage state in the union.

"Wyoming sends to the women's world fair the first woman governor inaugurated in the United States, Mrs. Nellie Taloe Ross."

The women prospector exhibiting at the fair is Miss Helen Parnell of Regina, Sask. She is an expert in the location of potter clays and is said to be the only woman ermine engineer in the world.

A Personal Insult
Editor Statesman: I feel that I have cause to be highly indignant over the personal insult of the Capital Journal's article in that paper of Thursday about Mr. Woods.

The Capital Journal has said so much about the personal rights of the home to be not intruded on by the governor's stool pigeons entering the home unannounced. The Capital Journal reporter came to the ranch unannounced and tried in for news. His remarks are very personal and insulting, and in some cases misrepresenting. Perhaps if some one would go unannounced to his shack they might find some dirty socks or some other more unpleasant things lying around; and maybe he may get lame some day, and some fool have the chance to make fun of his appearance.

And it may be, when he loses his high job as sneaky reporter of the Capital Journal, he may see the day when he will be glad to earn his living even in a more humble way than caring for a few goats. I don't suppose he could raise enough cash to buy one if he wanted to, for he is sure a cheap crook or he would not stoop so low as to write up a personal insult about anyone.

"This picture, painted by Francesca Drake and presented by her to Kimball school of theology, is affectionately dedicated to Reverend and Mrs. G. William Hickman, pioneer preachers and home missionaries of the cross, who through their devotion to home and church furnished to this school a worthy president and leader, Dr. Eugene C. Hickman. It is given with the earnest prayer that all who shall come in contact with this school may be inspired by this picture to a new devotion and loyalty to the 'Man of Sorrows.' Presented Easter 1925."

Nominations for student body officers at Willamette university were officially announced this morning by Stanley Emmel, present head of the student body. The condition in which he found these titles?" "He did not say anything," replied Harvey. "He did not say he was disappointed with conditions as he found them?" "No." "Did you not see him in an affidavit?" Senator Walsh objected to the question and was sustained by Federal Judge Frank S. Dietrich. On cross-examination, Harvey said that Wheeler declared that if one forty-acre tract of land was saved as a result of employment of the senator as an attorney the fee of $10,000 would be a good investment for the company.

"Did you ever talk with Senator Wheeler about proceedings before the department of the interior?" "No, sir." "What was the arrangement?"

JUVENILE FANS PACK THEATER
A crowd of juvenile movie fans, conservatively estimated at 1500 in number, formed a line on the high street sidewalk extending more than half a block south from the entrance of the Grand theatre at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Some half dozen parents accompanied a few of the youngest of the children.

Each armed with five cents and a coupon clipped from the Capital Journal, they filed past the box of free in orderly procession, passing in to take advantage of the Capital Journal's hospitality.

Besides "Let 'Er Buck" in which Itoot Gibson, idol of all ambitious boys, rode through real after reel of thrilling cowboy narrative, the youngsters were privileged to see a comedy and a news reel and an Oregonian screen review.

"Milk Bandits," a hilarious comedy, kept the crowded theatre room in an uproar. The program lasted for an hour and three quarters.

SHIPPING BOARD WIDELY SPLIT ON SALE OF LINERS

Washington, Apr. 18.—The wide split in the shipping board over the sale of the five President type liners in the Orient emphasized today when views of trade to the Dollar interests were dissenting commissioners were submitted to the supreme court of the District of Columbia in the injunction case brought by the Pacific Mail Steamship company.

The views of those who opposed the sale set forth in affidavits by Commissioners Plumber and Thompson and are in sharp contrast to the board's answer to the suit filed yesterday.

In the affidavits presented today Mr. Thompson summarized his position as follows: "I still hold the view that neither bid should have been accepted until negotiations had further been had with the bidders, in accordance with the provisions of the advertisement, until further effort had been made to increase the price, to insure permanency of service, some provision provided for replacement of vessels in the trade when present ships became obsolete and any further needed requirements imposed by the merchant marine act, 1920."

Commissioner Plumber contended that the board in awarding the sale did not take into consideration the purpose declared as a national policy in the merchant marine act, and that no attempt was made to ascertain the foreign market price of or the demand for such ships. He added that the "only justification for the sale of these ships at less than their fair market value is the securing for the commerce of the United States of an adequate ocean service" and that the "maintenance" provided for in the merchant marine act "is not secured by the proposition made" by the Dollar interests.

REORGANIZE LINEN MILL DRIVE PLAN
louched at all. The result is that the plan of solicitation will be completely revised. Every group of workers will be allowed to select its own prospects and go out after them—and get them.

At Monday's luncheon the reorganization will be perfected, new committees named—about 25 committees of four each to function—and the drive will be on in dead earnest.

In the meantime most encouraging reports are coming in from Portland, advice being that some of the city's biggest financial men have displayed a keen interest in the movement, and one of the strongest kinds of soliciting committees will be named by the Portland chamber of commerce to put over Portland's most important feature.

Because— 1. A market or demand already exists for the product—and— 2. Oregon produces the suitable raw material at the proper cost of production—and— 3. The goods can be made and sold at a substantial profit.
