Agricultural and common laborers swelled the number of men given work through the local employment bureau during the past week, so that a total of 106 men were placed in jobs. This is approximately 50 per cent more than the usual number given employment during the course of a week. Among agricultural laborers the demand during the week was as great as the supply. Seventy eight men applied for work, and 70 farmers asked for helpers. Seventy men were referred to places, and of this number 66 were used. Of 8 professional farm hands who applied for work, three were asked for, and all referred and placed. Of 50 common laborers who made application for work, 33 were placed in jobs. For work laborers the demand considerably exceeded the supply. Ten were asked for; 3 applied; 2 were referred, but only one accepted. A back to the farm movement was also noted among the women. Of 25 applicants, 18 were given farm work.

VANCOUVER GOLF MATCH SUNDAY

The weather man promises a wonderful day for the golf match tomorrow between Vancouver Country club and Illabe Country club. The visiting team will be accompanied by many of their club members and some by their families, so it is hoped the "home folks" will turn out in full force to extend a royal welcome.

Vancouver has always shown a special fondness for Salem, never failing to respond in goodly numbers at the state fair and other like events of mutual interest.

It may be necessary or convenient for some of our boys to "ride and fly" but the Illabe team will be picked from the following men: Kay, Sanford, Farrar, Dr. Olinger, McCammon, Farmer, Griffith, Hutchison, McLaughlin, Woods, Cox, Keene, Fry, Hug, Thielson, Pemberton, Mangis, Locke, Elliott, Hixon, Young, Williams.

GOLDEN VISIONS TOPS BLIGH BILL

"Golden Visions," which comes direct from the art salons of Paris, will top the new bill at the Bligh theater Sunday. The most beautiful and natural human production of statuary on the vaudeville stage is said of this offering.

Various groups of poses are copies from famous statuary on exhibition in the New York and Paris art salons.

One of the snappy acts on the bill is that of the Manuel Roman Trio. They offer a combination of singing, talking and dancing. Roman, the well-known minstrel, is a favorite with the lovers of the phonograph.

BE CAREFUL IN CONFLICTS OVER NIGHT

The government and promised to appeal to Bulgarian peasants to support it. Much importance is attached by the government to this proposed appeal.

Army Loyal Claim. The minister of war, Volkoff, declared that he expects further acts of terrorism but that the entire army is loyally doing its duty.

Despite the renewed disturbances in the provinces the authorities in Sofia announced the curfew would be modified Monday. The weekly produce markets operated as usual in Sofia today, it was reported.

According to the latest evidence, four Bulgarian army officers in active service have been involved in communicative plots.

One of these four has been killed by his comrades.

On the day of an explosion in the Sveti-Kral cathedral, a former air force officer, who was accompanied by three men was found trying to enter the army airframe outside of Sofia. It is believed they intended to seize an airplane and bomb the city.

The intruders were captured and all airplanes have been watched since the incident. Yesterday the brother of one of the alleged conspirators in the cathedral bombing was arrested attempting to enter the Bulgarian parliament buildings where he was formerly employed as a stenographer. The police state he is suspected of an attempt to blow up the chamber.

Bulgarian speakers to have become fully alive to the danger threatening the Balkans, Sofia advisers say, and are leaving Bulgaria every assistance while Greece maintains a more or less neutral attitude.

Jugo-Slavs Threaten. Jugo-Slavia's position is not so clear as a British dispatch says. German government circles emphasize the danger of possible Jugo-Slavia intervention in Bulgaria which they point out might easily lead to another Balkan war.

The Bulgarian government professes to be in complete possession of the details of the plot for the bombing of the cathedral in Sofia last week, which followed the attempt against King Boris and the assassination of General Georgevich.

The authorities say the plot was carried out by Bulgarians, paid lavishly for their work by communists, who remained in the background, awaiting the outcome.

This is supported by advisers of the German foreign office, which says the object was to establish a strong operating base for the spread of communism in the Balkans.

The next whole nine innings, and for the most part held his opponents without difficulty. In the fourth frame he weakened slightly, let two men get on bases and then allowed one of them to scamper across the plate when he threw a wild pitch which Towner, catcher, missed. Kalahan took a brace immediately; however, and allowed no more runs until the eighth, when Linfield brought in the other half of the Linfield score. Kalahan was watched closely, since it was his first game of the season in the pitcher's box and a considerable reputation has followed him to Salem from Centerville, where he hails from. He played on the Centerville city team for several years.

The next college game is at present slated with the Oregon Agricultural college Tuesday. Rainy weather has caused most of the games to be cancelled so far this season, but if the present weather holds the game will be played on the local diamond.

INDIANS DEFEAT PORTLAND TEAM

Chemawa, Or., April 25.—The Chemawa Indians won a hard fought game yesterday afternoon when they defeated the high school of Commerce of Portland by a score of 6 to 5. The game was in doubt until the last man was out, the Chemawa pitcher hurled a good game but the support was weak at times. This is the first win of the season for the redskins.

Raymond, the Frankston pitcher, in two games, one of them redskins lost 15 to 14 and the other was a tie at the end of the third inning when the game was called on account of rain. The other game of the Indians lost to the Salem high school by a score of 7 to 4. The Indians are playing the Columbia university this afternoon.

WHEELER IS ACQUITTED OF CHARGES

Senator Wheeler later issued a statement in which he declared the verdict was what he expected and thanking Senator Walsh for his services. He also said in the statement that his concern for Mrs. Wheeler was greater during the trial than was his anxiety over his case.

Senator Wheeler was indicted here April 3, 1924, by a federal grand jury on a charge of accepting a fee of $5000 from Gordon Campbell, Montana oil operator, for appearing after his election to the senate before the department of the interior in prosecution of oil lands permits for his client. He branded the indictment as "palpably a frame-up" and blamed the department of justice, which he was investigating at the time as prosecutor of the senate investigating committee.

Next day the senate started an investigation of the case and in its end wholly exonerated him.

SAYS RAILROADS CAN AID VALLEY BY LOWER RATES

"I notice that the railroads are planning doing things for eastern Oregon. If they wish to do something for western Oregon which will mean a big step in advance on the railroad company's part, they should put on a combined rate on dried fruit and canned fruit which would open up endless new markets and a consequent impetus to the fruit game," was the declaration today of W. F. Drager, local fruit man.

The combined rate would be vastly beneficial even if we had to take the higher rate on dried fruits in making up the combined rate. There are numerous buyers in the market who want to buy both canned and dried fruits, but they are unable to buy a carload of each. Under the ruling of the railroad companies if a car is made up partly of canned fruit and partly of dried fruit, each one takes the less than carload rate.

"As I stated there are numerous buyers who cannot buy a carload of dried fruit, but want some of each and could buy a carload made up of canned fruit and dried fruit if the car took a combined rate.

"With such a rate an endless number of markets would be opened up that are not now in the field, such as Great Falls, Sioux City and similar places where the buyers want to buy, and are anxious to buy, but cannot buy a carload at a time either of dried fruit or canned goods. Putting on a combined car would not cost the railroad companies any more than to ship a car of dried fruit or canned fruit, but would increase tonnage and consumption materially."

Mr. Dray reported progress on the Eugene-Klamath Falls line.

Forty miles of track had been laid and was in operation of the whole extension of 108 miles, and 85 miles had been graded.

Twenty five miles remained to be completed and this was said to be substantially under way. The tunnel at the summit, more than 3000 feet long, was two thirds bored and by July the track would

BEARCATS TAKE LINFIELD TEAM INTO CAMP 5-2

Willamette university defeated Linfield college in baseball 5 to 2 on the local diamond yesterday afternoon.

Both teams played high class ball during most of the game. Kalahan, freshman, pitched through the whole nine innings, and for the most part held his opponents without difficulty. In the fourth frame he weakened slightly, let two men get on bases and then allowed one of them to scamper across the plate when he threw a wild pitch which Towner, catcher, missed. Kalahan took a brace immediately; however, and allowed no more runs until the eighth, when Linfield brought in the other half of the Linfield score. Kalahan was watched closely, since it was his first game of the season in the pitcher's box and a considerable reputation has followed him to Salem from Centerville, where he hails from. He played on the Centerville city team for several years.

The next college game is at present slated with the Oregon Agricultural college Tuesday. Rainy weather has caused most of the games to be cancelled so far this season, but if the present weather holds the game will be played on the local diamond.

BE CAREFUL ACCIDENTS IN SALEM THIS YEAR THIS WEEK

Accidents in Salem this year this week. 276 THIS YEAR THIS WEEK. 18 TO-DAY. BE CAREFUL.

RAILROAD TO FOLLOW OUT HILL PLANS

There now. This is an unfinished project that I think should be taken up and pushed through and it will not interfere with other lines. The people of Oregon know very well that money invested in railroads must be supported, both as to capital account and operating expenses, if the lines are to succeed. There has been some unnecessary duplication and needless expense in the line as built south from the Columbia river to Bend.

"It will be our aim, when we go south from Bend, to avoid duplication and expense and to do with every dollar the most that can be done with it, so as to get the most traffic for all interests concerned. The territory from Bend to Klamath Falls can be served economically and well when the time comes and we hope to treat it around the table in the manner that has been summed by Mr. Dey and discuss it with business men of Portland, for such a method will be most welcome to us."

Cooperation Held Next. Ben Dey, counsel for the Southern Pacific company, in a preceding talk, said that Oregon would realize what it hoped in railroad building sooner by a policy of cooperation than by a program of litigation and antagonism. He advised business men to call upon the railroad executives and learn their problems and said the public interest would be aided if the railroad heads were allowed to work out their plans in their own way.

Mr. Dey reported progress on the Eugene-Klamath Falls line.

Forty miles of track had been laid and was in operation of the whole extension of 108 miles, and 85 miles had been graded.

Twenty five miles remained to be completed and this was said to be substantially under way. The tunnel at the summit, more than 3000 feet long, was two thirds bored and by July the track would be built through it, bringing the line from Kirk in the Klamath basin west of the Cascades. Completion of the new road was expected early next year.

Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific made no reference at all to the Oregon rail situation, save in a most general way. He said that people were apt to want a thing very badly until they got it and then interest lapsed.

MARINE POLICY TO BE SUBJECT OF CONFERENCE

Washington, April 25.—Plans calling a conference representative of all interests directly concerned in shipping for the purpose of establishing a "permanent and practical" merchant marine policy for the country were announced today by the chamber of commerce of the United States.

The movement was said to be in response to a request of representatives of shipping, industrial, exporting and financial interests, as made in a resolution adopted in a recent meeting in New York, that the business opinion of the country thus be brought to bear upon the problem.

A prior inquiry into all phases of the problem will be conducted by special committees, representative of all interests, with a view, it was said, of laying more or less specific recommendations before the conference as a basis for adopting a permanent and constructive policy.

The study will embrace four broad aspects of the question. These were set forth as the relation of the merchant marine to foreign trade and national defense.
