"Your job is to create a public sentiment which will outtrace the fellow who carelessly sets a fire," said C. S. Sizer of Portland in a speech before the Salem Rotary club this noon. "Public sentiment can do it, but nothing else can." Oregon has nearly all the timber on the Pacific coast, according to Mr. Sizer. "The timber, uncut, as a taxable asset, means as much or more than the payroll which results when it is cut," he declared. He stated that a severance tax on timber is rendered unnecessary by the fact that machinery and equipment, used to produce lumber, is taxed heavily.

EQUINE BALLET

BIG FEATURE OF BARNES CIRCUS

The "Equine Ballet!" With one hundred beautiful girls and one hundred matchless, handsome dancing horses prancing to the strains of the famous Barnes circus band, it is no wonder that it is called "the act beautiful."

The spectacle with more handsome girls than has been dreamed possible will charm you when the Al G. Barnes big four-ring circus comes to Salem, Thursday, May 7. The equine ballet is considered throughout the show world to be one of the most brilliant acts ever brought before the public. With the hundred golden and painted horses stepping to the music, it is a sight to thrill the hearts of everyone in the audience.

When the dazzling array comes into the three steel arenas, the three rings and the hippodrome track of the Al G. Barnes gigantic big top, with the gorgeous costumes and prancing steeds, the girls dismount and, keeping time with the music, make "the act beautiful"—reality.

These girls, in addition to over a hundred pretty ballet and chorus girls from sun-kissed California, will play an important part in the sensational circus feature of the age, "Pocahontas at the Court of Queen Anne," the extravaganza that opens the big program with a cast of three hundred actors.

Among the 5000 wild educated animals will be Lotus, the largest and only blood-sweating performing hippopotamus in the world. A cast of 1000 performers will accompany the show.

It's the show that's distinctly different every year.

KLAN GATHERING STORMED BY MOB

Whitinsville, Mass., April 29.—Police today began an investigation into the riot after a meeting of the Ku Klux Klan in North Bridge early this morning when 150 members of the Klan were attacked by 200 men as they attempted to leave the meeting place.

Members of the crowd claimed that several of the Klansmen were struck by stones during the fracas.

While the Klansmen were leaving the field, running the continuous shower of rocks and bricks, Lieutenant Kimball and eight members of the state police were rushing from the Helden barracks to preserve order. Nearly all of the Klansmen had left the field when they arrived.
