

SENTIMENT FOR CHANGES IN DRY LAW REVEALED

Des Moines, Iowa, May 6.—(A. P.)—The Iowa Anti-Saloon league in a report today declared either the state and federal liquor laws must be enforced "with utmost rigidity" or the people of Iowa "must face possible modification" to permit the men and sale of light wines and beer.

Results of a survey made by the league's representatives in Iowa, particularly in the Mississippi river cities were contained in the report made public by R. P. McNaught, superintendent. Exhaustive investigations were made in Dubuque, Davenport, Muscatine and Burlington.

Sentiment for enforcement was found in Burlington, described as "the cleanest of the towns." Elsewhere, said the report, "sentiment for modification to permit light wines and beer has reached huge proportions."

Should this move for modification become organized, the report believed "prohibition will face one of the most serious emaciated yet encountered and may destroy all the good work that already has been done."

MORAL CODE FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN IS PREPARED

A moral code for school children, compiled by Collier's weekly with the aid of ministers, educators and statesmen and printed in large numbers by Collier's, was made public today. Copies furnished by Collier's will be placed in 5500 class rooms throughout the state of Oregon, in accordance with arrangements made with J. A. Churchill, superintendent of public instruction.

The code was compiled to fill a need thought to exist to a great and growing extent among children of the United States. At the top of the printed sheet are the words: "In God We Trust." The code is divided into 10 parts, having to do with courage and hope, wisdom, industry and good habits, knowledge and usefulness, truth and honesty, healthfulness and cleanliness, helpfulness and unselfishness, charity, humility and reverence and faith and responsibility.

FRENCH SILENT UPON HOUGHTON TALK IN LONDON

Washington, May 6.—Complete analysis of the reception accorded in European capitals to Ambassador Houghton's London address, is awaiting some comment from Paris where press accounts of the speech were brief and no immediate editorial expression was offered.

Added interest attaches to the reaction in France in view of the address by the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger as "plainly a shot at France," while other opinion abroad saw in it a generalized pronouncement of conditions on which American assistance should be based.

German comment in diplomatic circles here also regarded France as the speaker's target, while French observers inclined to the view that the ambassador had in mind the election of Von Hindenburg.

The ambassador's address which was made on his own responsibility is regarded by President Coolidge as a guide to Europe of American opinion on the continent's economic problems. The American helplessness to which Mr. Houghton referred is clearly understood to mean expansion of private loans to Europe and in this the president feels that bankers here cannot fail to place their investments where economic conditions are most inviting.

Unofficial spokesmen in Berlin welcomed Mr. Houghton's frank admonition to Europe to seek the path of peace, and expressed the belief that his advice will facilitate negotiations for a security pact.

Italian observers placed themselves in the position of interested spectators attaching no great import to the London address so far as Italy is concerned.

Ambassador Houghton's pronouncement was "timely and wise" in the opinion of Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee. If it was intended as the announcement of a policy, he declared, its importance to Europe and the United States "can hardly be overestimated."

A permit to operate in Oregon was issued to the B. B. Yates Machine company, a Wisconsin corporation. Charles K. Spaulding of Salem is named as attorney-in-fact for Oregon.
