

UTTERANCES BY BORAH NOT AIMED ONLY AT FRANCE

Geneva, May 7.—(By Associated Press)—A statement printed by Geneva newspapers quoting Senator Borah of Idaho as having declared that only force remained to be employed if France fails to take steps to pay her war debts, was one of the chief topics of conversation today among the delegates to the conference for the control of traffic in arms. The statement attributed to Senator Borah caused so much comment that it is understood an effort will be made to determine officially whether the Idaho senator was correctly quoted here.

Washington, May 7.—(A. P.)—The statement by Senator Borah which caused a commotion in Geneva apparently was a translation of some general observations made by the senator in the course of a copyrighted article in the Washington Sunday Star.

After discussing the French debt, and commenting generally on "present conditions and tendencies," the senator said:

"If the most solemn and binding obligations are to be disregarded and especially upon matters of mere material interests, there is no alternative in international affairs but force. There will either be a reign of law or a reign of violence. Of course these reflections are not for France alone. I am speaking generally—disregard of treaties is just as prevalent as disregard of law. While France debates the question of meeting her debt obligation, the United States debates whether she will live up to her treaty and century of earnest teachings relative to the confiscation of the property of foreigners. Both attitudes are astounding—a doctrine of shame and violence, repudiation and confiscation, the creed of communists."

Senator Borah said today this was the only statement he had made on the subject.

LUSITANIA SINKING ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED

New York, May 7.—(A. P.)—Memorial services in town hall this afternoon, mark the tenth anniversary of the sinking of the Lusitania with the loss of 1198 lives, including 124 Americans. Clergymen of all faiths, naval officers and civilians and relatives or friends of some of the victims, were on the program.

John Drew actor, was scheduled for an address in memory of Charles Frohman, theatrical producer, who lost his life on the Lusitania.

Madame Luella DeVescovi sings the national anthem and reads an account of the disaster written by her brother, Dr. Silvia DeVescovi, who rescued 24 women and children from the sinking vessel.

Irish Patriot

Mrs. MARY MACSWINEY

A hunger strike, similar to the one which her brother, Terence died, was threatened by Mrs. Mary MacSwiney in Chicago, when Federal officials led her to believe she might be arrested for coming into the country without a passport. She was on a patriotic mission for her cause.

COUNTY COURTS TO HOLD JOINT FERRY SESSION

While no date has been set County Judge Hunt stated today that undoubtedly in the near future a joint meeting of the county court of Yamhill and Marion counties will be held to discuss the proposition of the establishment of a free ferry at Wheatland Landing on the Willamette river. Word has been received by the court here that a large petition for the ferry has been signed by Yamhill residents. The Marion county court is ready to meet with the Yamhill court at any time and the Marion court is in a mood favorable to the establishment of the free ferry service. Petitions on the Marion county side also have been largely signed.

Admiral Sturdee Dead. London, May 7.—(A. P.)—Sir Doveton Sturdee, admiral of the fleet, who commanded the British squadron in the battle of Falkland islands in 1914, and later participated in the battle of Jutland, died today. He had been ill for some time.

RALLY IN NINTH WINS FOR OREGON

Eugene, May 7.—Two out, the last of the ninth, two runs behind—and then Oregon won! Yesterday afternoon's Pacific coast intercollegiate baseball conference game between Oregon and the Washington State College nine was the most thrilling on the local field in the memory of baseball fandom. The final score was 8 to 7, with W. S. C. on the short end. Two lightning double plays by the Cougars, and a smashing home run by Shelby, also of Washington State, featured the game until the last of the ninth. Oregon had led for most of the game, but W. S. C.

came from behind and gained a two-run lead. It looked gloomy for Oregon. Adolph, first man up for the Webfooters, knocked out a hot grounder and was safe. Wright pinch hitting, filed out, and Harrison, Oregon pitcher fanned. Some of the crowd began drifting home, thinking it was all over. Reinhart, Oregon lead-off man, walked, and Minnaugh sent a hot liner to left field, scoring Adolph. Shelby speed ball artist went in for W. S. C. and proceeded to walk Hobson, Elias, Oregon catcher, who has been hitting hard and consistently, came through with a scorching hit to left field scoring Reinhart and Minnaugh and the game was won. The score: Washington 7 11 1 Oregon 8 10 2 Nolan, Shelby and Mitchell; Brooks, Harrison and Elias.
