BABES CHANGED ON PARENTS IN HOME IS CHARGE

New York, May 7.—Mrs. Helen August Geisenbock, who conducts a baby home in E. 86th street was held in $25,000 bail in police court today on a charge of substituting children placed in her institution. Assistant District Attorney White who appeared against the woman in court said numerous complaints had been made against her by mothers. He told the magistrate the charge against the woman probably would be changed later to homicide.

The prosecutor said it had been reported to him that twelve children starved to death in the woman's institution in one month. A former nurse in the baby home, he said, had told him Mrs. Geisenbock was "crucial to all her charges."

The specific charge on which the woman was held was made by William Argere of Manhattan who said he placed his four-month old son in her care and that another child was returned to him.

BODY OF DENVER MAN TO BE TAKEN FROM ITS GRAVE

Denver, Colo., May 7.—Disinterment of the body of C. H. Blank, real estate operator, who was supposed to have died February 3 last and to have been buried February 7, was ordered by District Attorney Cline today as the inception of an exhaustive investigation into the death.

The action was taken following rumors that Blank did not actually die or that his death was caused by poison. The grave will be opened tomorrow.

Mrs. Hannah Blank, the widow, is facing charges of obtaining money under false pretenses in information filed in criminal court and sworn to by Dr. E. S. Abbott, a Denver osteopath.

Dr. Abbott was the physician who signed the death certificate after Blank's supposed death, assigning the cause as "acute dilation of the stomach, pressure on the heart and intercostal neuralgia."

Notwithstanding the fact that Dr. Abbott declared he examined the body of Blank a short time after death and attending his funeral as a pall bearer, he expressed the belief the district attorney Cline today, the district attorney said that Blank was either poisoned or was not dead.

Dr. Cline advanced the belief that Blank rather than being dead at the time of his examination might have been in a semi-conscious condition, resembling death and that he may have been removed from his casket before burial. Evidence obtained by Coroner Bostwick however, refuted this possibility, the coroner declared today.

CITY ASKS FOR NORTH SANTIAM WATER RIGHTS

Giving as a reason that the city of Salem expects in the near future to use the watershed for a main water supply for the city of Salem, a special water committee of the Salem city council has filed with the state engineering department a protest against appropriation of water rights on the North Santiam and tributary streams, applied for by Robert J. Simpson and others of this city.

The city of Salem already has a filing on these rights, and the committee states that the cause of the contemplated utilization of these rights is the necessity of excluding their use by industries. There are three applications involved, two on the North Santiam, involving 34,698 and 29,443 horse power, respectively, and one on the Permelia and White Water creeks of 25,178 horse power, a total of 76,671 horse power.

The city council members signing the protest as a special committee are George J. Wenders, C. W. Simpson, P. H. Herrick, Paul Johnson, Hal Patton, L. J. Smoal, Damon Fiesner and E. H. Stranbenhart.

It is not known what interests are represented by Mr. Simpson.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY NO JOKE, MAN FINDS

Los Angeles, Cal., May 7.—Joseph Glenn Phebus thought it rather amusing when Mrs. Grace Moore mistook him for her husband, James W. Moore, whom she had not seen for some time, but he was more embarrassed than amused, when she had him arrested for failure to support her, and he was too busy to amuse during the two weeks it took him to prove in police court that he was indeed Judge Phebus and none other.

The case against him finally was dismissed yesterday after he had produced public records and depositions to show that he was born in Plattsmouth, Neb., went to high school there, worked in a general store there and was known both there and here as J. G. Phebus, the husband of Mrs. Phebus.

Mrs. Phebus helped by testifying she was sure he was Phebus, and officials of a street railway here contributed an afternoon showing that Phebus must have been running a street car in Los Angeles the day Mrs. Moore alleged she was married to James W. Moore in St. Louis.

Psychology Temple Project Smacks of Swindle; is Probed

Boston, May 7.—(A. P.)—Four temporary officers of the newly formed Boston chapter, International Society of Applied Psychology, were summoned before the county grand jury today for questioning regarding the so-called "on to Chapala" movement and the plan to erect here a temple of psychology at a cost of $500,000.

The Boston chapter was organized recently by Dr. Orlando Edgar Miller, a lecturer on psychology. The "on to Chapala" movement, which he advocated was said to be a plan to establish at Lake Chapala, in Mexico, a co-operative community peopled by colonists from the United States. According to the prospectus each person would contribute $1000 to enjoy the advantages of Chapala. It was said that the property had already been purchased, but that colonists would not be begun until $1,000,000 had been obtained from contributors.

The grand jury will also investigate an alleged plan for treatment of adherents by the use of a specially constructed hammock, which it was claimed, would lengthen the vertebrae and make certain a longer and happier life.

This device, it was said, was stretched between two iron uprights and when the patient was strapped in, the hammock was made to swing until the occupant "looped the loop." The information in the possession of District Attorney C. Thomas O'Brien was that a charge of $20 was made by the organization here for each hammock.

San Francisco, Cal., May 7.—The plans of Dr. Orlando Miller and his followers for the development through psychology of a race of supermen through the development of the co-operative colony at Lake Chapala in Mexico, had its origin here. Dr. Miller began the project by selling life memberships in the "founder" magazine of the Chapala co-operative university" about a year ago, hoping eventually to raise $1,000,000, of which $500,000 would be devoted to the building of the university.

The records of the state corporation commission office here show, however, that the plan to sell life memberships for $10, this amount to be allowed later on stock purchases, was brought to the attention of the commission. The plan was thereupon suspended here without a formal investigation being made and Dr. Orlando Miller fled for the east, although the legitimacy of his plan evidently had not been seriously questioned.

As announced, the plan was to develop by psychological evolution a race of men that would be enabled to carry on the work of the world by but three hours labor a day and through them to develop world leaders.

M. E. CHURCH SOUTH OPPOSED TO UNION

Minneapolis, Minn., May 7.—The present rate of voting by the conference of the Methodist Episcopal church S. 27, points to the defeat of unification of this group with the parent church, it was brought out in the discussion of the move by the board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church in session here today.

While conferences of the northern church, from which the southern wing seceded in 1844, appeared to favor unification, the vote of the remaining conferences of the southern branch must be "overwhelmingly" favorable or the project will be defeated. Bishop C. W. Burns, San Francisco, said.

INDIAN TRAPPERS LEAD SEARCH FOR CONVICTS

Colfax, Cal., May 7.—Indian trappers headed power today in a continued search for two bandits believed to be Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall, murderers, who escaped recently from San Quentin prison. The bandits held up a United States mail truck last Tuesday, abandoning it after a wild ride through mountains with officers in pursuit.

Although scores of deputy sheriffs and police have scoured the mountains, no trace of the bandits has been obtained since Tuesday.

BLOCKADE REAL SAY OBSERVERS

New York, May 7.—(A. P.)—Two observers of the New York Evening World took a seaplane trip over the scene of warfare between the coast guards and the vessels of rum row, that newspaper says today and observed approximately 20 liquor ships at anchor from 18 to 35 miles from shore.

Each of the rum boats was under close scrutiny of two 75 footers of the coast guard, which circled closer and closer to the sides of their respective wards as the newspaper plane circled overhead the observers reported.

On advice of the pilot, Arthur J. Caperton, the newspapermen had notified coast guard officials at the base office in advance of their flight, to prevent the possibility of being fired upon.

"I have been shot at several times by coast guard crews that assumed I had no business over rum row because I was not flying a government plane," the pilot said.

Some of the government boats, however, had not received word of the newspapermen's visit, for they kept close watch of the plane and scoured toward the ships they were guarding in evident apprehension that the flyers would attempt to get a message to the beleaguered rum boats, said the observers.

The World Syndicate of New York and the J. A. Scott Paper company, also of New York, filed an action jointly today against the Statesman Publishing company for $267.94, and $239.88 respectively.
