DALLAS PLANS FOR CONVENTION OF STATE GRANGE

Dallas, Or., May 8.—Preliminary plans for the entertainment of the Oregon State Grange when it convenes here June 2, 3, 4 and 5 were placed before the Dallas chamber of commerce Wednesday night at its meeting by C. L. Crider, general chairman in charge. Mr. Crider told of preparation to serve a barbecue in the city park on the evening of May 2 for the visitors.

The east, south and north entrances to the county will be marked with a banner of welcome for the grangers. Mr. Crider urged that local business houses decorate for the occasion in green and pink—the colors of the grange.

Senator I. L. Patterson of Boise spoke briefly on the flax question and explained the method of financing. He declared he was thoroughly sold on the industry and the reliability of the Dominion Linters. He stated that the flax acreage in the United States was 5900 in 1922, 5900 in 1924, and would be 15,000 in 1925. The increase this year is due largely to Henry Ford, who has secured the planting of 10,000 acres in Michigan. This flax will be utilized in his manufacturing work.

The chamber of commerce endorsed the flax mill proposition and appointed a committee to give what support may be needed in any outside committee seeking support here. E. C. J. Richey, Kenneth Hall and Lonner Ralston were named on the committee.

Oscar Hayter spoke on the proposed road program of the county-wide committee of community clubs and stated that any action could be only advisory and that the county court alone has the power to establish a road program.

Polk county, with no road bonds and a comparatively light warrant indebtedness, is particularly fortunate as compared with other counties. Mr. Hayter stated, but a method must be devised to finance any considerable road program. He advocated the voting of a reasonable road tax to carry out an all-county program. The suggestion met with hearty approval.

C. L. Crider announced that 49 business firms in the city had pledged their support to the Southern Pacific and that the officials of the company were highly appreciative.

Mr. Crider also reported that sentiment for a Fourth of July celebration is lacking and that none will be attempted this year.

The matter of securing reduced irrigation rates for the city in general and for the court house lawn was discussed and correspondence with H. V. Gates, owner of the water company, was read. Mr. Gates refused to open the matter of rates so far as irrigation was concerned, declaring that they compared favorably with other cities, and that irrigation water could be secured only at a loss to the company during the months of low supply. In the discussion several members voiced the opinion that the city should take over the water system.

BLAST MISSES AUTO PARTY BY BUT FEW INCHES

Dallas, May 8.—At least four Polk county residents are in a receptive frame of mind for accident insurance salesman this week following one of those lucky-unlucky accidents Tuesday that left them unhurt after apparently gaining over the edge of eternity for a long moment.

The party was driving up a hill in the Pioneer district west of Dallas when a woman member noticed a man waving at them from the hillside. She called to her husband to stop the car as some one wished to see them.

As the big machine came to a stop with the squeak of brakes, a terrific blast rocked the earth and a dynamited stump shot skyward just over the fence from them. Chalk, rubble, chips, and rocks rained down upon the car but the hurtling stump fortunately went the other way.

The white faced farmer, whose frantic warning signals had been mistaken for a friendly salutation, came down to find the victims very much alive and ready to tell him about it.

The prospects were Mr. and Mrs. William Dawes, and her mother, of Independence and Deputy Sheriff W. Senter of Dallas.

FIGHTERS WAIT CLANG OF GONG

Local fight fans are taking exceptional interest in the boxing card at the armory tonight and from all indications the armory will see the biggest crowd since the lights started. Words of Spokane who fights Frankie Lewis of Salem in the ten-round main event has quite a reputation as a slugger and Lewis will have to extend himself to get the best of the bout.

The fighters have been working hard for the battles and are in the best of shape. Both of the principals are hoping to get a quick decision and the fans are very likely to see what they want, namely a slugger match. Lewis also carries a wicked wallop in his left as the fans already know.

Slow York of Eugene will mix things in the six round semi-wind-up, when he clashes with Harold Reese of Portland. Reese is a clever boy as he demonstrated at the last meet. York is not as slow as his name would indicate and he will give Reese plenty of action before the bout terminates. Two snappy preliminaries have been scheduled to complete the card.

Tonight's bouts start promptly at 8:30.

FIVE TEACHERS QUIT AT DALLAS

Dallas, May 8.—Contracts from three members of the high school faculty and two members of the grade teaching staff have not been received back by May 1, and it is probable that these will mean vacancies to be filled by selection of new teachers according to Tracy State, district clerk. All other instructors have returned their contracts signed.

The contracts not yet received in the high school are those of William Hanna, John G. McPherson and Paul H. Schneider. It is possible that Mr. Hanna may yet sign a contract as some rearrangement of schedules is underway that may make it more satisfactory to him.

Mrs. Moore plans on moving away from Dallas and Miss Prestand will return to her home in Montana to stay. Miss Genevieve Coak has been granted a year's leave of absence to complete her course at the Oregon Normal school. No election has been made to fill the vacancies.
