Salem to Observe Mother's Day

Mother's day, the one day out of the entire year that is set aside in reverence to the mothers of the nation, will be fittingly celebrated in Salem homes tomorrow. Probably no more beautiful sentiment exists than that which prompts the observance of Mother's day, and those fortunate enough to be able to celebrate the day with "mother" herself are planning surprises and pleasures that will make the day outstanding for "her."

Many Salem mothers are welcoming errand sons and daughters tonight and tomorrow. Other mothers are leaving town to spend the day with some of their daughters away at school or in homes of their own. Altogether this promise to be week end of quiet rejoicing.

Similar to last week this one has been remarkably full of brilliant social affairs. One of the most beautiful teas of the entire season was given on Wednesday when Mrs. Louis Lachmann entertained in honor of Mrs. George E. Dorcas. A number of the most prominent bridge, five hundred, and social clubs on Salem's social calendar have met during this week and a number of smaller informal luncheons, teas and dinners have been given for out of town guests.

Club women are always interested in the activities of the Salem Woman's club and today's meeting is the most interesting of the entire year for it is today that officers for the coming year will be chosen. There are whispers of interesting developments in the elections.

Fewer week end parties at the beach are being planned than usual because of the wide interest in the tri-city golf tournament on the Ilwaco course tomorrow. A number of the Eugene and Corvallis players will bring their families and several informal affairs are being planned for the entertainment of the visiting matrons.

Interest in the week which opens tomorrow is centered largely in the tea on Wednesday with Mrs. William H. Stensloff and Mrs. Frederick H. Stensloff hostesses to several hundred Salem matrons and maids.

Mrs. F. V. Brown was a charming hostess yesterday when she entertained at a one o'clock luncheon at the Spa. Pink and lavender map dragons in an attractive art basket centered the table with covers laid for Mrs. Huch Black of Dallas, Mrs. W. A. Mullen, Mrs. Carl Webb, Mrs. Frank G. Myers, Mrs. T. E. Galloway, Mrs. Oliver Myers, Mrs. Walter Kirk, Mrs. L. S. Geer, Miss Zoe Stockton and the hostesses. Mrs. Brown, yellow canisters and yellow nut cups completed a novel color effect. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Brown entertained her guests in her home.

Mrs. Edward Gillingham has returned from a visit of several days with Portland friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Caughill will spend the week end in Eugene with their son, John, at the Beta Theta Pi house on the university campus.

Judge and Mrs. Henry J. Bean will return tomorrow from a week's visit in Peaslee with their son, Hawley Bean.

The first of a series of three bridge parties which Mrs. William McGilchrist is planning was given yesterday when she entertained five tables in her home. On Monday Mrs. McGilchrist will be hostess to another group of Salem matrons and late in the week or early in the following week she will entertain at the third of the series.

A mother's day program will be given in the W. O. W. hall tomorrow afternoon beginning at 2:30 when the members of the Eagle lodge will entertain for their mothers.

Program numbers will be as follows: Vocal solo, "The Song My Mother Used to Sing," S. N. Willett; Leslie H. Springer, "The Old Refrain" by Kreisler; H. T. Gwynn, "Wonderful Mother of Mine"; Mrs. Guy W. Wright, "Mother of Mine"; Mrs. G. W. Chapman, "Over the Hills to the Poor House"; an address by C. D. Chambers; "My Mother's Prayer," by F. L. Carmell, and Mrs. Frank Turner, "The Little Gray Sweetheart of Mine."

A number of Salem mothers are planning to spend the week end at the O. A. C. campers at Corvallis. Mrs. W. W. Moore is spending several days with her daughter, Margaret, at Waldo hall. Mrs. Cora Reid is a guest at Margaret Small hall of her daughter, Miss Rita Reid. Mrs. W. W. Moore is at the Alpha Chi Omega house with her daughter, Lucille. Mrs. Anna Robbins is a visitor at the Alpha Xi Delta home and a special guest of her daughter, Miss Blanche Robbins, and Mrs. M. C. Robinson is visiting on the campus with her daughter, Miss Odie Matthews. Mrs. Henry Bell is the guest of her granddaughter, Miss Thelma Young.

Mrs. William Hinz and daughter, Miss Genevieve Hinz, are spending the week end in Portland with relatives and friends.

Miss Helen Smith will leave today to spend a week with relatives and friends in Roseburg.

Sororities Entertain Many Guests

The sorority houses on the Willamette university campus are entertaining as their house guests over the week end a number of girls who plan to enter college in the fall as well as a number of mothers who have come to spend the morrow with their college daughters. The full schedule of campus events permits very little time for entertaining within the houses. Delta Phi honored Miss Lucia Card, the May Queen, and her two attendants, Miss Jennelle Vandevort and Miss Elizabeth McClure, at breakfast at the chapter house yesterday; Alpha Phi Alpha Juniors were hostesses at a luncheon for the seniors of the house yesterday. Tomorrow Beta Phi will give an early morning breakfast for their guests, town and house members. It is expected that there will be more than sixty girls in the group.

High scores of the evening were won by Mr. and Mrs. James Teed. Consolation awards went to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse George.

SEEING IS BELIEVING

You wonder what your spine has to do with that bronchitis from which you are suffering. When the Neuro-calometer is applied to your spine and registers a certain degree of pressure, you can see there is something wrong. The chiropractor gives you an adjustment, using nothing but his bare hands and the Neuro-calometer is again applied to your spine. To your surprise the needle registers several degrees less, possibly zero, and you say at once "That chiropractor surely knows his business." Seeing is believing.
