

LOCALS

Arrests made for speeding during the week-end were: George Koob, Portland; C. Higwood, 492 South High street, F. Waldorf, 1305 North 16th, Albert Smith, Salem; George A. Rhoten, 1555 South High, Russell G. Brooks, Portland; Carol A. Fryer, Portland; E. K. Hunter, Wallawa.

Love line Jeweler, Salem.

Clarence Lipert, a transient, was arrested Sunday night and is held for investigation.

B. May of San Francisco has opened a dress making and remodeling establishment at 200 Breyman bldg. over Director's store.

T. J. Hill & Son have received a permit from City Recorder Paulsen for the construction of a one-story store building at 125 State street to cost $4,500. W. J. Williams has received a permit for the construction of a one-story store at 1950 North 12th street, to cost $3,000.

Better goods for the same money, we give you better goods and it costs you no more. Why bake your bread around a hot oven. Large loaves Bake-Rite bread 15c, 2 for 25c. Small double loaves, one white, one graham, or both white 2 for 15c. Bake-Rite bakery, 120 1/2 Pioneer church, near Gervais, will observe Memorial day with exercises Saturday afternoon, May 30, at 2:30 o'clock. It has announced that the principal speaker for the occasion will be selected from among the speakers at Salem.

Terwilliger undertaker phone 724.

Plans for the coming school year were inaugurated at a meeting of Marion county school principals at a meeting at the Gray Belle in Salem Saturday night. Tentative date for the county high school track meet, which has become an annual event, was set at the last Saturday in May, with the grammar school meet a week earlier. Date for a county declamation was set for the third Friday in January. A plan for dividing schools into classes on the basis of the number of rooms in the school was adopted. The different events will be held at as many different parts of the county as possible.

Dr. Goffrier, druggist, Ore. 0436 123.

The next regular meeting of the Polk-Yamhill-Marion Medical society will be held at the Gray Belle in Salem on Tuesday afternoon, May 19. A paper entitled "Differential Diagnosis of Tuberculosis," will be read by Dr. Marshall of Portland. The paper will be accompanied by the use of slides. A discussion will be opened by Dr. L. A. Bollman of Dallas. A second paper, "Treatment of Tuberculosis in General Practice," will be given by Dr. Charles H. Rogers of Portland, and the discussion opened by Dr. J. S. Saurman of Salem.

Flyer alarm clocks, guaranteed for one year, 85c, at Schaefer's drug store, 125 N. Com'l St. phone 197.

A five cent piece was removed from the throat of Dorothy Holmes, age three years, by a local doctor Saturday, after she had been rushed here from Dallas, where she accidentally swallowed the coin. The girl is the daughter of Oscar Holmes of Dallas.

Two Perry's at O. A. C. The Kenneth S. Perry, O. A. C. student, arrested on Saturday night for possession of liquor, is NOT Kenneth C. Perry, pharmacy student at O. A. C. and son of J. C. Perry, druggist of Salem. 118 1/2

Prior to the state fair to September at boys and girls club building to cost $10,000 will be erected on the fair grounds. This was announced some time ago by the state fair board, and further plans were made at a meeting of the fair board here Saturday. The money for the building was appropriated by the 1925 session of the legislature.

Platn and fringed auto robes on sale at Theo. Kay Woolen Mill Co. $7 to $25.50. 118 1/2

Governor Brown today received a telegram from the secretary of the Navy stating that instructions have been issued to the commander of the battle fleet now in the Pacific to detain the submarine tender Savannah and submarine division No. 11, comprising sub-

Hotel Bligh Arrivals

Portland, J. R. Shepard, A. W. Johnston, John C. Cochran, J. J. Parnell, Dr. D. M. Field, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Richards, Mrs. L. Bragg, Mrs. C. Santore, W. Trager, F. B. Ivins, Harold M. Brown, J. Evans, Salem, Herbert Ward, Stephen A. Stone and sons, A. H. Drake, E. L. Lanzer, The Ladies, Cal Stewart, Corvatis, Mrs. Frances Whitmore, Cecil V. Redden, Miss Ethel McKinzie, Valsetta, C. E. Watts, H. Stephens, J. Wearrier, Peter Sarna, Mike Satali, Ed. Weger, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Rogers, B. C. Gibson, Earl Forman, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine S. Crowell, Marshall, J. B. King, D. G. Cameron, O. T. Seltano, Frank H. Somers, Canby, Curtis Winters, Aberdeen, Wm. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cornedy, Tacoma, Mr. and Mrs. C. Clark, Miss Babe Hunter, Miss Mildred Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Ewert, Miss Tully De Veau, Miss Vera Tommowski, Miss Home Fehr, Fred Grant, Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan S. Harris, Miss Stella Howard, A. W. Johnston, Oakland, Cal. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Woodruff, Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. O'Neil, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walker, William Dingle, Ivan G. Searor, B. T. Walker, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Fuller, Miss Ethel De Lyle, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wainwright, New York, William Smith,

RIVER STEAMER TO BE SOLD HERE ON WEDNESDAY

After being tied up in illness at Salem for so long that most people had forgotten its existence, the steamer Relief is to be put up for public auction Wednesday morning, May 20, it was announced today. The auction is to satisfy a judgment amounting to some $2300, awarded to the insurance company, said to be connected with Loyds of London, which came as a result of a suit brought by the company to collect for expenses involved in raising the boat and repairing it, after it had been allowed by its owners to sink last December. It sank during the time of the extreme cold, when the Willamette river was frozen from bank to bank.

The insurance company had the boat raised from the bottom, patched a hole which had been pierced in its side and tied it up in the Willamette slough to the property belonging to the Spaulding Logging company. It has been lying there ever since, and since February has been under the protection of a federal guard. The sinking occurred at the foot of Court street.

As soon as the sinking took place demand was made on the insurance company for $20,000, the amount for which the boat was insured, although it was agreed by rivermen that the sum was far in excess of the actual value of the boat. Instead of paying the money, however, the company brought suit, not only to avoid payment, but to collect payment for the money expended in raising and repairing the Relief. The company alleged that the boat had been deliberately allowed to sink.

Judgment was awarded to the company some three months ago, and Wednesday's auction is to satisfy the judgment. It is expected that Harry Reed of Portland, chief deputy marshal, will be in Salem to take charge of the sale.

Ben Maida, K. Ito, and K. Kurashima, Japanese residents of Sacramento, were arrested here Saturday night on a charge of possession and transportation of liquor and arms in the city jail. Maida was also arrested for reckless driving.

Gale Seaman, Pacific coast secretary of the Y. M. C. A., addressed the Willamette student body at the regular university chapel at four this morning. He declared in his speech that race prejudice is the greatest error existing in the world today, and that one function of religious organizations is to reduce the prejudices between races. Mr. Seaman's headquarters are in San Francisco.

Mrs. Howard Stephens of Anity was a Salem visitor this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Q. M. Wasson were in Salem today. They are residents of Mill City.

Mrs. A. G. Walker of Sheridan was Salem visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Orin Paul of Detroit were in this city Saturday.

The Willamette university track team was defeated 31 to 48 in a dual meet held with Pacific university at Forest Grove Saturday afternoon. The meet was held in the rain, on a wet track and field.

Mrs. Richard C. Hazelton of this city returned to her home today. She has been for the past 19 days staying at a local hospital, following a major operation.

Harold Withrow of Monmouth, who has been confined to one of the hospitals at Salem for the past three weeks, following an accident which resulted in a fractured hip, returned home Sunday.

Miss A. Kirsch, a Salem nurse, went to Astoria today to attend the high school graduation exercises there.

The appeal of C. C. Chapman from the ballot title prepared by Attorney General Van Winkle in the tobacco tax referendum is being argued today before Judge L. H. McArthur. The argument began in the forenoon and is being continued this afternoon.

Ben Maida, K. Ito and K. Kurashima, three Japanese from Sacramento, who were arrested here Sunday for possession and transportation of liquor, were released today upon furnishing bail of $100 each.

An order has been entered in circuit court by Judge Kelly renewing a judgment granted in the Falls City Lumber company against W. S. Mott.

Mrs. T. B. Kay, wife of State Treasurer Kay, who has been critically ill, and in a hospital in Portland for the last three weeks, is much improved. Mr. Kay said today. Hope is entertained that she will return to her home in Salem in a short time.

Petitions for the paving of three streets were received today by City Recorder Paulsen, signed by taxpayers, and will be before the city council tonight. They cover the proposed improvement of Willamette street from Commercial to son street, from 16th to 17th, John A. street from 16th to 17th and 16th street from A to B.

K. Kawata, a Japanese, was fined $25 and costs by Justice of the Peace Small today for failing to obtain a license. He was arrested Sunday by Game Warden Henry Stevenson for fishing in Deep lake.

Russell Crossan and John Marshall were arrested last night for being drunk. Crossan was fined $20 and Marshall $10 in police court today. Orville Fritz was fined $10 for the same offense today. Sid Brown was arrested Saturday night for being drunk and for the possession of liquor.

E. K. Hunter of Wallawa, and Kenneth S. Perry of Klamath Falls said to be students at Oregon agricultural college, were arrested for possession and transportation of liquor. Brownell, Hunter and Perry were all released to appear Tuesday. Perry is not related to the Salem family of the same name.

A. J. Jensen of Anity was in Salem today.

Funerals

Funeral services for Louise Abraham were held this morning at 10 o'clock from the Rigdon mortuary.

BE CAREFUL

WORK STARTED ON NEW THEATER

Actual work toward the new Guthrie theater began this morning with the tearing down of the livery stable and other buildings at the present site opposite the new Salem hotel on High street. The buildings will be razed to the ground as rapidly as possible, and work of construction on the theater will begin within a few weeks.

Detailed plans have not been entirely completed, and will probably be done shortly after the time the ground is made ready for use.

The new theater, which will be the largest in the state outside of Portland, will be ready for use during the fall season.

Manila, P. I.—Captain John Bradshaw of the steamship Helgoland, which is carrying some 100 excursionists around the world, recalled his previous visit to the Philippines 36 years ago, when he tied up his big ship here recently to what he said was one of the finest ports in the world.

Died

HAYTER—Theodosia Hayter died at a local hospital on May 15 at the age of 64 years. Her remains are at Webb's funeral parlors. Funeral announcement later.

Funerals

Funeral services for Louise Abraham were held this morning at 10 o'clock from the Rigdon mortuary.

Five miles east of Salem.

UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE STATE CASES

(Continued from page one)

those assigned to it by the board, including the offering of courses of advanced and semi-graduate character in fundamental subjects and by practically organizing a college of basic arts under dean. It was also charged that the college by establishing non-technical majors had taken the most important steps in becoming a second state university.

O. A. C. Defends Work.

The college in its brief, filed with the board last Saturday, specifically denies any intention of trying to become a second state university, but declares that the courses as developed "are necessary and basic to modern work in high technology which is the field of the Oregon Agricultural college."

Replying to the university's charge that in the field of business administration the college duplicates all the work of professional schools, the brief of the university declared that the undergraduate school in commerce is far more advantageously located in a school of higher technology than it would be a liberal university.

The university's brief declared that the college had recently included in its educational course an array of studies of value chiefly to non-vocational teachers and to educational administrators. The college replied to this by stating that it aims to prepare students for teaching in high schools, and that the great number of the schools cannot afford to hire a teacher to handle agricultural or economic or manual training alone. Consequently it is necessary for students, who expect to teach to those various cultural and non-technical subjects. "The university implies," said the college brief, "that a man trained in agriculture, for example, cannot rise to the position of administrator of a rural high school, and therefore should have no training provided for such a position."

Charges by the university against the college's department of journalism are answered in effect by saying that technical writers require the training which they receive at the college in their field.

The university's charge that the college's school of music had been greatly expanded beyond the limits set by the settlement of 1913-14, is answered by the declaration that the music school at the college had been self-supporting and has rendered valuable service not only to the college, but to the community.

The brief of Oregon Agricultural college takes several flings at the university's brief, including this statement:

"With all the sublime assurance, wisdom and authority of 18th century classical training, the brief lays down for you gentlemen the exact quality and quantity of economics, sociology, government, history, language, literature, music and physical training which may safely and advantageously be entrusted to the rank and file of students attending the Oregon Agricultural college. Let them be taught agricultural economics, they say in effect, but cut out their public finance. Questions of taxation and expenditures of public funds are not for common farmers or farm leaders. Give them the marketing of farm products, they tell you but take away those courses on transportation concentration in monopoly in business, and the business cycle. Why should the farmer attempt to understand the reason that it frequently costs more to transport a box of apples to the point of consumption than he receives for it net?"

The college's brief charges the university's brief furnishes imaginary evidence supported by misleading quotations.

"Almost every page" it contends "contains errors of fact."

Dr. Smith, Joseph E. Hodges, secretary, Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, A. G. Beals of Tillamook and Charles Brandt of Roseburg are members of the board of higher curricula.

Under the new ruling the university was confined to Dr. Sheldon's statement, which rested on the brief filed last week.

Dr. Sheldon was followed by Hector MacPherson, spokesman for Oregon Agricultural college, whose talk took up the remainder of the forenoon session until noon adjournment.

Colin Dymont, dean of the college of science and arts at the University of Oregon, announced prior to MacPherson's talk that he and Dean M. E. Smith of the school of basic arts and sciences in the agricultural college, had reached an understanding on some of the points contained in the University of Oregon protest which was filed last week, and that they will file recommendations embodying those understandings in the future.

History, modern languages and English and an agreement as to future requests for bachelor degrees from the school of basic arts and sciences, are covered in the understanding and recommendations between Dymont and Smith. Details of this understanding were withheld by them pending filing of their statement with the board.

Scope Not Challenged.

Dr. Sheldon in his presentation declared that the university is in no sense challenging the larger proportion of the work in the college, and that the demands in the brief do not touch the fundamental courses that have been assigned to the college under the board's ruling of 1913.

He asserted, however, that there is apparently a tendency on the part of the college to extend under the guise of permissible "service courses" until its activities duplicate those of the university.

"The outcome of this," he said, "will be that we will slowly but surely build up two state universities in two adjacent counties, with no difference in their services to the state excepting that one of them will have a monopoly of certain technical courses."

"If both institutions spread out this over the whole field of activity, instead of adhering to the lines of demarcation laid down by the board of higher curricula in 1913, instead of having one series of distinguished courses covering the full fields of education, we shall have two parallel series, both of which will be impaired in efficiency."

He held that the college is fully protected by the 1913 ruling in giving graduate work in its own lines, but that the graduate school itself with the principal elements of advanced work, was assigned to the university.

"It is in the graduate school that duplication is most expensive and the injury done to the state the most severe."

"Our whole contention rests upon the ruling that the board has already handed down, and in the interpretation of which the college has shown a tendency to take an inch here and an inch there, until the effect begins to threaten the efficiency of higher education in the state."

MacPherson in his talk declared that of the proposals made in the brief of the university, many are almost specific to admit the accurate answer.

He spoke of the university as having shown "audacity" in presuming to dictate to the board of higher curricula.

Under the new ruling the university was confined to Dr. Sheldon's statement, which rested on the brief filed last week.

Dr. Sheldon was followed by Hector MacPherson, spokesman for Oregon Agricultural college, whose talk took up the remainder of the forenoon session until noon adjournment.

Colin Dymont, dean of the college of science and arts at the University of Oregon, announced prior to MacPherson's talk that he and Dean M. E. Smith of the school of basic arts and sciences in the agricultural college, had reached an understanding on some of the points contained in the University of Oregon protest which was filed last week, and that they will file recommendations embodying those understandings in the future.

History, modern languages and English and an agreement as to future requests for bachelor degrees from the school of basic arts and sciences, are covered in the understanding and recommendations between Dymont and Smith. Details of this understanding were withheld by them pending filing of their statement with the board.

Scope Not Challenged.

Dr. Sheldon in his presentation declared that the university is in no sense challenging the larger proportion of the work in the college, and that the demands in the brief do not touch the fundamental courses that have been assigned to the college under the board's ruling of 1913.

He asserted, however, that there is apparently a tendency on the part of the college to extend under the guise of permissible "service courses" until its activities duplicate those of the university.

"The outcome of this," he said, "will be that we will slowly but surely build up two state universities in two adjacent counties, with no difference in their services to the state excepting that one of them will have a monopoly of certain technical courses."

"If both institutions spread out this over the whole field of activity, instead of adhering to the lines of demarcation laid down by the board of higher curricula in 1913, instead of having one series of distinguished courses covering the full fields of education, we shall have two parallel series, both of which will be impaired in efficiency."

He held that the college is fully protected by the 1913 ruling in giving graduate work in its own lines, but that the graduate school itself with the principal elements of advanced work, was assigned to the university.

"It is in the graduate school that duplication is most expensive and the injury done to the state the most severe."

"Our whole contention rests upon the ruling that the board has already handed down, and in the interpretation of which the college has shown a tendency to take an inch here and an inch there, until the effect begins to threaten the efficiency of higher education in the state."

MacPherson in his talk declared that of the proposals made in the brief of the university, many are almost specific to admit the accurate answer.

He spoke of the university as having shown "audacity" in presuming to dictate to the board of higher curricula.

Under the new ruling the university was confined to Dr. Sheldon's statement, which rested on the brief filed last week.

Dr. Sheldon was followed by Hector MacPherson, spokesman for Oregon Agricultural college, whose talk took up the remainder of the forenoon session until noon adjournment.

Colin Dymont, dean of the college of science and arts at the University of Oregon, announced prior to MacPherson's talk that he and Dean M. E. Smith of the school of basic arts and sciences in the agricultural college, had reached an understanding on some of the points contained in the University of Oregon protest which was filed last week, and that they will file recommendations embodying those understandings in the future.

History, modern languages and English and an agreement as to future requests for bachelor degrees from the school of basic arts and sciences, are covered in the understanding and recommendations between Dymont and Smith. Details of this understanding were withheld by them pending filing of their statement with the board.

Scope Not Challenged.

Dr. Sheldon in his presentation declared that the university is in no sense challenging the larger proportion of the work in the college, and that the demands in the brief do not touch the fundamental courses that have been assigned to the college under the board's ruling of 1913.

He asserted, however, that there is apparently a tendency on the part of the college to extend under the guise of permissible "service courses" until its activities duplicate those of the university.

"The outcome of this," he said, "will be that we will slowly but surely build up two state universities in two adjacent counties, with no difference in their services to the state excepting that one of them will have a monopoly of certain technical courses."

"If both institutions spread out this over the whole field of activity, instead of adhering to the lines of demarcation laid down by the board of higher curricula in 1913, instead of having one series of distinguished courses covering the full fields of education, we shall have two parallel series, both of which will be impaired in efficiency."

He held that the college is fully protected by the 1913 ruling in giving graduate work in its own lines, but that the graduate school itself with the principal elements of advanced work, was assigned to the university.

"It is in the graduate school that duplication is most expensive and the injury done to the state the most severe."

"Our whole contention rests upon the ruling that the board has already handed down, and in the interpretation of which the college has shown a tendency to take an inch here and an inch there, until the effect begins to threaten the efficiency of higher education in the state."

STUDENTS SEEK TO RULE NUNN OUT

Taking their cue from J. J. Nunn, who saw the Willamette May dances on May 8 and was greatly enraged and shocked thereat, the students of Willamette university this afternoon began circulating a petition of their own, expressing the hope that in future no such individuals will be a part of Willamette audiences. It was intimated that the petitions might be circulated among Salemites not on the campus.

The petition reads as follows: "Whereas in the past audiences at Willamette May day festivities have been of a high moral character and high ideals, and whereas, at the recent festival certain individuals were in attendance who it seems do not have these high ideals and saw reflected in the program products of their own minds, and by a series of mediocre pronouncements."

He criticized the course in domestic science in the University of Oregon as a "paper course" and suggested its investigation by the board.

Following submission of arguments by officials of the two institutions, the lengthy briefs which they have filed will be studied by the board. There is little likelihood of an immediate decision.

In brief the requests of the university follow:

Prohibition of the college offering majors in economics, sociology, political science, finance, history, English language, literature, foreign languages, restriction or elimination of courses in money and banking, public finance, management, practical legislation, comparative government, short story, the drama, Shakespeare, music and many others.

In its reply the college asks that the university pay for coaching in intercollegiate athletics from other than state funds, as the college has been doing, and that the university put its school of music on a self-supporting basis, as the college has maintained its school of music. The college also contends that the university would attempt to confine the farmer, homemaker, engineer and forester to a lower class, by restricting them from obtaining cultural courses.

At the Theatres Today

OREGON NORMA TALMADGE in "THE LADY"

LIBERTY BUCK JONES in "GOLD AND THE GIRL"

GRAND "THE MIDNIGHT EXPRESS" Starring ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN

2 NIGHTS 2 CLARK FISHER MUSICAL COMEDY

The Bright Snappy Musical Girl Show Starts Tonight

BLIGH THEATRE

MANEUVERS OF GRAND FLEET ARE CONTINUED

Lahaina, Island of Maui, May 18.—(A. P.)—The grand fleet of the United States was reported to steam out today for five more days of maneuvers in Hawaiian waters.

This new series of maneuvers includes torpedo practice, both defensive and offensive, various teaming formations and shifts, such as changing complicated formations into others as highly intricate. High speed runs will take place.

CRASH!

A Broken Lens.

Bring us the pieces and we will make a new one.

Optical repairs of all kinds in the shortest possible time.

Staples Optical Co. Maconic Bldg. Portland-Salem, Oregon

WOODRY

Buys Furniture

Phone 511

The Great Majestic

The Range with a Reputation

Be Sure to Buy This Week to Get BIG FREE PREMIUM OFFER

While our Factory Demonstration is on This Week Only, we are giving without cost to every purchaser of a Majestic Range, a beautiful Polished Solid Copper Set, or if you prefer, a Set of Special Majestic Ware. There is still time for you to visit our store before this remarkable offer expires. Whether you buy or not you will be welcome. Don't fail to come!

Own A Majestic Now

Don't wait another day! Realize right now your ambition to have a new model Majestic for your very own. Just come to our store, select the style and size range that you prefer and this beautiful range and exquisite copper set are yours. Ask us about a trade-in of your old range and the special allowances we will make on it this week toward a New Majestic.

You Will Never Regret

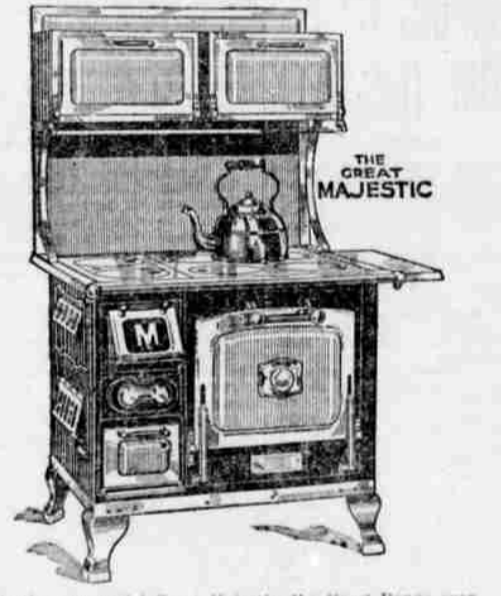

Not once during the many, many years that your new Majestic will serve you, will you ever regret having bought it. Day after day, season after season it will go on cooking perfect meals with lighter work on your part; supplying abundant hot water whenever you want it; saving fuel and repairs; keeping its bright beauty with little effort on your part; giving complete satisfaction in every way; contributing to the health and happiness of your household.

Don't Miss This Opportunity

Come and bring friends with you. It will be interesting to hear the factory representative explain the numerous advantages of the wonderful New Majestic. You will be delighted to inspect the range and the beautiful Copper Ware. A visit will positively not obligate you to buy. But be sure to come THIS WEEK.

GEO. E. ALLEN

236 North Commercial Street

Here is the new model Great Majestic, the finest Range ever built. Uses less fuel yet cooks perfectly. All copper reservoir gives abundant hot water all the time without extra fuel. Burnished blue polished top requires little work. Beautiful throughout with heavy Nickle-plated doors and splash-resistant panel in White, Gray or Blue Enamel if desired. Has rustless floor rest; large warming closets; open end ash pan, and oven door that will support any weight placed on it.

FREE THIS WEEK ONLY

We will give this beautiful set of Polished Solid Copper Ware absolutely without cost if you decide to buy your GREAT MAJESTIC RANGE during this exhibit week; or, if you prefer, we will give you a wonderful serviceable set of Majestic Enamel and Copper Cooking Ware.