PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD OPPOSES DUPLICATE LINE

The attitude of the Oregon public service commission toward recent developments in the central Oregon railroad situation was made known Saturday when the commission filed an answer to the recent petition of the Oregon Trunk for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the extension of its line from Bend to Klamath Falls.

The answer was prepared by William P. Ellis and J. M. Devers, attorneys for the commission. It emphasizes the need of additional rail service but strongly urges that it be affordea without necessary duplication of investment. In particular attention is cited to the fact that under the Oregon Trunk's proposed plan tis trackage would run parallel to the Southern Pacific line for 80 miles, from a junction point near Odell or Skookum to Klamath Falls. It is asserted in the answer that identical service could be given at a saving of over $3,500,000 by arrangements for joint use of the Southern Pacific tracks between these points. The answer urges that while the interests of the Klamath Falls territory demand the added and competitive service of the Oregon Trunk, authorization for the construction of the duplicate parallel track should not be given unless it can be shown that arrangements for joint use of existing track cannot be made. The Oregon commission makes clear its desire that the state be provided with an adequate transportation system without unnecessary duplication of trackage or expenditure, such as occurred when the Hill and Harriman interests built in Deschutes canyon.

ANNUAL PIONEER MEET POSTPONED

Because of a conflict in dates with the Rose Festival of Portland, the 53rd annual reunion of the Oregon Pioneer association has been postponed from June 18 until July 1.

All persons who came to or were born in the original territory of Oregon before or during the year 1859 are eligible to membership in the organization. The original Oregon territory included what is now Oregon, Washington, Idaho and parts of Montana and Wyoming. By recent action of the association all who were born in or who came to the Pacific coast before or during that year may become members upon application.

The meeting on July 1 will be held at the public auditorium in Portland under the direction of Grand Marshal Ivan Humason and his aides.

Programs, held in the afternoon and the evening, will include music, speeches, adoption of resolutions, and election of officers for another year. Mayor Baker of Portland will give the address of welcome.

FINGERPRINTS OF EVERYONE IS MURRAY'S IDEA

"I believe it is only a matter of time until finger prints will be kept on file of everyone in the country over 16 years of age," said Joe Murray, finger print expert, who has been connected with the Oregon state penitentiary for the past 14 years. Mr. Murray advocated keeping a record of each individual's birth with his finger print, and a history of the outstanding events of his life, such as marriage, birth of children, and date of his death.

Finger prints do not change from the time of birth until the time of death, Murray stated. The only reason for waiting until the age of 16 is to take prints is the fact that it is hard to get good prints of younger children because their hands are small and they do not hold them steady while the print is being taken, he indicated.

Out of millions of finger prints that have been taken and placed on file no two have ever been found alike. "Nature never repeats herself," said Murray. The print on an individual's finger indicates nothing of his characteristics, mental, moral or racial, according to the speaker. Finger print similarities can be inherited, however.

The Bertillon system of identification, which inverves measurements of various parts of the body, has been largely discarded, Murray stated, because of the fact that it is more difficult to use and individuals cannot be classified so readily under the Bertillon system. Finger prints are classified so exactly that one can be found in a file of 100,000 in two minutes. Users of the system pay no attention to a man's name or his photograph.

"Under our present system a man has just one chance in ten of getting away and staying away," said Murray. He cited the case of Oregon Jones and several other outstanding cases of criminals traced and brought back to the penitentiary here through the use of the finger print method.

San Francisco, Cal., May 25.—The conviction and sentence of Fred T. Merrill, who was accused of violation of the Volstead act in connection with the operation of a road house near Portland, Oregon, was affirmed today by the United States circuit court.

SAYS PATRIOTS ARE RIDICULED

Declaring that propaganda is holding up to ridicule the work of American patriots, William F. Coffin urged that a local committee be appointed to investigate texts, in address before a large crowd at the Salem chamber of commerce auditorium Saturday night. A great danger is arising in the United States due to the fact that fun is poked at the patriotic deeds of early Americans, he declared.

Nathan Hale's statement, "I regret that I have only one life to give for my country," and Captain Lawrence's words "Don't give up the ship," were among the phrases cited by the speaker.

Mr. Coffin is head of the Sons of Veterans, an organization of descendants of Civil War veterans, and is making a tour of the Pacific coast. He spent yesterday in Portland and was to continue his tour north this week.

ECCENTRIC LEAVES BIG SUM

Los Angeles, Cal., May 25.—In a copyrighted story to be published by the Los Angeles Examiner today, George W. Hazeltine, aged eccentric who died in a little shack, just north of the business district here last March after years collecting tin cans, match boxes and other rubbish, is revealed as the late possessor of a half million dollar estate. If the old man's will stands, his two attorneys, Dell A. Schweitzer and Frank S. Hutton will receive the bulk of the fortune, however, the story continues, a grand niece of the aged man has appeared on the scene and her attorneys, who declare she is Hazeltine's sole surviving relative.

Wolves Defeat Cons.

The Salem Wolves, under the management of "Frisco" Edwards, manager of the Salem Senators, defeated the penitentiary baseball team on the prison grounds by a score of 13 to 7. The prisoners went up in the air in the first inning and failed to come down for the rest of the game. As far as a scientific exhibition it was a failure but the game was a wonder as a comedy and the spectators had enjoyable afternoon.

River Rats Win.

In one of the fastest games yet played in the junior twilight league series the River Rats defeated the Field Mice on the high school grounds Saturday afternoon by a score of 13 to 12. The game required ten innings to decide the winner. The game was nip and tuck with much crabbing on both sides. The Oregon Journal nine is going a fast clip and it is almost a cinch that they will win the championship honors as there are only two more games to be played.

Batteries for the game Saturday —River Rats, Lennon and Gloss, Heath, Benner and Roberts.

Kay Places Second.

Erecel Kay won the golf bag given by Al Krause for the second place honors for the best score on the Illahee Country club course. Rex Sanford won the silver loving cup given by Al Krause for the first place honors. The matches were hard fought and two tie games resulted for the right to meet Sanford in the finals. The cup has been engraved.

Hillsboro Loses 8 to 7.

Reports on the Hillsboro-Luckenbach ship company baseball game which state the score as 6 to 2 in favor of Hillsboro are wrong according to a late announcement this afternoon. It was at first reported as 6 to 2 in favor of Hillsboro. Luckenbach won the game from Hillsboro by a score of 8 to 7. This gives the shipbuilders two wins and three defeats for a percentage of 400 instead of 200. The Hillsboro nine will drop down to a tie with Camas for third place with a percentage of .500, and leaves the papermakers in second place with a percentage of 667.

LINCOLN CHURCH FOLK BACK BRYAN

Lincoln, Neb., May 25—William J. Bryan's home town paid him a tribute last night when a congregation, made up of church members of several denominations commended the stand taken by the commoner on the question of the fundamentalism, as opposed to modernism. The message as sent to Mr. Bryan at Columbus, Ohio, follows:

"You will be interested in the following action, approved with only two dissenting votes by a congregation of nearly 700 assembled for worship in a theater in your old home town.

"In view of the present agitation over the fundamentalist doctrines of the christian faith and the testing of the Tennessee law requiring the teaching of evolution we take this opportunity to express our loyalty to the fundamentals of the faith and we declare it to be our conviction that religion should be taught and certainly should not be assailed in our tax supported institutions of public instruction. We appreciate the stand taken by Hon. W. J. Bryan and others to uphold the Tennessee law."

Angels Drop Another.

Mt. Angel, Or., May 25.—(Special.)—The Mt. ATTEMPT MADE TO SWAY JUDGE IN WILSON CASE

Portland, Ore., May 25—Federal Judge C. E. Bean today postponed until tomorrow the sentencing of Horace Greeley Wilson of Roseburg, former Indian agent at the Klamath reservation, who has pleaded guilty to an indictment charging violation of the Mann act. Judge Bean announced he had received letters urging clemency for Wilson, and said he had turned these letters over to the district attorney's office for investigation.

"I have received two letters and a petition through the main that are doubtless connected with this case," said Judge Bean.

"I opened one of the letters, but as soon as I saw it was connected with this case I refused to read it."

"The other letter came by special delivery, but as it looked as if it dealt with the case, I refused to open it.

"I do not permit people to come to my office to talk about cases that are pending and I will not have access to any papers that may deal with a like case.

"I will not open the letter, but without having read it will hand the letters and petition to the clerk to be filed.

"I will continue this matter of passing sentence until tomorrow morning to allow the government time to examine these papers."

Assistant United States District Attorney Stearns did not indicate what action the government might take, but he said it would probably protest on at least one ground—that Wilson had used a stay, granted him to clear up his affairs, to get up petitions asking for parole.

COLLEGES SEEKING PEACE REGENTS TO TAKE HAND

recting the work of the schools are the boards of regents that they are almost completely subservient to the wishes of these educators in the administration of the institutions. They soon come to get the viewpoint of the professionals rather than the laymen they are supposed to serve.

Returning to the matter of duplicated courses of study attention is called to another instance of the expensive practice in the visit of some 150 or more students in sociology at the college to the state institutions here last Saturday. The nature of the junket and the extent to which it was participated in by students leads to the belief that sociology forms a somewhat extensive and more or less atressed course at the college, although major work in this branch is supposed to be confined to the university.

The university maintains a completed course in sociology and even goes so far as to designate it as a school, presumably under authority of an order of the board of higher curricula. Yet, we find the college offering six courses in general sociology, and six service courses of majors in technical departments. Study of these first six courses reveals that they are primarily intended for the training of teachers, which is supposed to be the work of the university.

HOMECOMING AT MT. ANGEL HELD

Mt. Angel, Or., May 25.—(Special.)—More than a thousand people, representing a number of valley towns, gathered on the college hill yesterday—homecoming day. A dinner was served under the trees northwest of the buildings on the crest of the hill and music was furnished by the college band. Beginning at 2 o'clock a short alumni meeting was held.

One of the outstanding events of the day was the game with the St. Martin's nine, which came down from Lacey, Wash. In a clean game, with few errors, the Mt. Angel college won by a score of 3 to 1. Neither side scored until the fourth inning. Mt. Angel made the three runs in the same inning.

ANXIETY FOR EXPLORER IS WIDESPREAD

ned. Early Rossman, a photographer who lived in Amundsen's supply hut at Wainwright, Alaska, thought that Amundsen's thoroughness was probably responsible for the delay.

"If he has found a new continent he will bag it so thoroughly that nobody will be able to question it," Rossman said.

Others feared a forced landing, injury to either the planes or men or both, or some accident in either landing or taking off for the return. It was pointed out, however, that the expedition carried sufficient food for a month and that at the expiration of that time the party should be in territory where it could kill northern game. Rifles and ammunition for this contingency were carried in the planes.

Vernon S. Prentice, brother in law of Lincoln Ellsworth, believed the planes would land in Alaska. Mr. Prentice said he felt no concern because of the delay and that he expected no word until tomorrow. Amundsen's desire to find new lands would probably lead him to steer for Alaska, Mr. Prentice said.

This view was shared by Vilhjalmar Stefansson and other explorers, although dispatches from Nome threw doubt on the probability of Amundsen's aiming for the American peninsula.

No concerted plane for a relief party have been made but the American expedition in command of Donald MacMillan is leaving Boston for the Arctic in June and the United States navy dirigibles Los Angeles and Shenandoah may be utilized in case of necessity. Commander MacMillan already has expressed his intention of going to the rescue provided there is a call.

EUGENE GOLFERS CAPTURE TROPHY

In the last and final match played yesterday at Corvallis in the Tri-city Tournament between Salem, Eugene and Corvallis, the Eugene Country Club won and became permanent possessor of the handsome silver cup put up five years ago for the team winning it three times.

Salem's team yesterday in the main was composed of new players and young men who have played a little over a year. Many of the old members of the team, especially Dolly Farmer, shot fine golf.

A new plan is now being talked up with the idea next year of having, in the Tri-city matches, two teams from each club so that more members can play and the golf courses of each club may be utilized every Sunday. Plans are now being worked out to that end.

It is altogether probable that qualifying play for the President's Cup and the Gray Belle trophy will start this week at Illahee Country Club.

The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, one of the Foremost Life Insurance Institutions of the world, writing every form of Life Insurance from 1 year to 70, desires a District Manager for Salem and Marion county on a commission basis. Don't dismiss this from your mind just because it's Life Insurance. We are developing men for executive positions in other fields.

Life Insurance is easier to write than ever before. The average unit of sale is increasing year by year. The field is unlimited and the surface is barely scratched. No other business offers the same opportunity for attaining personal and financial independence. No other business offers such a high return for the time, efforts and ability of the high grade man without capital to invest.

If you have had selling experience and are willing to work hard, this is surely worth investigation. All communications will be treated in strict confidence. Write fully and frankly—TODAY.
