An exhibit is being shown at the office of the city superintendent of schools of the work done by pupils of the 4th, 5th and 6th grades. The exhibits include the subjects of hygiene, geography, language and history. A number of booklets that were made by the pupils are on display, as well as several pieces of "project work." One project, historical in its nature, portrays a wagon train—made from paper—leaving Independence. It also shows Fort Laramie, a number of wigwags, buffalo, trees, and other features of frontier life, all made of paper. Another project, representing a cemetery, is on the subject of hygiene. One tombstone—made of paper—is inscribed with the words, "Illness died here, caused by careless diet." Another carries the inscription, "Here lies diet killed by soap and water." Maps on the wall show locally produced products of the United States, South America, and one large map sets forth the products of Oregon by counties.

WOODMEN START DRIVE TO RAISE FUNDS FOR PARK

An actual beginning of the campaign to raise $24,000 for the purchase of 240 acres of land at Spongy's Landing, with the ultimate object of making the tract a large tourist resort and amusement park, was made at a meeting of local Woodmen of the World last night. A subscription list was circulated among those at the meeting, and everyone present subscribed for stock. There were approximately 50 Woodmen on hand.

Stock is to be sold only among members of the lodge, although the lodge, as such, is not responsible for the project, some of the members undertaking it on their own initiative.

It has not yet been definitely decided whether or not the stockholders will incorporate for the entire $24,000, the price of the tract of land, they may incorporate for the purchase price at the time the property is taken over. They expect to make the deal with Captain Spong, present owner of the land, by June 15. Stock is selling at $100 a share.

Stockholders expect to derive profits from the various activities that will be staged at the park when it is finished. They expect to lease lots for summer camps, and eventually will probably build a number of cottages, which will be leased. Admission will be charged at a certain price per car for visitors at the camp. Either the stockholders will lease cottages for boat houses and similar enterprises, or will run them themselves.

Incorporators appointed at last night's meeting were as follows: J. A. Mills, Dr. O. L. Scott, M. J. Stewart, E. L. Hamilton and C. K. Haynes. Officers are J. A. Mills, president; E. L. Hamilton, vice president; Dr. O. L. Scott, secretary and C. K. Haynes, treasurer.

The Salem seniors and the departments from which they will be graduated are: Willard C. Marshall, business administration; Doris E. Neptune, and Edith Elizabeth Bragg, education; Ben Maxwell, journalism; Ralph S. Hamilton, economics; Florence V. Blake, English.

MEN TRAPPED IN MINE DEAD SAY WORKERS

explosion nearer the surface, but at the same time closing their only avenue of fresh air.

Abandon Hope.
Experienced miners were of the opinion that the men could not be extricated before tomorrow. They had no hope that any would be found alive.

After damp, dread enemy of the miners, claimed their lives, if they survived the series of explosions which closed their escape to the surface, rescue workers declared. But despite this belief, which gained headway through the night, they labored no less faithfully in the effort to reach their imprisoned comrades of yesterday.

Throughout the night, hundreds of men, women and children, relatives of the entombed men, strained against the barrier ropes surrounding the entrance to the mine.

Four hours after the disaster, hope was entertained that the imprisoned men might still live. This hope was nurtured by the report that fresh air had been encountered by workers as they toiled downward seeking the entombed men.

As the cable drew its creaking burden into the outer darkness, time after time and fresh crews of rescuers replaced tired workers until the 1800 foot level had been reached, without bringing evidence of the imprisoned men, the belief grew that after-damp had claimed as its toll the lives which might have survived the explosions.

SIX SALEM BOYS AND GIRLS WILL GRADUATE AT U

University of Oregon, Eugene, May 28.—(Special)—Six seniors enrolled in the University of Oregon from Salem are candidates for degrees at the June commencement. In all, 128 seniors and graduate students have applied for degrees. While failure to complete academic work may reduce this number somewhat before commencement day, June 15, the 1925 graduating class will exceed 400, and will be the largest in the history of the institution.

The Salem seniors and the departments from which they will be graduated are: Willard C. Marshall, business administration; Doris E. Neptune, and Edith Elizabeth Bragg, education; Ben Maxwell, journalism; Ralph S. Hamilton, economics; Florence V. Blake, English.
