From indications of interest shown in the recent horse race tournament held at Salem high school, the game will be added permanently to the list of intramural activities. The tournament of this year closed last week, after extending over a period of several months. Matches were held during the lunch hour. Emiel Reed succeeded in winning the championship, and was awarded the $5 baseball which had been offered as first prize. Julius Wilson was a close second, Leonard Grieg and Walter Martin succeeded in getting as far as the semifinals. Scores in the three games of the finals, staged between Reed and Wilson were 16-21, 21-5, 21-19 in favor of Reed. A total of 44 students entered the tournament.

DAN J. FRY, president of the First National bank, made an announcement today that he has just disposed of his wholesale drug business to Blumauer Frank company of Portland and all of the goods held here will be shipped to the new headquarters of that firm in Portland and the wholesale drug business of the Fry company will be completely discontinued as well as the jobbing business.

While the firm has been manufacturing and jobbing here for many years, during the past five years it was actively engaged in the wholesale drug business, working up a trade from Portland to Ashland and points all along the coast. The retail drug business will be continued as in the past, Mr. Fry stating that it is his intention of ultimately disposing of this at some time in the future to his sons, Dan J. Fry, Jr. and Orris K. Fry. All future wholesale orders received by the firm will be turned over to the Blumauer Frank company unless otherwise specified. The Blumauer Frank company has been in the wholesale drug business for many years and is one of the largest concerns of its kind in the northwest. Mr. Fry stated that this sale will in no manner interfere with his handling of peppermint oil, chittim bark and herbs, his business in which has developed to large proportions.

EXTEND TOURNEY PLAY AT ILLAHEE

Owing to the fact that many of the Illahee members were out of town over the week-end, the qualifying rounds for the "President's Cup" and the second flight for "The Man's Shop" trophy will be postponed for the final play up to and including Sunday, June 7.

Some confusion was made in the announcements and therefore the tournament committee concluded the fairest way to do was to extend the time for qualifying. It is hoped that the full membership will participate as there will be less than a month left for "The Man's Shop" trophy as well as the cup trophy. There will probably not be any tournaments, inter-club, until the first round in these two flights is completed.

Several new members have come in during the last month and the likelihood is that there will be several others that this month owing to the fact that the membership fee advances from $50, the present fee, to $100 on July 1st.

It is understood that the Greens committee has given instructions to clean out the bunkers, remove the grass and sand them, which will add considerably to the condition of the course. On account of

WAIVERS OF TAX PENALTIES OVER

The state tax commission today voted that after June 4 no more waivers will be granted on penalty and interest on delinquent state income taxes under the act of 1923, now repealed. Under an act of the 1925 legislature penalty and interest were waived up to and including June 4.

It is estimated that in delinquent taxes, penalty, interest and corporate dividends over $500,000 remains yet to be collected. About $250,000 has been collected since the first of the year, and the total collected under the 1923 act is now about $2,020,000, although it was originally estimated to produce only about $1,350,000. When all that remains due is collected the total will be in excess of $2,500,000.

Taxes on corporate dividends are now being collected under a supreme court decision holding that these could not be deducted from the taxed returns of corporations.

HEROIC RESCUE PREVENTS THREE FROM DROWNING

Tacoma, Wash., June 1.—Unparalleled heroism saved the lives of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. McDonald and their six months old daughter of Seattle yesterday when the McDonald auto was pulled into the sound from the deck of the Alki Point-Manchester ferry. The accident occurred as the ferry, on its last trip at Manchester about 7:20 p. m.

The McDonald car, at the end of the ferry nearest to the slip, in some manner became entangled in the chain that controlled the movable apron on the slip. To the horror of the motorists on the ferry the car, a sedan, was dragged off the ferry and dropped into the water as the ferry backed away.

The chain held the car suspended in the water, with only the corner of one fender showing. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald were in the front seat of the car and their baby was in the back seat. All the windows were closed except that beside the driver.

The ferry pilot, warned by the screams of horror, stopped the craft immediately and Harry Crosby, one of the crews of the line, immediately dived from the ferry and fought his way down to the suspended car, where he kicked in the window beside Mrs. McDonald.

She was dragged out by Crosby, badly cut by the jagged glass, and in the meantime Mr. McDonald fought his way free from the car.

The rescuers did not know of the baby's presence in the rear seat until Mrs. McDonald torn herself from the grasp of those who were helping her and pulled herself back through the broken window into the car and emerged a moment later with the baby in her arms.

The baby was revived by artificial respiration although it had been under water for nearly 15 minutes.

Mrs. McDonald is suffering from nervous prostration and severe cuts but will recover.

ROCKEFELLERS PUT OKEE UPON FOSDICK IDEAS

New York, June 1.—(A.P.)—Three generations of Rockefeller have welcomed the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, at the start of his "thrilling adventures."

Yesterday he made his debut in the pulp of the Park Avenue Baptist church which he intends transforming into a free church where all Christians may worship regardless of creed.

Dense lines of expectant worshippers two blocks long were turned away. Police were called upon to handle the crowds.

The sermon over, it was two hours before the edifice was cleared of people. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. was the first to congratulate Dr. Fosdick for "the eloquent and moving sermon." John D. Rockefeller, Jr., next clasped the preacher's hand. Then came his son, Winthrop.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., asked to comment, replied: "The situation speaks for itself."

The Rockefeller were besieged by parishioners. The elder oil magnate presented new times to several children.

Dr. Fosdick in his sermon generalised on the conditions under which he accepted the pastorate. He had asked among other things that the church be made "inclusive" with baptism by immersion left optional.

He said he regretted at the courage of the congregation in embarking with him on a "thrilling adventure."
