Local Group Active At Marshfield

Reports of an extremely interesting convention and perfect hospitality have come directly from the Salem delegates at the annual convention of the Oregon State Federation of women's clubs which is meeting in Marshfield this week.

The convention closes this afternoon and immediately afterward Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, Mrs. W. F. Fargo, Mrs. William E. Kirk and Mrs. Harry J. Wiedner will leave by motor for home. Mrs. Seymour Jones and Mrs. W. H. Byrd will remain until 6:45 Friday evening and will arrive here Saturday morning. Mrs. Jones, who is state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, is the guest at the home of Mrs. Murch, a member of the Coos Bay chapter. This evening Mrs. Byrd and Mrs. Jones are the dinner guests of Mrs. L. J. Schmitz, regent of the Coos Bay chapter. Tomorrow noon the chapter will entertain at luncheon at the Chandler hotel honoring Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Byrd and they will be the guests tomorrow afternoon at the regular chapter meeting.

The keynote of the convention, "The American Home and Law Enforcement," has been carried out in the general tone of all the lectures, and some of the most interesting and instructive speakers in the state have appeared on the program.

Salem representatives have been taking an active part in the convention. Mrs. Jones responded for the daughters on Tuesday morning when greetings were given by all the fraternal delegates. In the afternoon Dr. Walter H. Brown, director of the Marion county health demonstration gave an address titled "An Adventure in Child Health Cooperation." Mrs. Jones substituted for Mrs. Alexander Thompson on Tuesday afternoon in reporting for the department of legislation and today Mrs. Jones, as chairman of the committee on resolutions, will give the final report.

Highest praise of the part taken by the Coos Bay women as hostesses has come from the delegates. Elaborate luncheons and dinners have marked each day. Tuesday evening the North Bend federation of women's clubs, the Alert club and the Rainbow club were hostesses at a dinner for the delegates at the Odd Fellows hall in North Bend. A concert followed. Last night a beach dinner and frolic was given by the Marshfield Women's Civic club, the Empire Civic club and the Millington cooperative club. Luncheon conferences were held each day.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Leggett returned Tuesday from a week-end spent at Stevescott. The Steeves summer home at Seaside. Mrs. Steeves spent several weeks there with the other members of the party joining her on Saturday.

The west side circle of the Jackson Lee aid society will hold the final meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Frank Collins, 1890 north Commercial street, tomorrow afternoon.

Attractive Tea Given Yesterday

Several hundred Salem women were guests at the Lauterbach home yesterday afternoon when Mrs. J. H. Lauterbach and Mrs. R. J. Hendricks entertained at the first of a series of teas which they are planning for the early summer. The affair was one of the most attractive of the entire season.

The long living room of the Lauterbach home was lovely with its baskets of deep red and white roses combined with Indian arrowroot and tiny ferns. Little Miss Barbara Pierce welcomed the guests at the door and Mrs. Lauterbach and Mrs. Hendricks received them in the living room. Assisting about was Miss Margaret J. Cooper.

The dining room where the tea table was laid was most attractive in a color play of blue and pink. A silver bowl of deep blue delphinium and snapdragons of an almost coral shade and blue candles in silver holders with all the appointments of silver made the tea table a thing of beauty. Adding also to the beauty of the room was a mahogany console in a bow window on which was placed a beautiful silver candelabra filled with blue candles. Ferns and pink gladioli were used in baskets about the room. A color scheme of lavender was carried out in the adjoining living room. Dainty lavender stock and fern were used in art baskets.

Presiding at the tea table during the afternoon were Mrs. R. P. Bolse, Mrs. Frank Snedeker, Mrs. William Brown and Mrs. C. A. Park. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Breymann Bolse, Mrs. Paul Hendricks, Mrs. John H. Carson and Mrs. Karl Becke.

Miss Webster New Club President

Miss Julia K. Webster was elected president of the Salem business and professional women's club for the coming year at the annual election held in the chamber of commerce auditorium last night. Dr. Mary B. Purvine was president during the past year.

Other officers named were as follows: Miss Laura Hale, vice president; Miss Bernice Plesner, secretary; Miss Edna Cleveland, corresponding secretary; Miss Ruth McAdams, treasurer.

The Salem club will be represented by Mrs. D. R. Rose, Dr. Mary Purvine and Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith at the national convention of business and professional women which will be held in Portland, Maine, in July, according to elections last night. Plans were also made for the presentation of Pendleton Indian blankets to the national officers of the organization at the Maine convention.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday of next week the Salem club will be hostess to the twenty-nine women of the state at the annual state conference. Plans were discussed last night for the program and for the entertainment of the visitors. A national headquarters representative will also be present at the convention as will the national president, Miss Adella Pritchard. On Saturday evening of next week the Salem club will entertain the visitors at a banquet at the Gray Belle.

Wedding At Church Beautiful

One of the most beautiful weddings of the entire year was solemnized this morning at ten o'clock in St. Joseph's church when Miss Louise Healy, daughter of Mrs. C. J. Healy, became the bride of Eugene Gratton, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gratton of Portland. Rev. J. R. Buck performed the ceremony. The chancel of the church was transformed into a spring bower with tall ferns and blue delphinium and various shades of pink snapdragons used in tall slender baskets. The main altar was also beautifully decked in delphinium and snapdragons.

As the bride party entered the church Miss Mary Lebold played Mendelssohn's wedding march. During the offertory Miss Adele Barnickel of Portland, a cousin of the groom, sang an "Ave Maria." The bride was a vision of loveliness in a gown of white satin backed crepe made simply with deep lace, and caught with a buckle of brilliants. Her long veil was fastened with orange blossoms and her shower bouquet was of sweet peas, lilies of the valley and ophelia roses.

Miss Claudia Gratton, a twin sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a charming frock of marigold yellow chiffon over white satin and carried sweet peas and snapdragons.

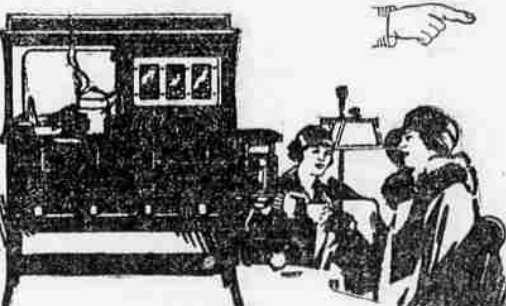

Edward Nadeau, a cousin of the bride, served as best man. The bride was given away by her brother, Joseph R. DeJardin. The ushers were Charles Fox and Paul Green.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Healy home to members of the bride party and relatives. Among
