

EGG GRADING TO GO INTO EFFECT NEXT FEW DAYS

Portland, Ore., June 5.—Enforcement of the new Oregon law relating to grading of eggs offered for sale by jobbers and retail dealers will be undertaken within a few days by N. C. Maris, deputy state dairy and food commissioner. Strawberries are lower in price in today's local market, due to continued heavy yields and a slackening demand. Prices range from $1.75 to $2.25 a crate, depending on type and quality. On information from growers and intimate observation in fields adjacent to Portland, dealers predict that the close of this week will see the end of cheap berries.

Cherries from The Dalles are arriving in larger lots. Hings are selling at $2 a crate and Royal Annet slightly lower.

The local market has abundant supplies of hogs, veal and poultry and the tone of the market is weak.

hands of the American government, which views the situation with an absorbing interest not unmixed with anxiety. Its officials are withholding comment.

The precise relation to the current southern outbreaks to the threat of an overshadowing war in the north is not yet entirely clear, but it would appear that soviet influence in the south, while of admitted potentiality, is largely incidental to other factors of unrest.

In all parts of China there has been increasing agitation of an unorganized character to divest the foreigner of his long-standing extra-territorial rights. The movement which recently has led to serious outcroppings at Shanghai, fits in naturally with the aims of the soviet.

At Canton the recent troubles appears to be rooted in factional quarrels among these south China leaders who formerly were united under the banner of the late Sun Yat Sen. But there have been open evidences of aggravation by soviet sympathizer and one faction at Canton has charged that the party now in the saddle there is receiving regular financial support from Moscow.

There is little doubt among those informed of all the circumstances that once the situation in the north comes to fruition a soviet and anti-soviet cleavage will traverse China like an earthquake from north to south.

POTATO MARKET FIRM; SUPPLY IS BELOW DEMAND

Portland, Ore., June 5.—Potato growers, distributors and consumers are fixing their eyes on the market's recent developments. Old crop potatoes and new crop are very firm in price and probably will show further strength until this season's product becomes an out-bound shipments of new potatoes from the Shafter, Cal. district on account of the ravages of the tuber moth pest. This action will decrease the volume of California potatoes moving to this market.

Small initial shipments of new potatoes from The Dalles are selling at five cents a pound wholesale.

Today's prices in the local whole sale markets for new crop potatoes range from 4 1/2 to five cents a pound, a distinct rise from yesterday's quotations.

Old crop potatoes are selling to dealers in Portland at $3.25 to $3.75 a hundred pounds for U. S. No. 1 Netted Gems, classed as standard.

Family patent and bakers blue-stem flour declined 20 cents a barrel in the Portland market today.

PRICES ON WOOL HIGHER; MARKET GAINS STRENGTH

Boston, June 5.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: "There is a broader and stronger market in wool, prices being generally about five cents a scour-pound higher than last week. Activity in the bright wool states is very much keener and some buying is reported in the territory states, with fair consignment movement in swing."

Better business in goods is reported, more especially in woollens, although foreign markets are hardly changed, Bradford being slow on account of the holidays and rather in favor of the buyer.

"Mohair" moved moderately at hardly changed rates."

The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations:
 Oregon: eastern No. 1 staple $1.25; fine and fine medium combing $1.20; eastern clothing $1.05@ $1.10; valley No. 1, $1.05@ $1.10.
 Mohair: best combing 75¢@80¢; best carding 65¢@70¢.
