Hofer Establishes Bureau For Writers

Col. L. Hofer and "Sam"

Official announcement was made today of the establishment of the Northwest Writers bureau, with Colonel E. Hofer of Salem at its head. The bureau is to be connected with the Larist Story magazine, a new publication produced by Fiction House, Incorporated. The new magazine will appear for the first time on June 15. There will be 500,000 copies of the first issue.

"I shall continue the Larist as a critical and poetry magazine as heretofore," says Colonel Hofer, "but secure the control of the Northwest Writers bureau for the west and northwest, a market for all western stories and verses, something the west has never had, authors having to sell to New York brokers."

Colonel Hofer expects to tour the northwest for several weeks at a time, meeting writers of action and adventure stories. He states that there is almost an unlimited market for well written western fiction, sketches of actual participants in frontier life.

"There is little or no room for love stuff or the ordinary garden variety of sex literature in the type of story we want," says Colonel Hofer. "There must be a real story, virile, wholesome and, if possible, of thrilling intensity, with swift moving action on the western plains and borders of the old southwest or the newer great north woods and Alaska."

Hofer declares that men and women of literary ability are turning toward the west for fiction material more than ever before. Old pioneer stories, stories of the range and the frontier are in constant and growing demand among the public, he maintains. "More human hearts," he says, "were touched among all classes of society by Emerson Hough's 'Covered Wagon' and 'North of 36,' than by all other movies taken from so-called literary classics combined."

"The wealth of fiction material," he states, "has not been exhausted in Alaska by the writings of Jack London and Rex Beach. They have only awakened a keener interest in action stories founded upon fact and illuminated by the imagination for readers all over the world. The millions of Great Britain and the English colonies devour all kinds of good writings in this field, including short stories, novelettes, serials, cowboy songs, wild west ballads and the story type of poetry."

"How Should we Invest Our Lives?" The Dorcas society meets Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. H. Mattelman, 225 Mill St. There will be no evening service. K. Koshier, pastor.

The First Spiritualist—Holds meetings every Sunday evening in the W. O. W. hall at 8 with Dr. F. W. Parker as speaker and Mrs. Fred Anderson of Spokane, Wash., as message bearer. The public is most cordially invited to attend these lectures.

Catholic—Rev. J. B. Buck, pastor. Masses at 7:30, 8:30 and 10:30. At the last mass the pastor will preach the baccalaureate sermon for the graduates of Sacred Academy. Music will be by the Academy choir. Benediction follows last mass. Everyone, both Catholic and non-Catholic, welcome.

Christian Science—First Church—Corner of Liberty and Chemeketa streets. Sunday morning services at 11 o'clock, Sunday evening at 8. Subject of lesson sermon, "God the Only Cause and Creator." Sunday school sessions convene at 9:30 and 11 a. m. Wednesday evening testimonial meeting at 8 o'clock. Reading room 209 Masonic Temple, open every day except holidays and Sundays from 11:15 to 5:30 p. m. All are invited to our services and to our reading room.

Central Congregational—Nineteenth and Ferry streets. Sunday school at 10 a. m., C. C. Harris, Supt. Following Sunday school will be held a short informal religious service. Musical and special features will be in charge of the young women connected with Mrs. Daugherty's class. E. E. Elliott will make an address on "What Religion is Not." Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m. At the evening service Dr. McCormick of Kimball college will preach. There will be special music. Members are urged to attend the evening service for Dr. McCormick is a favorite with our people.

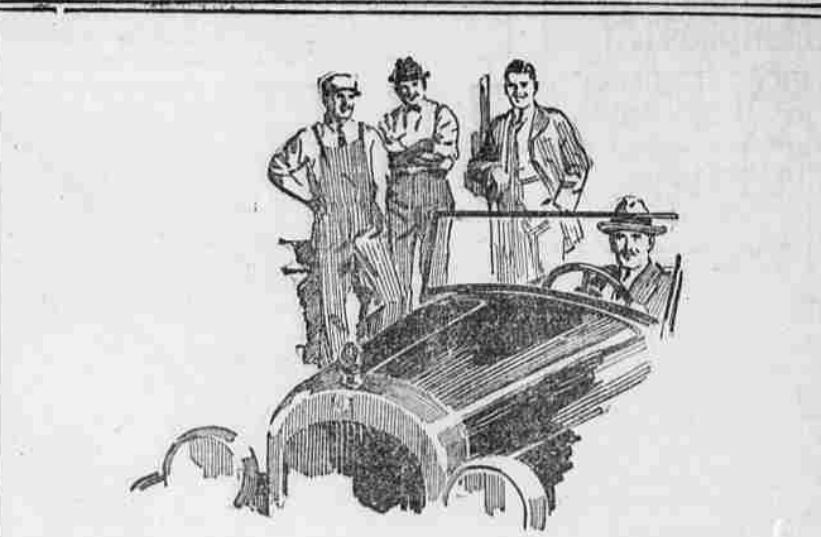

St. Joseph's—On Church and Chemeketa. The first solemn high mass of Rev. Father Cyril Lebold, O. S. B., which will take place on Sunday, June 14th will be an event quite out of the ordinary for Salem, and great preparations are being made by the Catholic people for the event. It will take place at 10:30 in the morning and a male choir from Mt. Angel College and Seminary will sing the entire mass. It will be strictly Gregorian music—the music of the church—and by a deacon, sub-deacon, and archpriest. Rev. Father Buck, the pastor will preach the sermon. Everyone will be welcome to the mass. The dinner will be for visiting clergy, and will be served in St. Joseph's auditorium. In the evening a reception will be tendered Father Lebold, and everyone is most cordially welcome. This will take place also in the auditorium. Father Lebold is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lebold who live on State street.

Independent Dealers recommend the Veedol "film of protection"

NEVER is it necessary for you to trust the protection of your expensive motor to inferior motor oils. For, everywhere you go, you can get the Veedol "film of protection."

Thousands of independent dealers sell Veedol. They sell it because of its uniformly high quality. They sell it because it gives the "film of protection", thin as tissue, smooth as silk, tough as steel.

The Veedol "film of protection" safeguards your motor from deadly heat and friction, reduces your repair bills, and increases the power and efficiency of your motor.

And remember! When you buy a quart of Veedol less than a cent of the price you pay represents shipping charges. The rest of your money buys the added safety, the increased power, the greater efficiency that has made hundreds of thousands of car owners throughout the world Veedol boosters.

Have your crankcase drained and refilled with Veedol today. Stop at the next orange and black Veedol sign. They are everywhere. Always ask for Veedol by name.
