BORED JUDGE MAY SLEEP, IS RULING
Berlin, Germany.—A judge who was found napping has given rise to a far reaching controversy in Germany. In the course of even this question was referred to the German supreme court at Leipzig, which came to the strange decision that his honor may safely take his little snooze now and then, for in passing judgment it is his body, not his mind, which is the principal factor concerned.

Growers reported at that time indicated the possibility of a crop materially larger than 1924. But there came an unusual drop. Returns from growers, received on our second report, indicated a crop slightly less than one year ago.

With exactly one inch of rain falling in the 15 day period ending last night, precipitation during the first half of June, 1925, reached a total of 36 of an inch above normal for that period, and only three tenths of an inch short of the normal amount for the entire month. The amount falling was far in excess of the rainfall for the first half of June during the years 1924 and 1924. In 1924 the total for the corresponding period was .61 of an inch, all of which fell in one heavy shower on June 4. The rest of the half month being dry except for a few traces, not enough to be measured, which fell on June 11. In 1923 rain during the first half of June was scattered over a period of 6 consecutive days ending with the 15th, and reached a total of .45 of an inch.

RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT ASSAILS BOOTLEGGERS

Moscow, Russia.—Bootlegging in Russia is as great an evil as it is in the United States. The illicit manufacture of vodka, which is 96 per cent pure alcohol, is universal throughout the country. The prisons are crowded with men and women convicted of bootlegging. Every day the government confiscates hundreds of home-brewing stills, exiling the owners to Siberia or sentencing them from one to three years at hard labor.

COOLIDGE WILL ATTEND ONLY TO PRESSING NEEDS

Washington, June 16.—(By Associated Press)—While President Coolidge will be kept in constant touch with governmental affairs during his summer stay at Swampscott, Mass., arrangements are being made to afford him as much relaxation and freedom from the cares of office as possible.

A clerical force of sufficient size only to handle matters that need the president's personal attention will be transferred to Lynn, where executive offices will be maintained. This will be Secretary Sanders' headquarters, but it is likely that the president will rarely, if ever, be there.

At Whitecourt, the summer White House, Mr. Coolidge will be isolated, guarded by secret service men and a detachment of marines. Persons desiring to confer with him will be first required to consult Mr. Sanders, and it is planned to keep the president's engagements to a minimum. It is probable that he will spend part of each day in his study, where he will receive the few callers who will have engagements, but on the whole, he is expected to rest, taking occasional strolls, automobile rides and short cruises on the Mayflower, which will be anchored at Marblehead nearby.

Mr. Sanders' living quarters will be at the Ocean house less than a mile from Whitecourt. From his offices in Lynn, Mr. Sanders will be in direct communication by telephone with the president's study and also by wire with the White House here, where Rudolph Forster, executive clerk will remain to sift out from the mass of routine communications those which should be dispatched to New England for the president's attention.

Among those who will accompany the president when he makes his departure from Washington a week hence will be E. W. Smithers chief telegrapher at the White House, who will be in charge of communications at the Lynn office; Patrick E. McKenna, who for more than 20 years has been clerk at the door just outside the offices of the president and his secretary and E. C. Gelmer, the president's stenographer. Several others will round out the clerical force.

Both of the president's physicians—Dr. J. P. Coupal and Dr. Joel Boone—will be with him at Swampscott, as will both the White House aides, Colonel S. A. Cheney and Captain Adolphus Andrews, commander of the Mayflower.

THREE WOUNDED IN BATTLE WITH BOOTLEGGERS

Klamath Falls, Or., June 16.—Three men were wounded at Olney, 3 miles east of Klamath Falls, last night in a gun fight between a sheriff's posse and reputed bootleggers. Ed Kendall, deputy sheriff, is in a local hospital with bullet wounds in his arm and leg, and will undergo an operation later this morning in an effort to save his arm. Attending surgeons say his condition is serious.

Jim Burks, one of the alleged bootleggers, also is in a hospital with a bullet wound in his foot, while an unidentified man, who was struck in the leg by a stray bullet, has not yet been located by authorities.

Sheriff Burt Hawkins rounded up Burks and two of his alleged companions after Kendall had fallen to the ground from loss of blood. Ed Fuller and his son, J. Fuller, were the other two under arrest as a result of the affray.

Residents of the Olney district telephoned the sheriff's office last night that three men were terrorizing people of that section. They were reported to have fired several shots at a passing woman and to have attempted to hold up a man a few minutes later.

When Sheriff Hawkins and Deputy Kendall arrived at the scene, they say they saw a small auto parked in a secluded spot off the roadway, with two of the three men crouched down behind the car. As Kendall shouted for them to throw up their hands, the man giving the name of Burke is said to have opened instant fire, and a first bullet, chattering Kendall's left arm and shoulder. A moment later Kendall felt the sting of a bullet in his left leg. In the gun play which followed, Kendall felled Burke with a bullet wound in the foot, was Sheriff Hawkins' version of the encounter.

The sheriff said he then circled around the three men and overpowered young Fuller, taking his revolver from him. He then took Burke's gun, he said, and compelled the elder Fuller to submit to arrest.
