June Brides Numerous This Week

Roses and brides—these two creations have given the past week more beauty than one usually finds in one fifty-second part of a year. The Rose Festival which has made Portland famous never fails to attract a goodly number of Salemites and the added attraction of Rosaria, the floral pageant, this year has resulted in a virtual exodus Portlandward from the capital city. Because of this social affairs have been largely of an informal nature.

Traditionally the bride's month, June is rapidly earning its claim to the title in Salem this year. Not a day has passed during the last week without at least one wedding. Although it was not solemnized in Salem the Apperson-Robertson wedding on Tuesday evening was tremendously interesting to all Salem folks and a number of prominent men and women motored to McMinnville to be guests at the ceremony in the Apperson home and the reception which followed. The wedding of Miss Lorlei Blatchford and Clarence Gillette in First Methodist church at four o'clock yesterday afternoon was one of the most beautiful of the many beautiful weddings that have been solemnized in First church.

In addition to a number of attractive club luncheons, small informal luncheons and a number of small teas society matrons have busied themselves with golf and an occasional trip to the beach during the past week. Mrs. John McNary's luncheon yesterday was probably the outstanding event of the week.

Interest in the coming week is focused largely upon the tea for which Mrs. Lenta Westcott, Mrs. W. T. Stolz and Miss Nina McNary have issued cards. Little will be hostesses to several hundred of their friends on Wednesday from three to five at the Stolz home on North Winter street.

Mrs. John J. Roberts and Miss Mildred Roberts are attending Rose Festival activities. Miss Helen Roberts is the house guest of Miss Virginia Coke of Portland, for several days.

Guests at the Dan J. Fry, Jr., summer home at Neokowin over the week end are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Slade, and Captain and Mrs. Earl Flegel. The Frye and the Flegels went over on Thursday and the Slades and Hawkins are joining them today.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spaulding will leave tomorrow morning for Corvallis to attend the wedding of Mrs. Spaulding's sister, Miss Mary Miller. Miss Miller will be married to Edwin Brown in the First Methodist church in Corvallis in the morning. Little Miss Leona Spaulding will be ring bearer and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Petri will sing and play the wedding march. Miss Miller was graduated from Salem high school with the class of '16 and is well known here. She was graduated from O. A. C. with the class of '22. Mr. Brown also holds a degree from O. A. C.

Miss Lina Helet, Miss Caroline Hrubetz and Miss Merle McKelvey will leave shortly for Alta Lake, British Columbia, where they will spend the summer. Alta Lake is ninety miles north of Vancouver.

Bertha Junk Darby presented a group of her pupils in recital in her studio on Wednesday evening. The following program was given: Cavalry Ride, F. Von Suppe; Lillian Lyman and Lillian Scott; Duet, Early Morning, Bilbro; Dorothy Kent and Mrs. Darby; A Day Dream, Bilbro; Margaret Kent and Mrs. Darby; Margaret Buttercup, Mavor; Dream of a Rosebud, Dodds; Mary Hackett; Duet, A Shady Dell, Bilbro; Dorothy and Margaret Kent; Dixie in the Menagerie, Brown; Suele Fukuda.

Dances of the Honey Bee, Richmond; Edith Clement; Duet, Robbery, Retara, Fisher; Jessie and Suzi Fukuda; Shepherd's Idyl, Heins; The Music Box, Poldini; Jeannette Scott; Scherzino, Op. 53 No. 1, Handrock; Jessie Fukuda; Air De Ballet, Lemont; Elizabeth Clement; Butterfly, Markel; Eula Harrington.

Duet, A Perfect Day, Bond; Edith and Elizabeth Clement; The Rosary, Nevin; The Flut-terer, Chamblaine; Lillian Scott; To Spring, Gries; In the Hall of the Mountain King, Gries; Lillian Lyman.

Magic Fire Scene, Wagner; Playaka, Rebekoff; Irma Keifer.

W. C. Dibble and his daughter, Miss Carol Dibble, are in Portland today to see Jane Cowl in "Romeo and Juliet." With them also are Miss Lucille Tucker and Miss Blanche Drake. Miss Drake returned recently from Bend where she has been teaching for the past year. Miss Tucker and her mother will leave Monday for Independence to spend several days with their sister and daughter.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves left yesterday for Steerescote, their summer home at Seaside. As their house guests they are having Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Moore and Miss Lucille and Miss Dorothy Moore, and Dr. Grace Young of The Dalles. They will remain until Wednesday.

Miss Gray Honored at Luncheon

Complimenting her niece, Miss Gertrude Gray of Portland who has been her house guest for several weeks, Mrs. John McNary was hostess at a charming bridge luncheon in her home on North Summer street yesterday.

Ocean spray and roses were combined in an attractive centerpiece on the long table laid in the dining room of the McNary home. Fifteen friends of the hostess and the honor guest were present.

Several hours of bridge followed the luncheon. High honors among the four tables of players were won by Mrs. Edwin L. Baker. A guest prize was also given Miss Gray.

A number of delightful affairs, dinners, luncheons and informal teas have been given in Miss Gray's honor during the past two weeks.

A group of the advanced students of Frank E. Churchill will be presented in a recital at the First Christian church on Tuesday evening beginning at eight o'clock. Lola Schulz, reader, Leonard Chadwick, violinist, and the high school male quartet, will assist on the program. On Wednesday evening both Mr. and Mrs. Churchill will present their intermediate pupils in the second recital. The high school double quartet, and Stanley King, reader, will assist. This recital will also be given in the First Christian church and will begin at eight o'clock.

Miss Beatrice Walton and Miss Nell Thieleen were in a group who motored to Portland on Thursday evening to see Jane Cowl.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paulus motored to Portland yesterday to attend the Rose Festival taking with them as their guests, Mrs. Florence Johnson, Mrs. J. M. Clifford and Mrs. W. F. Fargo.

Mrs. T. G. Bligh, Mrs. H. D. Trovere and Mrs. Bligh's granddaughter, Margaret Ann Bligh, left Thursday for Neokowin to spend the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Karst and their three daughters, Anna, Florence and Genevieve Karst, were at Rose Festival visitors on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hensikorn and family are taking a ten day motor trip to Everett and Kelso, Washington, to visit relatives.

Reports of an interesting and thoroughly delightful trip are coming from Mrs. George Alden and Mrs. Page who are motoring to Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. They mention particularly the delights of camping out and say they are meeting very few inconveniences.

Elma Weller presented a group of intermediate and advanced students in recital at her studio Wednesday evening, June 17th. Assisting on the program was Marie Churchill, accompanied by Miss Weller. The high school double quartet gave To A Wild Rose by MacDowell, adding greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.

The following program was given: Rondo Villagrosa, Denze; Barbara Barham, Katherine Goulet, Arthur Boesch, Elaine Bonet; (a) Hunting Song, Mendelssohn; (b) Solfeggietto, Sch.; (c) Serenata, Kozezkowski; Arthur Boesch.

(a) Arabesque, MacDowell; (b) Shadow Dance, MacDowell; Gwendolyn Jarman; Sonata D Major, Mozart; Dorothy Hutchason; Wild Rose, MacDowell; double quartet; The Nightingale, Franz Liszt; Claudia Lewis.

Marche Grottesque, Sinding; Gwendolyn Jarman; I Heard You Singing, Coates; Mrs. C. Welch; Witches Dance, MacDowell; Dorothy Hutchason; Waltz, C Minor Op. 64, Chopin; Etude in G Flat, Chopin; Claudia Lewis; Fingaleholic, Mendelssohn; Gwendolyn Jarman, Elma Weller, Dorothy Hutchason, Helen Ka-fourry.

Mrs. Lloyd Shuler and two children, Barbara and Frances, who have been the guests of Mrs. H. H. Olinger and Mrs. George G. Brown during the past week, left yesterday for their home in Harrisburg. Mrs. Olinger motored back with them.

Wedding In West Salem Attractive

One of the loveliest weddings of the season was solemnized in West Salem at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Bertha K. Engelhorn, at noon on Wednesday, when her daughter, Emma, became the bride of Chris C. Burright of Independence, Rev. Connel officiated.

The rooms were decked with a profusion of vivid hued summer flowers.

The bride wore a pink georgette gown over crepe de chine trimmed with silver lace which was edged with crystal beads. She wore a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of delicate pink carnations and orchid sweet peas.

Miss Bertha Engelhorn, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Manley Burright, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Miss Loringe Combase sang, accompanied by Mrs. S. H. Starr of Salem, who also played the wedding march. The bridal party stood under an arch of colorful flowers.

Following the ceremony luncheon was served. Covers were laid for the bride and groom, Mrs. Engelhorn, William Engelhorn, Anna Engelhorn, Bertha Engelhorn, Edward Engelhorn, Ruth Engelhorn, Manley Burright, Roy Burright, Bernice Burright, Mrs. Lou Song, Harold Song, Mr. and Mrs. L. Crane, Mrs. Sarah Sutton, Mrs. S. H. Starr, Miss Loringe Combase and Rev. Connel.

In the evening a reception was given for the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Burright accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. L. Crane of Lansing, Iowa, who are visiting here, are attending the Rose carnival and motoring up the Columbia Highway.

Following this trip Mr. and Mrs. Crane will resume their tour, visiting Seattle and Spokane en route to their new home near Great Falls, Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burright will be at home to their friends at Newport, Oregon, after July 1.

Two of the interesting recitals of the season were those given recently by the piano and violin pupils of Miss Joy Turner at the First Christian church.

The first night the program was given by the advanced pupils, assisted by Donald and Glenn Woody, vocalists, and the following night the intermediate and primary pupils (Dunning) presented the program. Miss Oral Violette, vocalist, of Independence, assisted the younger students.

A special feature of the first night was the D Minor Concerto of Mendelssohn, played at two pianos by Wilma Morrison and Ferns Tweedie of Morrison.

For the first program the following pupils appeared: Gertrude Winegar, Donald Siegmund, Alice Claxton, Iola Goodale, Marjorie Wunder, Marion Fluke, Margaret Eddy, Margaret Ziesch, George Stoner, Oral Violette, Verna Wood, Ferns Tweedie, Mildred Scott, Wilma Morrison, Harold Rupert.

McMinnville Wedding of Interest

Of unusual local interest was the wedding in McMinnville on Tuesday evening, June 16, of Miss Mildred Apperson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Apperson of McMinnville, to Charles Glasgow Robertson, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Robertson and a member of one of Salem's leading families. Mrs. Robertson was well known here and has countless friends both among the college set and their parents.

The wedding, according to a number of prominent Salem people who were present, was one of the most beautiful and impressive that they have ever seen. Rev. Bruce Griffin, student pastor at the University of Oregon in Eugene performed the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents on north C street in McMinnville.

The drawing room was completely transformed into a bower of flowers. The fireplace and adjoining spaces were entirely hidden, from ceiling to floor, behind a wall of roses, delphinium, snapdragons, and carnations and fern, all in pastel shades and perfectly blended. The archway were lovely with their coverings of silver birch. Just before the arrival of the bridal party on the long stairway, Miss Mary Jane Albert and Miss Alice Link walked from the foot of the stairway to the end of the long living room carrying white satin streamers to form an aisle for the bride and her attendants.

Before the ceremony R. F. Gray of Portland, sang "At Dawning" and "Until" and Mrs. Gray, a cousin of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride, a most attractive girl, was a picture of loveliness in her white satin gown which was adorned with silver and pearl beads. She wore a veil which was worn by Mrs. C. H. Robertson, the groom's mother at her marriage. It was fastened with a quaint Duchesse lace Laddress and she wore several gardenias in her hair. She wore a string of pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas, Cecil Brunner roses and orchids.

Miss Margaret Griffith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Griffith, her maid of honor, was lovely in a frock of coral chiffon made with pearl and brilliant beading. She carried an arm bouquet of roses and pink and lavender sweet peas.

The best man was L. K. Fraley of Portland, a fraternity brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. The living rooms, the verandas, and the dining room were decked with various shades of flowers in the pastel shades. Mrs. Homer Goulet and Mrs. Jesse Harrington presided at the urns and cut cake. Assisting about were a number of sorority sisters of the bride including Miss Gretchen Brown and Miss Mary Jane Albert of Salem.

The wedding is of wide interest among the college folk of the northwest as both Mr. and Mrs. Robertson were prominent on the University of Oregon campus during their student days. Mrs. Robertson is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and Mr. Robertson is a member of Sigma Nu and Nu Sigma Nu fraternities. He is an upperclassman at the University of Oregon medical school in Portland.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Robertson left for a motor trip to British Columbia. For her going away costume the bride wore a black satin ensemble made up with a blouse of yellow georgette. Her hat was black and yellow. They will make their home in Portland.

Mrs. John J. Rottle will leave tonight for Portland en route to Prineville where the state convention of the American Legion auxiliary will be held next week. Mrs. Rottle is district committee-man and a member of the executive board.
