Heat Halts Social Set For Time

"Keeping cool" has been society's main interest in life during the past torrid days. There was very little coming and going and a number of contemplated affairs were postponed without further ado until weather conditions become more conducive to activity. A few brave souls motored out to the country club for early morning golf and there were several delightful luncheons and dinners but for the most part Salem matrons found it expedient to spend the majority of the leisure in their own darkened living rooms with new magazines and books whose leaves were yet uncut.

Despite the general inactivity of the past week there were several affairs which would have been outstanding at any time—even at the height of the social season. Mrs. W. T. Stolz, Mrs. Lena Westcott and Miss Nina McNary were hostesses in the Stolz home on Wednesday afternoon at 7 o'clock. The guests included Mrs. M. Jordan of Seattle, who is here on a season that has been marked by a series of delightful afternoon affairs. Several hundred prominent society women called during the afternoon. Adding to the attractiveness of the setting was the group of younger girls who assisted in the dining room.

Prominent out of town guests who have been feted extensively during the past week are Mrs. E. M. Jordan of Seattle, who is here on a season that has been marked by a series of delightful afternoon affairs. Several hundred prominent society women called during the afternoon. Adding to the attractiveness of the setting was the group of younger girls who assisted in the dining room.

One of the most enjoyable house parties that ever congregated at Newport beach ended last night when a group of more than a dozen Salem matrons, who were guests of Mrs. K. Spaulding at the Spaulding summer home at Agate Beach for three days, returned to their homes. Three days of hiking, swimming, surf bathing, with bridge playing and reading for diversion from the more strenuous pleasures were enjoyed immensely by Mrs. Spaulding's guests.

The picnic which Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lachmund gave at their Kelzer bottom ranch last night was one of the most delightful affairs of the summer season. The outstanding event of the morning will probably be Miss Joy Turner's wedding to William Edward Mosen. A reception, for which several hundred cards have been issued, will follow the wedding in the First Methodist church.

Miss Virginia Byrd of Portland is the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Byrd for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner and little Mary Lee Fry left Salem this morning to join the summer colony at Neskevin for the week end.

Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ross, Miss Audrey Bunch, Mrs. Molly Brunk and Mrs. Ruth Fargo will motor to Portland this evening to attend the meeting of the Northwest poetry society at the home of Ethel Bonin Fuller, Salem. Members who will take part in the evening's program are Miss Bunch, Mrs. Ross and Mr. Paulus.

Miss Pearl Jones will spend the summer months with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Jones. Miss Jones has been a student at the College of Notre Dame in Belmont, California, during the past year.

The teachers and officers of the primary department of the Central Congregational church entertained Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Harry Zelsdorf who is leaving soon to make her home in California. Mrs. Zelsdorf has been a faithful worker in the department of the church since coming to Salem and will be greatly missed by her friends.

Mrs. W. H. Wood is spending several days in Roseburg with her son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Vestal. Tomorrow Mrs. Wood will be a guest at the wedding of her granddaughter, Miss Mabel Vestal to Clarence O. Baker of Hollywood. Miss Vestal was formerly a Salem high school student and popular among the younger set. Mr. Baker is connected with the moving picture industry in Hollywood.
