WHERE TO EDUCATE ROYAL SONS, QUERY

Potsdam, Germany.—Wilhelm and Louis Ferdinand, sons of the former crown prince of Germany, recently passed their high school final examinations and are now ready to enter some university. The sons of royal blood in other parts always went to the University of Bonn. But today Bonn is in the occupied area, and it is taken for granted that no Hohenzollern will venture into territory held by foreign troops. Hence the question of the university to be selected for these young men still is open.

Pierre, S. D.—Proprietor of its own cement manufactory, South Dakota, may launch a paved road program this summer using cement from its state plant and labor from the penitentiary to span the state with hard-surfaced highways. A plan has been worked out by Gov. Carl Gusterson which provides for utilization of convict labor in the building of paved roads. The cement plant would, under the plan, be operated at its capacity of more than 2,000 barrels a day and all surplus cement turned over to the highway commission for paving.

Camera Discloses Arctic Horror

Scattered heaps of bones, rotting clothes and equipment and a pile of rusted and empty food tins were found by the H. A. Snow expedition, which sought out the remains of the party which started to walk to the mainland after the Stefansson ship Karluk was crushed in ice near Herald Island in 1914. Arrows show three jawbones.

LEADBETTER HOME AT SANTA BARBARA RUINED

The palatial home of Fred W. Leadbetter on the mesa above Santa Barbara was almost completely destroyed in the earthquake Monday, according to a telegram received yesterday by P. F. Pitcock from Lou Leadbetter. The tumbler was scarcely felt at a camp three miles out of the city, where the Misses Virginia, Roberta and Frederika Pitcock and Miss Sally Leadbetter are visiting for a few weeks, the message said. Many local residents are anxiously awaiting word from Dr. Myra Sperry, formerly of Salem, who has made her home in Santa Barbara for some time.

AUSTRIANS PATTERN FROM U. S. SENATORS

Vienna—A committee of the Austrian national assembly, for a period of two months past, has been giving a striking exhibition of obstruction of the public business by a process of talking a measure to death. There is no regulation to prevent the committeemen from speaking forever, and some of them have declared their intention to talk until they gain their point, irrespective of the merits of the case. There came before the committee the question of nominating a chairman to look into the question of city rents. The social democrats were opposed to Dr. Kienbock, former minister of finance, who was desired by a majority of the committee. They began a series of endless speeches on the duties of the chairman, and have kept this up for eight weeks.
