EXTRAS QUOTED CENT HIGHER ON PORTLAND MART

Portland, July 8—Egg prices are higher in the local market today with extras and firsts posted at a cent advance on the exchange. Light receipts and a brisk call for top grades are considered the strengthening factors at this time. Exchange quotations are as follows: extras 28; firsts 27; pullets 25; current receipts 23 cents (net). Coast storage holdings of eggs now total 63,744 cases as compared to 44,417 cases for the same week last year. Eggs coming in now show the effects of the hot weather and the quality is not as favorable for storage as eggs put up earlier in June.

Cubes Half Cent Up
Cube butter ranged from a half to a cent higher on the local exchange today with extras up to 46 1/2 cents and standards at 45 1/2 cents. Even the lower grades participated in the advance. Fancy butter is extremely scarce and in demand and the market is showing a good healthy tone. Creamery men report a slight movement in prints at the cent advance made yesterday.

A better call shown for live poultry with prices slightly firmer. Light hens 16 cents; heavy hens 23; springs 14 1/2 cents; colored springs up to 25 cents.

Country dressed meats are firm and higher; receipts so far this week have hardly been sufficient for the demand and there is a brisk call for both fancy hogs and fancy calves. Choice light veal bring 13 1/2 to 14 1/2 cents, choice light pork 10 to 12 1/2 cents.

Hop Market Revives

Contracting of hops around Yakima has again revived interest in the local crop. There will be little or no carry-over this year among Oregon growers. Trading has been quiet of late as few remaining lots are in strong hands. Contracts at Yakima were made at 16 cents and at 15 cents for three cars crop. Coast hops are bringing 20 to 23 cents on the New York market.

Several million pounds of old crop Oregon prunes are yet to be disposed of. The market is quiet, although prices hold generally steady in the face of the short new crop coming on. New crop prunes will run less than 30,000,000 pounds in this state, according to late estimates, or about 40 per cent of normal. Eastern jobbers are quoting last year's crops of 40-50 in 25 pound boxes at eight cents a pound.

The cherry movement in the valley is about over for this year with the total considerably below the 20 cars predicted earlier in the season. Salem buyers have ceased their activities and it is expected that one or two more cars will see the wind-up of the season.

LABOR SUPPLY AGAIN NORMAL

With the end of the active cherry and berry season having been reached, the labor situation in the vicinity of Salem, which had been acute for more than a week, was today reported to have assumed an almost normal aspect. A few scattered calls for cherry pickers were still coming in today, but Stio Phillips, in charge of the local employment bureau, stated that he was having little difficulty in supplying employer demands. Applications for work and for workers were about breaking even, he stated.

The season for flax pulling has actively begun, and numerous calls have come in since the first of the week for workers to pull flax by hand, most of the smaller flax growers, using that method rather than securing the expensive flax pulling machines. Little or no trouble is being experienced, Phillips reported, in getting enough flax pullers to supply the demand.

VOGAL CONCERT GIVEN AT CHURCH IN TURNER

Turner, Or., July 5.—On Monday night of this week, Henry H. Shields gave one of his delightful vocal concerts at the new Christian church in Turner. It was composed of sacred songs interspersed with songs of the northland and songs of Scotland and Ireland. During the course of the concert Professor Shields gave the history of the recording of the human voice on the phonograph record and as a proof played one of his own records "On Calvary." He sang parts of the song with the phonograph and the audience was hardly able to distinguish the voice of the singer from the record.

Professor Shields was assisted in the concert by his wife and daughter, Lois, and was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Frank Zinn of Salem. Professor Shields was the soloist and song leader at the Oregon Christian Missionary convention which was held in Turner last week.

FINAL CAR OF CHERRIES WILL MOVE TONIGHT

With shipment this evening of a car of Lauberta by the black cherry association the shipping deal in the city will practically close for the season, although Manager Brooks stated he still expects to ship out some less than carload lots, but the carlot shipments will end for today.

Reports from shippers as to car lot shipments for the season are as follows:
Denney & company.....9 cars
Young & Wells.....7 cars
Association.....5 cars

Total.....21 cars
This exceeds by four cars the estimated total for the season. In addition to the above Denney & company shipped two cars from McMinnville.

Roy Hurst, local manager for Denney & company, stated today he has received report on a car arriving at Boston and that it was in first class shape.
Young & Wells reports two cars in Chicago in fine condition. Manager Brooks of the association reports arrival of two cars in Chicago for inspection in prime condition, the cars being routed on to Pittsburg because of a report of low prices in Chicago and high prices in the Pittsburg market.
Every report on black cherry shipments so far indicate perfect condition of the cherries on arrival and better quality than any yet seen with the exception of the first mixed car.

SECRETARY WORK VISITS SCHOOL HERE

"From Alabama," the young woman said.

"She won't stay long," the cabin member remarked in the superintendent who was showing him about the school. "When they look like that they soon get married."

The Indian problem is a big one, Secretary Work declared, but the big part of it is not in the schools, but after the students leave the schools. He refused any information as to what the future Indian policy is going to be, particularly relative to Chemawa. No policy has been determined upon, he said, as to extension of courses, enrollment of Indian students from Alaska and future appropriations. But he is decidedly in favor of greater stress on manual training than on books. This he expressed repeatedly.

"The thing to do," he said, "is to teach them the things by which they can make a living after they are out of school."

Secretary Work inspected all departments thoroughly. He mused up one neatly made-up bed to examine the mattress, and scrutinized the work of some girls as they carved meat in the kitchen. All of his remarks about the school were complimentary.

Dr. Work came to Salem alone last night and spent the night with an old friend, C. A. Park, whose wife is a cousin of Dr. Work by marriage. Also he visited another boyhood friend, John T. Ross.
At Chemawa he was joined by Governor Pierce and State Engineer Luper, with whom he drove to Portland and who will accompany him to eastern Oregon.
