LABOR DISPUTE AT TOLEDO ENDS IN RIOT BY MOB

Toledo, July 12.—Fists flew and blood flowed here Sunday in the culmination of a disagreement of several weeks standing between certain laboring people and the Pacific Spruce corporation over the employment of Japanese in the company's sawmill. At the conclusion of the battle, a mob rounded up the Japanese, loaded them and all their belongings into automobiles and trucks and carried them to a point beyond the county line where they deposited them to shift for themselves.

The march on the spruce mill followed a brief but fiery mass meeting in the streets at which agitators harangued the crowd. A mob of about 400 or more men, women and children, led by a man waving an American flag, then proceeded to the Japanese quarters.

Armed guards employed by the company met the leaders of the mob and warned them not to trespass on the company's property, but the surging crowd quickly overpowered the guards and threw their weapons into the bay. The fighting, with bare fists, then became general. Some of the mill office force were severely beaten, and some of the townsmen suffered bloody pummelings. No weapons were used.

Officers of the Pacific Spruce corporation, including C. D. Johnson, president, tried to reason with the mob, which, however, was creating such an uproar that no argument could be heard.

When the leaders of the attackers finally gained access to the Japanese, they told them that transportation was awaiting, and to pack up and leave. This the Japanese did without resistance, and they were not molested.

Sheriff Horstall arrived on the scene with his deputy, who placed Martin Guernsey, Charles A. Buck and W. R. Colver under arrest as leaders. The crowd was ordered to disperse and did so reluctantly. The names of at least 50 of the agitators were taken by the sheriff and they probably will be prosecuted. Some members of the crowd were taken to jail.

PRIEST TELLS OF HOLY LAND

Mt. Angel, July 12.—Actual conditions in north Africa, in Palestine and the Holy Land, were aptly described by Father Berchthold, O. S. B., before a large audience in the school auditorium on Thursday evening. Father Berchthold returned recently from a visit of several months in Europe, Asia Minor and other countries bordering the Mediterranean. The scenery of water in the Holy Land and the resulting uncleanness, the poor quality of food, the lack of transportation, and other inconvenient factors require tourists to have hardy constitutions to withstand the rigors of traveling in this country, said Father Berchthold. He described the shrines erected by the various denominations in Jerusalem, the walk he took from Jerusalem to Emmaus, the wealth of the delta district along the Nile. He also told of riding on a camel.

Father Berchthold spent some time in Rome also and attended the beatification ceremonies for Jeanne d'Arc. He visited relatives in Switzerland.

REED WINS FALLS FROM PAUL AMORT

Silverton, Or., July 12.—(Special)—About 250 wrestling fans gathered at the Hippodrome of Silverton last night to witness the wrestling match between Robin Reed and Paul Amort. A preliminary match was held in which Ray Able and Mickey Colbo took part. This match was won by Able, who took the first fall in 15 minutes and the second in 10 minutes.

In the main event between Reed and Amort, Reed was victorious, taking two falls in less than an hour. The first was at the end of 25 minutes and won by a leg hammerlock hold. The second fall came after 16 minutes with a short arm scissor hold. Ted Thye refereed the match.

Another wrestling match is to be held in about two weeks. "Seven Per Cent" Stevens of Albany, nicknamed "Kid" Duane of Silverton and the challenger was accepted but no date was set.

AMERICAN ARCHITECTURE IS ASSAILED BY ITALIANS

Rome—The vandals who swept down upon Rome in the early centuries of the Christian era, destroying wondrously the great monuments of the empire, and the gentry of the middle ages who continued the destruction by tearing down such magnificent structures as the Colosseum to obtain free stone, did less to destroy the beauty and personality of the city than modern architects and builders are doing.

This is the latest of hundreds of Italian and foreign artists and lovers of architectural beauty who complain that the curse of standardization has fallen upon modern Italian architecture. The charm of old Rome, they say, will have been sacrificed within a decade to the ill conceived idea of making the city a weak imitation of some bustling unbeautifully modern American town.

Scores of ugly apartment houses, each like the next, with no architectural distinction, are rapidly being built in the new Prati and Ludovici quarters and in many other sections of the city, while most of the new public buildings are distinguished only by their ugliness.

LEG THOT FRACTURED; DEVELOPS INTO GOUT

Berlin, Germany.—Patrons of the Berliner theater have witnessed nightly the odd spectacle of the conductor, Herr Schmidt-Gentner, being carried by two stalwart men into the pit and gently placed in his seat.

The conductor was injured by a fall and the first doctor who examined him diagnosed his injury as a fractured leg. The member was placed in a plaster cast, but as the intense pains continued a second doctor made an X-ray examination, but found no trace of a fracture. Instead, Herr Schmidt-Gentner was suffering from gout, but he insisted upon fulfilling his contract with the theater.

Banner Section Agent Now Is Full Fledged United States Citizen

Brooks, July 12.—Peter Stokx of Gervais, foreman of section 8, Southern Pacific company, is now a citizen of the United States of America, having passed his examination satisfactorily and received his papers.

Section No. 8 extends from Gervais to Brooks and beyond near a mile, and has been the banner section of this district since it was taken by him a few years ago when he moved to Gervais from Mt. Angel. Mr. Stokx winning the medal and the prize money each year.

He has learned what he knows about railroading and also about our country, its language, books and laws, by "digging" it out for himself. He is a native of Holland, near the Belgian border, and got very little schooling in the old country, and none after he was eleven years of age, being sent out to herd cows at ten cents a day, enough to eat, to buy clothes and wooden shoes barely.

After he was two years in this country, landing here at 26, he was able to be foreman of a "gang." This, on the Great Northern railroad, in Minnesota. He says that a great deal of his early education, especially in railroading and its rules, was thru the encouragement of a certain station agent who held a job near his own. This man would drop anything he could that was doing to assist him in deciphering some "bosser" letter or message that had been received in our difficult English, or help him in the numerous problems that come up to confront the newly arrived.

At night, with the aid of simple books and the daily papers, he learned to read and later learned writing and arithmetic.

When asked what he thought of the examination he replied by saying that he would not take money for what he had learned at the school and from the questions given. The day was hot, and listening to the many who were examined, tedious and the worry of it all caused him a bad headache, but when the examiner said, "Peter, you're all right, go and sit with the others." He says "My headache was gone."

Now he is very anxious for his wife to take the examination for she has been with him in his climbing, since he left the old country, and he wishes her to share with him this last honor, of being a nephew of Uncle Sam.

should be paramount in the election of all judicial offices.

"Speaking more in detail a judge should be industrious, patient, conscientious, courageous and firm. He should be well grounded in the fundamentals of the law and his character should be absolutely and superlative.

"In the very nature of things, there can be no such combination as a dishonest individual and an honest judge in the same personality. The standards of dishonesty and those of integrity are too inconsistent and incompatible to cohabit the same mind.

"A judge should begin all investigations with an open mind and should never hastily and rashly rush to conclusions.

"So long as there is any question of either law or fact in doubt he should diligently inquire for the truth.

"No judge should use the functions of his office as a means of personal gain or as a means of political advancement or as a means of personal aggrandizement.

"The judicial department has no concern as the motives, wisdom or policy of statutes; therefore it should be absolutely non-political. No person should be elevated to judicial office because of his political affiliation or partisan activities.

RAULSTON TELLS QUALIFICATIONS OF GOOD JURIST

Dayton, Tenn., July 12.—(AP)—Judge John T. Raulston, presiding at the Scales' trial here today, gave his conceptions of the necessary qualifications of a judge in an interview granted to newspaper reporters here.

"In the maintenance of a republican form of government, it is essential that powers be distributed into legislative, judicial and executive departments," said the judge.

"The judicial department has no concern as the motives, wisdom or policy of statutes; therefore it should be absolutely non-political. No person should be elevated to judicial office because of his political affiliation or partisan activities.
