Today marked the close of a 30 day period during which Salem has been without rain. Early during the morning of June 21, just 30 days ago, a slight precipitate occurred, enough to moisten the ground. Observers gauge but not enough to measure. June 11 was the date of the last rain to fall in sufficient amount to be measurable. On that date .02 of an inch of moisture fell. Today slightly clouded skies indicated the possibility that a change might occur within a few days, although no positive assurance was given. The level of the Willamette river at Salem has fallen from 1.9 feet above normal on June 11 to .3 foot above normal on June 21 and 1.4 feet below normal at 7 o'clock this morning.

The new swimming pool at the corner of Perry and south Liberty streets will be opened for use "next week some time," unless something further happens to prevent the opening, according to statement made this morning by Otto Klatt, owner of the establishment. A number of delays have been encountered since the establishment was first projected, most of the delays having to do with the well, which has been drilled to a depth of 200 feet. A rumor that he was drilling for salt water, generally thought to be a correct rumor, was not admitted by Klatt to be true. Whether true or not, when the well reached a depth of 300 feet Klatt stopped drilling. A water heater has been installed, and the first of the equipment to go with the swimming tank has arrived.

CHAMPION HAS RIVAL IN LOCAL GIRL PUGILIST

Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world had better take care of his laurels. Another champion is right here in Salem and from all evidences will make Dempsey get out and step. The coming champion, furthermore happens to be of the weaker sex. The aspirant to the crown is Miss Nell Mitchell, waitress at the Valley Grill. A worthy battle which ended up in the use of fists ensued this morning between Miss Mitchell and Harry Corn, proprietor of the restaurant, which resulted in Corn being vanquished and both eyes well matched.

The argument started over the mixing of some laundry which Corn claimed was mixed by Miss Mitchell. Miss Mitchell absolutely had nothing to do with the mixing, according to her reply. The fight then took on further excitement when Miss Mitchell sent a right to Corn's eye. Corn then threw her weight and hit Mitchell with a blow to the nose. Miss Mitchell's arms were considerably scratched from contact with the wall. Corn's eyes promise to be of different hue before long.

After many blows the couple was separated by Miss Mitchell's sister. Both of the girls were ordered out and they refused to go until they received their wages. Corn refused to come through with the money. They seemed quite peeved at the turn of affairs and were threatening to file a lien against Corn for their wages, according to them this afternoon. Mrs. Corn called the aid of the police but things had settled down to a natural calm by the time they arrived.

Two customers' wages waited for at the team and wagon while the battle raged.

CHARITY CALLS FOR $150 FUND

An appeal has been sent out by the Associated Charities of Salem for funds with which to continue its work in Salem during the summer months. Giving out of small sums here and there in the city have depleted the treasury to such an extent that an immediate need exists for at least $150.

Persons in sympathy with the work of the Associated Charities, which has been highly commended for its handling needy cases in the city, have been asked to communicate with George Arbuckle, treasurer of the organization, and leave their contributions with him.

A woman's conference and inspirational meeting, in which the wives of members of the synod and others participated, was held this morning. Mrs. A. W. Blackburn, president of the synodical society, presided.

CLIMBERS BACK FROM LOGAN TOP

Corдова, Alaska, July 21.—(A. P.)—On their way to their homes after reaching the summit of Mount Logan, 19,850 feet high, in Yukon territory, four members of an expedition of eight, led by Captain A. H. McCarthy of Summit, N. J., arrived here last night.

With Captain McCarthy were W. W. Foster of Vancouver, B. C., Alan Carpet of New York and H. Lambert of Ottawa. Norman H. Reed of Boston, arrived a week ago. They are to depart for Seattle Tuesday. McCarthy, Foster and Carpet took of a narrow escape in the waters of the Chitina river when the raft on which they had embarked turned over in an eddy at the mouth of a tributary river. The man battled the swift current for hours in an attempt to reach the raft on a sand bar, but damage tied underneath imperilled.

Today afternoon, she had been cared for at the Salem hospital since the accident. Miss Eva Hopkins will remain at the hospital for a considerable time. Miss Haltzel will not be able to leave her bed at home for several weeks, local hospital authorities declare.

QUEER TASTE IN WATER GENERAL; PURITY TESTED

A peculiar, nauseating taste in the drinking water of the Salem water system first reported yesterday, was still baffling local water company authorities today as to its cause. They reported this morning that investigations are still being carried on. The water is tested daily and nothing harmful has yet been found in it.

The only possible clue yet hit upon is the fact that new water mains have been installed at various points in the city. The mains contain a protective coating of coal tar on the inside, which is harmless but which might affect the taste of the water until the coating wears away. However, the new sections of pipe have been installed over a period of several months, and reports from patrons who noticed the taste in their water did not begin to come in until yesterday, which is believed to indicate that some other factor has caused the water to become bitter and nauseating to the taste. Furthermore, indications are that the peculiar taste is practically universal throughout the city, including many sections to which water passes without going through new mains. Water from hydrants within two blocks of the water plant has the same taste as water from hydrants at distant parts of the city.

The water company uses a small quantity of hypochlorite of lime in the water to disinfect it, but is now using it in no larger quantities than for the past 14 years, company officials state.

TESTIMONY OF BRYAN IS THROWN OUT

public later a series of questions he would have asked Clarence Darrow, Dudley Field Malone and Arthur Hays, if he had had the opportunity to examine them as witnesses.

It was explained that the defense's testimony on which it relied to acquit Scopes having been excluded, the defense would state to the jury that it could ask a verdict of "not guilty" and was satisfied when it was pointed out that the defense to officially admit guilt would deprive it of the right to appeal. The record would show it was said, that the verdict of guilty was in due and regular form.

The jury has not heard any of the testimony of the defense, "test witnesses," Dr. Maynard M. Metcalf, nor the statements read into the record a from scientists and biblical scholars. The only information officially reaching the court that an appeal might be made to the supreme court of Tennessee and possibly to the United States supreme court.

Clarence Darrow, of defense counsel, said that he would make such a statement to the jury. The suggestion that the judge direct a verdict of "guilty" was discarded when it was pointed out that the defense to officially admit guilt would deprive it of the right to appeal. The record would show it was said, that the verdict of guilty was in due and regular form.

"I feel that the testimony of Mr. Bryan can shed no light on any issue that will be pending before the higher courts," the judge said in expunging Bryan's testimony.

"The issue is whether Mr. Scopes taught that man descended from a lower order of animal. I feel that Mr. Bryan's testimony cannot aid the higher courts," he repeated. "Therefore I am pleased to expunge this testimony from the records of this court."

In discussing the court's ruling Clarence Darrow said:

"We have no proof to offer."

He suggested that the jury be brought in.

Arthur G. Hays, for the purpose of perfecting the record in the event of an appeal, read a list of the witnesses the defense would have offered had they been permitted to do so, and took a formal exception.

He also asked that the record show that Scopes had a contract to teach in the Rhea county school from September to May 1.

DEMPSEY WILL FIRE KEARNS AS MANAGER

Omaha, Neb., July 21.—(A. P.)—"I am going to manage my own affairs after 1926," Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, told Omaha newspaper men during a brief stop in Omaha this morning, on route to the Pacific coast. "I am going to settle all my real estate affairs with Jack Kearns and when his contract expires in September, 1926, I am going to strike out alone."

STATE BAPTIST CONVENTION AT ASTORIA OPENS

Astoria, Ore., July 21.—The keynote of the Oregon State Baptist convention, meeting in annual session today at the First Baptist church here will be sounded tonight in the annual sermon to be preached by Dr. T. J. Vilers, pastor of the First Baptist church of Portland.

There is a distinct undercurrent of feeling among the 75 ministerial delegates who arrived in Astoria Monday preparatory to the opening of the convention that the doctrinal differences between modernist and fundamentalist Baptists must be kept out of the convention. Whether or not this can be achieved remains problematical.

This morning was devoted largely to the ministerial conference which precedes the general session. Addresses were to be made by Rev. L. L. Leonard of Baker; Dr. Daniel Bryant of Corvallis; Dr. W. B. Hinson of Portland; Rev. J. F. Huckleberry of Carlton; Dr. O. C. Wright of Portland; Rev. W. H. Robins of Pendleton and Dr. W. H. Eaton of Medford.

During coincidentally with the ministerial conference was the meeting of the State Baptist Women's Society.

COUNCIL MAY PUT END TO BOXING HERE

the law, as interpreted as a prize fight, and prize fights are absolutely prohibited.

The question came up when someone discovered that while Scopes had a city boxing commission, appointed several years ago after enactment of the state law on the subject, the city council has never enacted the city ordinance that is necessary to legalize the boxing commission. Consequently an ordinance for the purpose was drawn up and placed into the hands of the ordinance committee.

Alderman Rosebraugh and Purvine sent out a majority report disapproving the ordinance and suggesting a minority report recommending its passage. Rosebraugh, when asked to explain, said he knew of no objection to boxing matches as put on here at present and he was opposed to passing the ordinance for the reason that it, like many other ordinances, would be a useless appendage, would be the ordinance would place the city under a financial responsibility for the matches, which could mean that if a boxer were killed or seriously injured in the ring as a result of failure of the physician member of the commission to give him a proper examination, the city could be held for heavy damages.

Purvine's objection was that the ordinance would place the city in the boxing business and place upon it a responsibility that is not desirable. He added that the matches as held here have been orderly affairs and that he could see no use for the act.

TELEPHONE SUPERVISOR TELLS OF THE BENEFIT RECEIVED BY TAKING LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Leavenworth, Kansas.—"My work was long-distance operating and I got into a very nervous state and was all run-down. I was easily annoyed at trifles, was extremely nervous and always had a tired feeling which made me awfully listless. Through a newspaper I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thinking it would help me, I was less annoyed and more lively. It took away that dragging feeling and improved my health in every way. I was able to continue my work with more vigor than before and I recommend this vegetable compound to all young girls. I am married now and have a big baby boy and am in the best of health. If I should ever have any trouble I'll take the Vegetable Compound again, for I know it will help me as it did before."

—Mrs. O. W. THUR, 925 Pawnee St., Leavenworth, Kansas.
