FISHERMAN IS TREED BY DEER ALONG SANTIAM

P. H. Acton of this city today related an experience which he went through last Sunday when he was attacked by a buck deer while fishing in the north fork of the Santiam river, some 10 miles east of Medama. The incident took place at about 5 o'clock Sunday morning.

Acton was passing down the river from camp, fishing as he went, when he suddenly noticed an object coming down the stream toward him. When the object was about 100 yards from him, Acton made a noise, attempting to frighten it, but without success.

The object kept coming down the stream, and Acton recognized it as a buck deer. When the deer was directly opposite him, Acton clapped his hands together, expecting that the sound would frighten the animal, causing it to emerge from the stream on the opposite bank and disappear. Instead of that, however, the animal came directly toward Acton, who promptly took refuge in a sapling slightly less than a foot thick, which was growing close at hand. The deer remained at the foot of the tree for several minutes, apparently waiting for the man to come down, and then moved slowly away.

Acton waited until the animal was well out of sight before descending to the ground. He stated today that he was unable to tell what caused the deer's actions, but ventured the guess that it had been attacked by a cougar or some other animal.

RIFF TRIBESMEN IN FULL RETREAT

Fez, French Morocco, July 22.—(AP)—The Rifian tribesmen are now in full retreat from the Ouzouza river northward closely pursued by a French detachment with artillery along the right bank of the stream.

This together with other indications, gathered by the French intelligence service show that the leader of the rebellious tribesmen, Abd-el-Krim, has given up the idea of attacking the center and is reverting to the plan of attacking the wings, for which he is missing his regular troops in the regions of Ouzouza and Taza. Ouzouza is located about sixty miles northwest of Fez, headquarters of the French troops in Morocco and objective of Abd-el-Krim; Taza is about the same distance to the east.

Reinforcements for the French army are reaching the zone in increasing numbers.

MILLAN HAS ROUGH VOYAGE

Washington, July 23.—(A. P.)—The MacMillan Arctic ship Bowdoin is having rough voyage northward from Hopedale, Labrador. It was indicated today in a delayed radio message received by the National Geographic Society that the ship was in trouble.

Yesterday the Bowdoin was making better than 10 knots under smiling skies and digging her nose into rough seas which laid low eight men out of eleven and made successful of the contents of our refrigerator. Not a man missed his trick at the wheel or on deck but the consumption of food dropped to a minimum. Today we are swinging around on a heavy roll with a warm sun and slight overcast skies.

CASE OF FORMER GERMAN CONSUL IS BEFORE JURY

Portland, July 22.—The county grand jury today considered charges against Clement J. Pape, former German vice-consul, that he is $50,000 short in his accounts with the Shanghai Building company, with which he was connected up to June of this year.

Thomas J. Greene, of counsel for Pape, characterized the case as "an attempt to use the criminal arm of the law to settle civil actions against the accused man."

Thomas G. Ryan, attorney for the company, said today he and representatives of the company are convinced that there was no justification for a charge that Pape had given costly presents to a girl. They believe Pape's statements, he said, that he had merely given her some help in the support of her family, made difficult when her mother was made invalid by apoplexy.

CHICAGO'S NEW DEPOT OPENED

Chicago, July 23.—(AP)—The new $40,000,000 Chicago Union station, covering 35 acres and used by four railroads was formally opened today, six weeks after some of its facilities began to function.

Ranking with the Grand Central and Pennsylvania stations in New York as the largest railroad depots in the country, the station has accommodations for 200 trains daily, for 30,000 passengers and 400 tons of baggage.

The main waiting room is so large that three regulation size baseball diamonds could be laid out in it. There is a jail for transient prisoners, a chapel, a morgue for the dead, and a hospital for the sick.

The owners of the station are the Pennsylvania railroad, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul. The Chicago and Alton is a tenant.

ATTEMPT TO REMOVE BLEAT FROM GOATS

DROP EFFORT TO HALT ERECTION OF GAS STATION

Contractors building a service station at the corner of Court and North Capitol streets were left free to continue erecting the station this afternoon when Robert K. Page, acting as attorney for a group of residents in the vicinity of the property, who had brought suit asking for an injunction, moved to dismiss the case. Sentiment in the community in opposition to the proposed establishment some two weeks ago culminated in suit being brought to enjoin the contractor from proceeding with construction. He had made a contract with Fred Thielsen, representing the Thielsen estate, which entitled him to use of the property for a period of 10 years, it is stated.

Mr. Thielsen declared this afternoon that work of construction will proceed at once. A halt was called when the suit was filed and work was held at a standstill since that time.

Mr. Page stated that the principal reason for moving to dismiss the suit has been the difficulty in proving a nuisance, which was the main grounds upon which suit was brought. Since the service station is not yet built an obvious difficulty presented itself in showing that it would be a nuisance. Mr. Thielsen's only evidence permissible would have been facts derived from other stations of a similar nature already built.

Mr. Page expresses the belief, that after the station is completed it will be a comparatively easy matter to have it abolished by bringing suit to abate a nuisance. Direct evidence will then be on hand, he declares.

No answer had been filed to the original complaint brought in behalf of residents of the neighborhood. The final date when an answer could be filed would have been next Saturday, July 25.

PIERCE SEEKS ESCAPE THRU TECHNICALITY

disputed either or them. Governor Garland himself stated that the governor begged him for two hours on that day to accept the appointment and he finally agreed to do so. One Portland newspaper editorially commented on the appointment of Garland and Garland wrote a lengthy letter to the same newspaper about it. Then as soon as Garland returned from California he sat in on a meeting of the fish commission in Portland. He took no part in the meeting for the reason that he had not yet qualified.

Senator Eddy interviewed in Roseburg today, stated that at the conference on June 1, in which Senators Beals, Garland and Joseph were in attendance besides the governor and himself, that he acquiesced in the agreement for the appointment of Garland as a member of the commission, and that Governor Pierce said he would appoint Garland upon the latter's return from California, where he went for a short visit.

Senator Eddy declined to make any extended statement at this time, other than to say that his efforts have been devoted, and still will be, to secure the appointment of a southern Oregon man on the commission.

When Attorney General Van Winkle handed down an opinion holding that Beals could not legally serve as a member of the fish commission for the reason that he was a member of the legislature, the same opinion applied also to Garland. The result was that Garland did not have a voice in any meeting of the commission.

Observers today are offering the suggestion that the governor may be somewhat influenced in his technical denial by the fact that he does not care to have commissioner Veatch quit him cold while the matter of selecting a successor is still in the air.

22 PRISONERS IN COUNTY JAIL

With 22 men now in jail Sheriff Bower is again giving thought to what he will do with more than 100 in the structure before he can get rid of a few now on the job.

The jail will hold approximately 25 prisoners, although a few more can be crowded in by putting cots in the corridor. There are eight cells in the structure, each of the cells being designed to hold three men, although the sheriff states on a pinch a few might be crowded into a few of the cells above the normal number.

BAPTISTS NEAR END OF SESSION

Astoria, July 23.—Although the state Baptist convention continues until Saturday it will reach its climax late this afternoon when H. M. Sherwood principal of the Buckman school of Portland, will present recommendations for the revision of the state church constitution, including possible changes in the declaration of faith.

The essential interest of the convention is focused upon this matter, which is expected to have strong influence upon the election of officers scheduled for just before adjournment. Dr. Whitecomb, R. Housholder of Los Angeles, former Portland pastor, is attending today. While he has no vote on the floor, he is understood to be exerting a powerful influence in support of the fundamentalist faction.

The program today is devoted to business matters. The convention is to decide future policy with reference to Linfield college and take up the problem of constitutional revision.

PORTLAND ATTORNEY ASKS FEE FROM STATE

W. F. LaRouch, attorney of Portland who appeared in the E. Henry Vennie estate case, representing the attorney general at La Roche's own request, has written Attorney General Van Winkle expressing his displeasure because the supreme court did not allow him a fee for his services. He points out that Judge Coates of Portland received $25,000, and attorneys Annis and Powers $15,000 for their services, while he, the nominal winner in the case didn't get a cent. He wants to know if something can't be done to get him a fee. The supreme court opinion held that as a representative of the attorney general's office La Roche had no right to collect a fee.
