

$275,000 IS PAID FOR 1925 CROP OF LOGANBERRIES

2750 TONS GIVEN AS APPROXIMATE YIELD THIS YEAR

The loganberry season virtually came to an end yesterday although still a few soft berries are being received for barrelling purposes.

It is estimated that between 2500 and 2600 tons were handled in Salem, or sent out from here, which on a basis of 5 cents a pound for 2750 tons, splitting the difference on the estimates, means approximately $275,000 in real money poured into the community from the loganberry. Every cent of this was paid in cash, there being no cooperative handling this class of fruit.

Out of this it is figured along in the neighborhood of $100,000 went into the hands of pickers who averaged a cent and three quarters a pound for picking. The picking price started off at a cent and a half, then went to two cents and as high as two and a quarter cents before the season closed, a cent and a quarter being figured a fair average.

With this tonnage and the amount of money involved for growers and pickers the loganberry has become an exceedingly lively crop.

A year or two ago the loganberry was interred as a productive berry as far as profit was concerned, the growers were being wrangled about it. While the funeral services were held the burial didn't take place, as Mr. Logan hopped from the pier and this year tumbled into a fairly good money maker.

Libby, McNeill & Libby shipped out their last truck of logan last night to The Dalles, on their deal which started off at 150 tons and that mark to shoot at and it is estimated quite a bit over 350 tons were sent out by the time the last truck load pulled away from the warehouse. This deal has been in charge of Earl Peacy.

Reports are that the loganberry canes are looking fine, much better than at this time last year with prospects of more of a tonnage from the same acreage next year than there was this.

Not a ripple of talk is being heard among farmers about planting more loganberry. It is pretty generally understood that the logan will probably continue to be a pretty fair berry to grow for those who already have it and take care of their yards, but that any spasmodic attempt to increase acreage would undoubtedly spell another period of gloom for everybody in the business.

Everybody connected with the business advises against further plantings as it is predicted they would lead only to another probable disaster. The loganberry market has just emerged from a long period made up of one catastrophe after another and canners, growers and everyone alike are against taking any chance on repeating the old story.

It is said under present conditions everyone concerned can look forward hopefully to a number of fairly good years with loganberry, but materially increased plantings, or even a bumper crop with the acreage now in might spell a different story.

It is figured that even this year, with a short crop to start on, that the hot spell cut off 20 per cent of that crop.

MELON MARKET OVERSUPPLIED BUT PRICE FIRM

Portland, July 25—The local market is struggling under heavy supplies, especially of watermelons. The quantity of many cars are on the tracks and the quality of much of the stock is poor, but at the same time prices are firm at shipping point.

To a lesser degree other commodities are in over-supply as they usually are at this season, when shipments from California and Washington crowd in here at about the same time a large variety of truck is coming from local fields.

Local celery is lower at 75¢ per dozen, according to size. Tomatoes are plentiful but steady at $1.50 per No. 1.

No changes were made in butter or egg quotations as the dairy exchange. There was a good local demand for butter and supplies available were limited. Eggs also sold well and the tone of the market was steady.

Owing to continued dry weather, necessitating the purchase of large quantities of hay and feed, and advancing prices of dairy products generally, the price of Tillamook cheese was advanced one cent. Triples are quoted at 25 cents and loaf at 26, Tillamook.

Poultry was in fair supply on the street and about steady. Country dressed pork was firm at 20 to 21 cents. The demand for veal was quiet.

Smaller Production of Fruit Trees and Higher Prices Rule This Year

W. C. Franklin, J. W. Maruny, H. L. Peary and Knight Peary have returned from Portland where they attended the annual meeting of the Northwest Nurserymen's association. Mr. Franklin appeared on the program with a paper on bulb growing.

Careful statistics collected by the secretary of this organization disclosed that there is a much lighter production of fruit trees this year than for several years and indications are for a still lighter crop of trees for the season of 1926-7. This is due to the fact that the nurseries have had greatly reduced their plantings the past few years, due to a curtailed demand on the part of fruit growers. It was brought out that many varieties of trees have been selling at cost of production the past year and that prices were sold in many instances at below cost of production.

In general the price of fruit trees will be higher this year than during the past two years. Four to six foot prune trees which sold in Salem last year at 10 cents are priced by the Portland nurseries at 25 and 30 cents in hundred lots. Nurserymen expressed the opinion that even though there were no new orchards of prune trees planted this season that the supply of trees in the nurseries would be enough to replant only half of the young orchards that were winter killed last year, since the apple boom of fifteen years ago that trees of this variety were short.

The nut nurserymen present reported prices about the same level as last year. The walnut nurserymen had more luck in their grafting this spring but have not boosted their prices any.

The sentiment of the nurserymen present was that they would be able to make a legitimate profit this year, despite the smaller stocks than usual and that they would not be forced to burn trees at the end of the year as they have been forced to do the past few years.

The Salem delegation made a fight to bring the next meeting to Salem but a thirly element among the membership prevailed and Victoria, B. C. was selected.

The whole Willamette valley is suffering from attacks of cutworms. Damage in the Salem section was first noticed in the Lakeland vegetable section. Some of the Japanese gardeners there lost as much as half an acre of celery within a space of two days before they commenced to combat the pest. Tom of poisonous bait has since been spread in the Lakeland section with the result that the worms are now pretty well under control.

The latest case against this voracious worm is that of rain-forest lawns and flowers in the lawns of many Salem residents. Working at night as it does the cutworm often does a lot of damage before he is found out. Brown spots in the lawn are often caused by his feeding around the base of the

Flax Pullers Found Successful; Reports Are Only Propaganda

Because of propaganda that has been loosed in the community to the effect that the flax pullers used in the Marion county flax fields would not pull green flax successfully, members of the Capital Journal staff yesterday investigated to ascertain if the reports were true.

On the contrary it was found that the pullers work perfectly. Two of the machines were observed yesterday, and both were working along without stops, doing a clean job of pulling. Their operation was equally successful in dry, green and very green flax.

The Ball brothers of Turner are using a machine that is operating its second season, and they claim for it a 100 per cent job of pulling. Some of the flax in which it was operated yesterday was of exceptionally fine quality, long and green and running about three tons to the acre. Ball brothers are averaging with this machine from seven to 10 acres a day, but say they could easily pull 12 acres.

On the Bradley farm near Aumsville the pioneer machine of them all was at work. This is its third season in Oregon and it is being brought here it was used for demonstration purposes in Canada. It goes along steadily all day, and Mr. Bradley says it is of inestimable value to him as compared with the old expensive method of hand-pulling. If a flax crop happens to be four inches or thereabouts below first class, says Bradley, the grower can run into a ditch if he pulls by hand, but he can make money by machine pulling.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

POULTRYMEN HONOR HOO DRIVER FANCIER

Corvallis, July 25—C. D. Nickels, of Hood River was elected president of the Oregon Poultrymen's association which closed its third annual convention here late yesterday.

Edward Snow, Monroe, was chosen vice-president; H. E. Coeby, Corvallis, secretary-treasurer; and W. J. Warner, Medford, and H. R. Putnam, Clackamas, the two directors for the coming year.

It was decided to make an effort to get the 1926 convention of the national Poultrymen's association for Portland.

Form to the plans and specifications therefor on file at the office of the architect, John V. Benne, 1040 Chamber of Commerce building, Portland, Oregon, and at the office of E. M. Smith, State Agricultural College, Corvallis, Oregon.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to whom it may concern, that in pursuance of an order made and entered of record in the county court of Marion County, Oregon, on the 13th day of July, 1925, in the matter of the estate of T. G. Bligh, deceased, the undersigned administrator of said estate will sell at private sale for cash or part cash, to be secured by a first mortgage lien or the whole or a part of the hereinafter described premises on and after the 22d day of August, 1925, at Salem, Oregon, subject to confirmation of the Circuit Court, the following described real and personal property:

Certain furnishings and other properties located in the Bligh hotel, Bligh hotel lobby, Cherry City Hotel, Bligh apartments, Liberty apartments, apartments at 532 State street; apartments at 646

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

Wool Market Quiet Awaiting Strike Result

Boston, July 25—The Commercial Bulletin says today: Activity in the wool markets has been more quiet this past week and a waiting disposition is manifest, pending the opening of staple goods Monday by the American Woolen company. Prices, however, were generally steady, with some moderate asking prices are now in evidence. The trade regards the future optimistically, however, in spite of the probable strike in Yorkshire spinning. Foreign primary markets are steady, while London unduly high because of the need of spot wool, in the early part of the sale, closed mostly part to 10 per cent higher than last week.

Conditions in the goods market generally are regarded as healthy.

YES, I bought these Tools at

W. E. BURNS—DAN BURNS

(NOT BROTHERS—THE SAME MAN)

High Street at Ferry, Salem, Oregon

...If you do your own work on your car, see our line of Tools...

PARTS FOR ALL CARS

AUTO TOPS

AUTO PAINTING

AUTO GLASS

WOODWORKING

TRIMMING

We do any of the above work giving our customers the best in quality, material and ideas.

Get our advice and prices on your work.

"Tom"

Wood's Auto Top Co.

Omit Wasted Footsteps

Shop Through the Columns

of the Capital Journal

PLODDING, plodding, ever trodding—trips here, trips here, all about the town—and most steps wasted because Madame Shopper goes unguided. Really, it's the end of a wasted day. Madame Shopper is worn and weary—without having accomplished her quest.

Of course, you can't expect Madame Shopper to know of all the good things, the good stores and the good values in town—no, not unless Madame Shopper reads the advertising each day in the Capital Journal.

How much easier everything moves in one's shopping tour, when one has first consulted the advertisements. There are the best offerings of the day listed in an orderly manner, the special services rendered by each store—where the stores are located—just like buying from a huge catalog in your home.

You'll profit by shopping through Capital Journal Advertisements

Capital Journal

HOLD OVER CROP PRUNES MOVING OUT STEADILY

With between a million and a half and two million pounds of prunes still in the hands of packers for sale this year's crop of prunes are moving out steadily but in no great volume, although it is believed the crop will be well cleaned up by the time the new crop comes in.

Robert C. Paulus reports that his holdings have all been sold off but not all for immediate delivery, about two cars still being held for later delivery.

Paulus reports considerable inquiry in new crop prunes with the big demand being for straight 30s which has resulted in no material quantity of business being done as there are but few anxious to do any business in straight 30s and then not to any extent.

Rumors are rife that some California packers are planning to put out opening prices on the new crop some time next week and these are awaited with interest.

Paulus states that canned goods generally are cleaned up the cheapest they have been cleaned up for years and that it is almost impossible to buy any logan in any grade or size and that the same is true of raspberries, with only a small dab of strawberries left. Some inquiry is reported on barbed frozen logans, blackberries and raspberries.

The pear market is reported quiet with most canners pretty well sold and canned apples are in much the same condition. Canned apples have advanced 25 cents. No. 1 solid pack going up from $4.25 to $4.50.

About all left reported to sell are canned blackberries, prunes and gooseberries, and canners are reported to be cleaning up the last of their price ideas about gooseberries considering the state of the stock of other fruits.

FAMILY OF SIX EARNS $36 IN LESS THAN 2 DAYS

As an evidence of the financial returns to be derived from flax pulling, one family named Larr reported to the local employment bureau yesterday that the family had earned $36 in approximately a day and three quarters. The family consists of 6, including several young children.