The hard luck club of the Interstate league continued their string of bad luck when the Salem Senators swamped the Hillsboro nine on the Oxford park diamond yesterday by a score of 14 to 1. This makes the third time the Hillsboro nine has met defeat at the hands of the locals. By virtue of this victory the Luckenbach nine will have to win all of their remaining games if they are to tie the locals. The Senators can now lose their next game with the shipbuilders and still be in a tie.

The locals started out in first inning and scored in every inning but two. They crossed the plate once in the first, three in the second, four in the third, once in the fourth, four in the fifth and once in the seventh. The eighth and sixth frames were the only innings the locals were blanked. Bouton, first man up, went out, Jensen to Burkholder. Proctor broke his bat and hit a pop fly to Churchley. A piece of the bat flew over and hit Barkham, star Salem twirler over the right eye. The bat cut a gash over four inches long, although it was not deep enough to be real serious. He was rushed to the hospital for medical aid. Maples walked and stole second. He scored a minute later on Steers' double. Keene walked and went to second and Steers to third on a passed ball, but Barr struck out.

In the second and third innings the locals batted around with Barr striking out with men on bases. Reinhart went out, Jensen to Burkholder. Edwards sent a hit to right field and Schackman went in to run. Schackman went to second on a passed ball. Ashby walked. Bouton attempted to sacrifice but Stutenberg threw wild to first and Schackman scored. Ashby went to third and Bouton to second. Proctor fanned. Maples got a hit and Ashby scored. Bouton going to third. Maples stole second. Keene walked and filled the bases. Barr got a fielder's choice while Keene was being thrown out at second. In the third Reinhart walked. Edwards walked. Ashby sacrificed them to second and third. Bouton went out to Meyers, who had relieved Stutenberg in the second. Proctor got a hit and Reinhart scored. Edwards stopping at third. Proctor went to second when Kretz threw to second trying to catch him and there was no one there. Edwards scored on the play. Maples singled and Proctor went to third. Maples stolen second. Steers singled and Maples and Proctor scored. Keene walked for the third consecutive time in as many innings. Barr fanned for the second time with men on base.

The locals scored one run in the fourth on three as Reinhart got a hit. Edwards got his second hit of the game. Ashby went out at first, both runners advancing on the play. Bouton singled and Reinhart tallied. Edwards was had relieved Stutenberg in the caught at the plate. Bouton stole second but was caught off a minute later.

Four more runs crossed the plate in the fifth. Proctor walked. Maples got his second hit of the game when he doubled and Proctor went to third. Steers went out at first. Burkholder threw back to Kretz in an attempt to catch Proctor who was scoring. The ball went wild and Maples also scored. Keene got a hit and stole second. He was finally caught off of second when Barr hit to third base. Barr being safe on the play. Reinhart homered over the left field fence scoring Barr ahead of him.

In their half of the fifth the visitors scored their lone tally when Jensen, second man up homed over the left field fence. Burkholder got the second hit of the game for the visitors in this inning but was unable to score. Ashby only allowed them one more hit during the game.

The Senators failed to score in the sixth although they had four men on bases.

In the seventh they annexed their final tally. Keene got a hit and went to second on Stutenberg's error. Meyers going back to third and Stutenberg returning to the mound. Barr fanned. Reinhart fanned and Keene scored on Burkholder's error. Edwards fanned. The rest of the game was stung even. Ashby was stung with his hits, allowing them only three hits and only walked one. He struck out four of the visitors.

Maples was the star of the game for the locals making several nice plays and getting four hits in as many times at bat. Keene also got two hits in as many times up. Every member of the Senators with the exception of Steers crossed the plate at least once.

The visitors went out in order for the first four innings. Only thirty men faced Ashby out of a possible twenty-seven.

Next Sunday the locals are to cross bats with one strong Luckenbach nine. If the locals are able to win the game they will be champions of the league. Edwards was priming all of his men to get in readiness for a tough game. The box score follows:

Other League Games. Albany, Or., July 27.—In twelve innings of airtight baseball here yesterday afternoon Albany defeated Camas in an Interstate league game by a score of 4 to 3. Beams scored the winning run when Camas' second baseman juggled Wilkinson's grounder. Beams got ten strikeouts and had good support. Stone of West Linn, pitching for Camas, struck out six Albany men. This was a postponed game from last week when the Camas players failed to show up for the game. The Albany team was scheduled to play Luckenbach but the shipbuilders were unable to appear, owing to a rush of business at the Luckenbach pier. Camas was originally scheduled to play the Oregon City Papermakers. The Papermakers were also idle.

C V Bifocals and Comfort

With ordinary bi-centric bifocals the match flame may disappear. The "blind-spot" interferes with vision. That means burned fingers and more discomfort. C V Bifocals have no "blind-spot."

C V Bifocals have ONE optical center for both reading and distance and are therefore free from "blind-spot," "jump of the object" and "doubling of the image"—common complaints of bifocal wearers.

C V Bifocals will please you because they please the wearers—give the maximum of vision, comfort and efficiency—Complete Vision. In such a lens there is real and lasting enjoyment.

C V Bifocals were introduced by us to this community and we have made a great many of them for the people of Salem. We have never had a lens which gave such complete service. Call and have us demonstrate them to you.

Evolution

has played its part in clothes-washing

A famous writer once said "Nothing is permanent but change." Read how true this is of laundry methods. Note how this laundry has evolved new scientific methods, now using pure materials only.

Imagine This—A Hundred Years Ago

Clothes-washing was a crude art one hundred years ago. There were no laundries then. Some still took clothes down to the riverbank to wash. Folks had made their own soap in those old-fashioned days. And usually they mixed in it a strong lye, which softened water and got the dirt, but proved extremely hard on clothes.

Then fifty years ago the laundry sprang into existence. A rather crude institution in those early days, indeed! About all these old-time laundries attempted was to wash and "polish" men's collars. The brighter and slicker the polish, the better customers liked it.

Note Today's New Methods

Out of that modest beginning has evolved the present-day scientific laundry—an evolution that has been gradual. Yet like other present-day achievements, its greatest strides have come in very recent years.

A few years ago laundries began to offer a less expensive family service, doing washings by the pound. At first this proved unsatisfactory to many critical people. They considered the price still high, and the methods hard on clothes.

We larger laundries soon realized we must improve methods, lower prices, and secure volume, in order to be successful.

So we employed modern science. A research laboratory was established at Mellon Institute, in Pittsburgh. Countless laboratory tests were made there by our chemists. Old formulas, materials, and ways were tested, and then discarded.

Now we use only the purest of materials, in which you may safely wash your face. Modern invention gave us new machines. Now there is no rubbing, no friction—no chance of tearing or wearing. Now we use more water—giving clothes nine baths—each time in fresh clean water, never used for a previous batch.

Wet Wash

Try our economical Wet-Wash service. It saves you far more work than an electric machine, and actually at less cost. Everything scientifically washed with purest of materials and returned slightly damp, just right for ironing. 20 pounds or less, 75c. 4c each additional pound.
