Woman's Club Outline Year's Work

Interesting to the many prominent women of Salem who are members of the Salem Woman's club is the announcement of the program for the year book of the club which outlines the various activities of the year.

The organization resumes its year's work the afternoon of September 12 at which time echoes from the state federation will be heard from the delegates. A forecast of the year's work by the chairmen of the various committees will also be given.

September 26 is the date of the second meeting. An address on American art and music by American composers will be given by Eleanor Statter of the Art Institute of Portland. Miss Statter is well known in Salem and this meeting is especially anticipated by the members.

"Scholarship Loan Day" will be the topic for an address by Miss Jessie McGowan, chairman of the scholarship loan board, on October 10. Mrs. Elmo S. White acts as chairman of this meeting. October 24 is listed as President's Day and at this time Mrs. Sallie Orr Dunbar, president of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs will speak. "No Literacy by 1930" is the slogan for the meeting of November 14. Mrs. George H. Alden is the chairman of this assemblage of the club.

November 28 is scheduled as Guest Day. An opera will be presented under the direction of Mrs. T. S. Roberts, who is also chairman of the meeting. "State Institutions" an open forum, will be the interesting topic for December 12 with Mrs. Frank M. Erickson as chairman.

Christmas carols will be given on December 25 with Mrs. T. S. Roberts and Mrs. O. E. Price in charge. This meeting on "the day after Christmas" always proves to be one of the most delightful of the year. "International Relations" will be the subject for discussion on January 9. Mrs. Seymour Jones will be in charge of the meeting.

One of the most unique meetings of the year will be the travelogue and discussion on foreign music which is scheduled for January 23. February 13 is listed as "Oregon Day" and Mrs. B. Williams is chairman of the meeting which will include a discussion of Oregon books, Oregon poems, Oregon pictures, Oregon stories and Oregon music.

"Highlights in Legislation" will be the subject for the controversy on February 27. Patriotic music will also be discussed. Mrs. La Moine R. Clark will act as chairman for the meeting on this date. Mrs. A. J. French will be the speaker for the meeting of March 13 of which Mrs. F. A. Elliott is chairman. Folk songs and dances will be the topic for March 27. Mrs. Ralph W. White will be in charge.

Nominations of officers and a dramatic reading by Mrs. William McNeill will be the interesting nature of the meeting of April 19. Professor Alfred T. Sweetser, head of the botany department of the University of Oregon, will entertain the members of the club on "Nature Days" April 24, with "Oregon Wild Flowers" as his subject. Election of officers will take place on May 8. A talk on "Better Homes" will also be given, with Mrs. A. M. Chapman as chairman of the day.

May 27 marks the closing of the year's work and at this time the installation of officers will take place. "The Year in Retrospect" will be given by the retiring president, officers and chairmen of the various standing committees at this last meeting of the year.

Players In "The Rivals" Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. George Dorcas were dinner hosts last Saturday evening at the Hotel Marion honoring three prominent players in "The Rivals," Thomas Wise, uncle of Mrs. Dorcas, Chauncey Olcott and James Powers.

The table which was most artistic was centered with gladioli in pastel shades and blue tapers were burning at each end of the table.

Following the dinner a line party to "The Rivals" was enjoyed. Those bidden to the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. L. Schmund, Mrs. W. F. Gaeman and the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wise, Chauncey Olcott, James Powers and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. George Dorcas.

A charming wedding of Sunday united in marriage Miss Martha Jaquet of Victor Point, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jaquet, and Victor L. Cooley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cooley of Salem. The ceremony which took place in the home of the bride's parents was performed by Rev. C. M. Clark of Victor Point in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The bride was attractive in a gown of white canton crepe which was worn with a long tulle veil caught in coronet effect with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and pink carnations. Miss Alice Jaquet attended her sister as bride's maid and was lovely in a gown of blue crepe de chine. She carried pink sweet peas. E. N. Hoff of Portland, brother in law of the groom, acted as best man.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Paul Jaquet, sister in law of the bride, and Miss Neva Bery; Cooley, cousin of the groom, sang "At Dawning" accompanied by Miss Helen Wild of Portland. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served.

After a short tour of the Oregon beaches Mr. and Mrs. Cooley will be demitted in their new home at 1065 Hood street, Salem.

E. W. Hazard, accompanied by his daughter, Edith, left Salem yesterday by motor for Seattle. They plan to return to the city this week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Telfer of San Pedro, California, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Clearwater.

Pianist Of Salem Wins Praise

Among the young Salem musicians who are fast winning for themselves a reputation in the musical world is Stephen Whitford, the brilliant pianist and son of S. A. Whitford of this city, who is now furthering his studies in Paris.

Before going abroad he fulfilled several engagements throughout the country. Mr. Whitford was a Salem visitor in the spring during which time he fulfilled several engagements, the most notable being a program played at a regular meeting of the Salem branch of the Oregon State Music Teachers' association.

Of a recent appearance in East Orange, New Jersey, before leaving for Europe, the Courier of the Oranges writes:

"Music lovers of East Orange were given an opportunity to enjoy an unusual program last Friday when Mrs. Otto E. Lohrke opened her beautiful home in order that her friends might hear a recital by a young musical genius from Oregon. In spite of the many functions listed for that afternoon there was a large audience present to hear and to appreciate. Through the efforts of Mrs. H. P. Bailey, formerly of East Orange, the young man was induced to play in Orange before taking ship for France, where he will continue his studies. In the case of this musical genius, Stephen Whitford, the term young really means young. He is only 18 years of age, and has been studying with Miss Edna Trotter for six years.

"The program comprised the 'Ballade in G Minor,' by Chopin, which was brilliantly rendered. Then followed the piece de resistance, 'The Carnival of the Davidsbunder,' by Schumann. Mr. Whitford ventured upon one thing that many would fear, and that is the rendering of the entire lengthy composition. Not only did he play it admirably that interest could not possibly lag, but he pointed out with peculiar grace and delicacy the humorous symbolism of the composer and his peculiar skill in interrupting his serious fancies by flights of musical humor, irresistible and as potent today as they were when the shafts of Schumann's remarkable skill in modulation, harmony and technique were directed against the Philistines of his day, an essay later undertaken by Wagner when he was accused of ignorance of counterpoint and wrote the entire opera of 'Die Meistersinger' merely to show not only his skill in counterpoint but also his knowledge of all that mass of musical debris which lay at the bottom of the 'Meistersingers' rules and regulations.

"For Schumann in the 'Davidsbunder' took up the current music of the day and demonstrated how the tingelting of it could be turned into real music if one only tried.

"The second part of the recital consisted of the 'Alouette' of Balakorev, in which the strong contrasts were markedly brought out. 'Etude Japonaise,' by Poldini, with its quaint insinuations; Brahms' 'Walse In A Flat,' where the audience was invited to walk in familiar paths garnished with new charms; 'The Dance des Elfes' by Sappelflow, where the artist showed that a heavy Russian hand can be made light when the composer and artist understand each other, and finally 'Arabesques on the Blue Danube Waltz,' by Schütz-Evler, on the delightful air of Strauss in which sturdily old friends were brought forward in beautifully phrased garments of effervescent sparkle and vivacity. As an encore to enthusiastic applause the young artist rendered Godowsky's 'Quixotic Errand,' one of that composer's 'Thirty Moods and Scenes.

"The surmise wishes for his further success rendered by his hearers were eminently deserved and will no doubt be proven true in his future career."

The calendar committee of the Salem Woman's club met yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the Y. W. C. A. for the completing of the new year book. In addition to the calendar committee, the chairman of each standing committee of the club was present to assist with the work. The following are those who head the various committees:

Mrs. T. S. Roberts, music; Mrs.

W. K. Kirk, calendar; Mrs. La Moine R. Clark, legislative; Mrs. David Wright, hospitality; Mrs. Frank M. Erickson, institution; Mrs. A. M. Chapman, social service; Mrs. W. C. Dibble, press; Mrs. F. A. Elliott, public health; Mrs. Elmo S. White, scholarship; and Mrs. George H. Alder, education, with Mrs. Russell Catlin substituting for Mrs. Alder, and Mrs. W. F. Fargo, president of the Salem Women's club.

The members of the institution committee of the club met last Wednesday at the girls' industrial school as the guests of Mrs. R. K. Ohling. It was noted at this time that reading material was badly needed for the girls. Since the appropriation for the state library has been cut, the institution is no longer receiving books from this source. The Salem Woman's club is anxious to meet this need with plenty of current magazines of the better class. Magazine of the general household type, and needle work magazines are among these especially desired. It is hoped by the institution committee, which has charge of this work, that the women of Salem will assist in contributing these periodicals.

Announcement was made last week of the addition of a new member to the institution committee of which Mrs. F. M. Erickson is chairman. The newly appointed member is Mrs. Lura Case French, who is engaged in

AILMENTS OF YOUNG GIRLS

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound School Teacher's Experience

Evanson, Wyoming.—"A few years ago I had troubles every month such as girls' softens have, and would suffer so fully every time. I was teaching school and it made it hard for me as I had to go to bed for two or three days. One day my mother suggested that I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it did wonders for me. In the course of a year I married and after my first baby was born I got up too soon and it caused a displacement. This troubled me so that I could hardly walk or do my housework. I knew what the Vegetable Compound did for me before so I took it again. It strengthened me and now I have five little kiddies. The eldest is six, the baby is five months old and I have twin boys three years old and a boy of five years. I do all my own housework, washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I owe my health to your wonderful medicine."

Mrs. VERBENA CARPENTER, 127 2nd Avenue, Evanson, Wyoming.
