BRYAN SCION OF IRISH CAPTAIN IN KING JAMES ARMY

New York, July 29.—(A. P.)—The ancestry of William Jennings Bryan has been traced to William O'Brien, a captain in King James' Irish army in the war against William of Orange.

Michael J. O'Brien, historian and biographer of the American-Irish historical society today told how 18 years ago he had traced the O'Brien genealogy directly as far back as 1689 and showed that there was a possibility the commoner was descended from Brian Boru, an eleventh century Irish king.

Mr. O'Brien said the name O'Brien was changed to Brian and subsequently to Bryan after the removal of one of the family to Culpepper county, Virginia, from North Carolina, where Captain O'Brien first settled.

"Captain O'Brien of King James' Irish army fought under the romantic Irish general Patrick Sarsfield at the siege of Limerick," said Mr. O'Brien. On the surrender of that city he fled to Altona, Germany, as a price was set on the head of all the Irish officers who fought against William of Orange. "Thence he came to the American colonies, settling in Pasquotank county, North Carolina in 1691 where he received a grant of land. He married a woman named Needham and they had two sons, William and Needham O'Brien."

When William O'Brien's descendants emigrated across the Blue Ridge mountains into Culpepper county, Virginia, they dropped the 'O' from their name. The name changed to Brian, and subsequently to Bryan."

The hearing scheduled at Mt. Angel for July 29 relative to the proposed discontinuance by the Willamette Valley Southern Railway company of its operating line between Kaylor station and Mt. ## ARMY OF PROHIBITION AGENTS TO PATROL NATION'S BORDERS

Washington, July 29.—In furtherance of his basic plan to choke off the liquor supply at its source, Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury proposes to erect a line of defense on the north and south borders that will dovetail in with the interior prohibition organization.

The assistant secretary began consideration today of a plan to reinforce the customs service border patrol to take care of the new defense areas.

Mr. Andrews apparently is committed to a completely motorized border patrol system.

Treasury officials have estimated that the government loses between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 a year through smuggling and the plans under study would be aimed to prevent the illegal entry, not only of liquor but of many articles of merchandise on which tariff duties are levied as well as the smuggling of narcotics and aliens.

Long stretches of the American border are unguarded because of the small number of customs agents who can be assigned to the Dakota-Montana-Idaho and Washington areas, as well as along the Rio Grande and southern California districts.

On the north, the smuggling of wheat and cattle has in the past been a serious problem. The southern problem has been largely that of the smuggling of liquor, narcotics and aliens. Mr. Andrews feels that more men and faster means of travel would solve the situation.

While Mr. Andrews was engaged in his study, the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church issued a statement declaring the assistant secretary was a "friend of prohibition because he is the enemy of neutral."

Mellon, "because of his associations and his interest in the whiskey business in former years," was not considered by prohibitionists to be the proper person to be in charge of enforcement, the board said there was "circumstantial evidence" that he was following a policy of "absolute non-interference and of sympathetic support of his subordinates charged with the enforcement of the Volstead act."

The assertion that "prohibition is having its last trial," was scouted by his board, which said prohibitionists would fight on until satisfactory enforcement was obtained.

BIG GAME HUNTRESS RELEASED FROM PRISON

Tampa, Fla., July 29.—(A. P.)—Lady Grace Esme Mackenzie, big game hunter and international adventurer, was released from the Hillsborough county jail here after spending four uncomfortable nights as the cellmate of an alleged breedit queen.

Her freedom was obtained by a kindly woman veiled in black to conceal her identity, who made good a worthless draft for $200, to G. E. Bray, Tampa realtor, who had endorsed for Lady Mackenzie several months ago. Charges were dismissed.

"I did not think I had a friend in Florida until today," Lady Grace said, deeply affected. "Whoever came to my assistance so nobly must certainly want the money back and I intend to find her and return it as soon as possible."

A suit for false arrest will be instituted by Lady Mackenzie, she said after inhaling a deep breath of pure air.
