"Prankfest" Is Enjoyed By Delegates

"Prankfest" night, according to the Oregon delegates was among the most enjoyable of the recent 7th annual convention of the national Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs which was held in Portland, Maine, July 13 to 18th. "Prankfest" night originated at the national convention of the federation in 1923 and proved such a success that it has become a regular institution and occupies a very important part on the convention program. As the title implies it is an evening devoted entirely to fun and a variety of delectation in the form of putting on some original stunt or engaging in some high jinks. The affair was held this year in the huge Palace ballroom at Old Orchard, the Coney Island of Portland, Maine, which was filled to overflowing with delegations, all of them in the distinctive and colorful apparel which had so marked them during the convention.

The stunt put on by the Oregon group will long be remembered by the visiting delegates from all over the United States and Canada. Twelve colorful Pendleton Indian blankets were given away, one from each club in the Oregon state federation, namely, Astoria, Coos Bay, Corvallis, Eugene, Hood River, Klamath Falls, Medford, Portland, The Dalles, Roseburg, Seaside and the Portland Women's Advertising club, to the lucky winners in a free raffle. Three beautiful Pendleton Indian shawls were also presented, one to Miss Adella Prichard, retiring national president, a member of the Portland, Oregon, club, one to Miss Olive Joy Wright, the new national president, whose home is in Cleveland, Ohio, and a third to Miss Mary Arletta Penny, the general chairman of the Portland, Maine, convention. Dr. Mary Purvine of the Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, presented the shawls to Miss Prichard and Miss Wright while Mrs. Josephine Forney did the honors to Miss Penny.

Miss Martha Gasech, corresponding secretary of the Oregon federation, and a member of the Portland Business and Professional Women's club, served as chairman of the convention committee for Oregon and had charge of the stunt. To her and her committee composed of the following members, Miss Alice Agler, Miss Margaret Aune, Miss Abbye Bland, Miss Helena Budd, Miss Bees Colwell, Miss Edith Dailey, Mrs. Ruth Gooch, Miss Rena L. Herrick, Miss Alice M. Kraenick, Miss Bertha Mae Schwan, Miss Alice Wilson and Mrs. Lela Wright, all of the Portland club, together with Miss A.
