

FINE PROGRAM AT STATE FAIR HORSE SHOW

Lovers of fine horses and spectacular high jumping will be privileged to witness one of the finest programs ever held in the entire country next month when the state fair horse show opens in this city on the second evening of the fair, September 29. Entries are coming in every day to the office of Mrs. Ella Schultz Wilson, secretary of the fair board, and according to her, horsemen and horsewomen of the Pacific northwest are evidencing unprecedented interest and enthusiasm in the forthcoming event.

Of foremost importance this year will be the appearance here personk cheered themselves hoarse when she skinned over the bars at 6 feet 2 inches. When it is taken into consideration that Calgary Lass is under 14.2 hands, the jump is considered nothing short of miraculous.

Twenty-two years of age and still able to top the timbers at 6 feet 2 inches is the record of Mademoiselle, famous high jumping mare from the Welsh stables. For sixteen years horse show patrons all over Canada and the United States have been amazed by the jumping powers of this "wonder mare," and although her shiny dapple grey coat has turned to pure white, she is still described as game as ever, and is the idol of horse show crowds the country over.

Last spring Mademoiselle amazed the horse show officials at Calgary by walking off with the high jump prize at a mark of 6 feet 9 inches with 10-year-old Alfie Welsh in the saddle. In this event she defeated half a dozen high class horses.

Just 50 inches high, but holder for the first time of the string of famous high jumpers from the Welsh brothers stables of Calgary. With one world's record and one Pacific coast record to their credit, the Welsh stand is out seeking new trophies, and it would not be surprising if one or more new early season records were run up during the horse show at the state fair.

Fine Horses Coming
In addition to having their string of unbeaten jumpers, Welsh brothers also boast of having the finest family of riders on the continent. Heading the stable is Louis Welsh, aged 15 years, who has ridden their horse, Barra Ladd, holder of the Pacific coast high jump record of 7 feet 4 1/2 inches, to a hundred victories from coast to coast. Next is Josie Welsh, aged 17, who rides a team of Roman jumping horses over a five-foot fence, standing on their backs. Alfie Welsh, aged 11 years, has piloted Mademoiselle, the famous 21-year-old jumping mare over a five-foot nine jump, and the youngest rider of this group, Lawrence Welsh, is hailed throughout the Pacific coast as the "boy wonder." Lawrence Welsh is but 8 years old, but has the seat of a veteran rider. His handling of Calgary Lass, world's champion pony high jumper with a mark of 6 feet 2 inches, is said to be nothing short of miraculous. Rutherford Welsh, aged 8 years, is working out daily for his debut in the "big show," and it is not unlikely that he will take a conspicuous place on the program in Salem.

Barra Ladd Coming
The appearance of Barra Ladd at the state fair will be of more than ordinary interest because of the fact that arrangements have been completed with the officials of the Royal Fair at Westminster, B. C., for the Calgary horse to have a go at the world's high jumping record of 8 feet 13-16 of an inch, at present held by Great Heart, owned by the Peabodys of Chicago. Barra Ladd, with Louis Welsh up, has never been beaten in any horse show in Canada or the United States and his owners are confident that he will establish a new high jump record. He is a big up-standing bay, with a white face, and is described as the most consistent jumper that has ever appeared in a show ring, having the credit of never having refused a jump in his life.

In addition to Barra Ladd and Calgary Lass, there is Whitegate Queen Mary, holder of the Canadian record for ponies 13.2 hands and under; Kiekaroo, holder of the riders high jump record and a consistent performer over all jumps; Hard Cash, Tilly, Calgary Lad and eight other horses that have earned their brackets in the high jump game.

New World's Record
Calgary Lass, with Lawrence Welsh up, jumped to a new world's record at the Vancouver exhibition last fall, when 5666

ELIZABETH RYAN BESTS HELEN WILLS IN TOURNAMENT

Scabright, N. J., Aug. 1.—Miss Helen Wills of Berkeley, Cal., national women's tennis champion, was defeated today in straight sets, by Miss Elizabeth Ryan, of England and California, in the final women's single matches of the Scabright invitational tournament. The scores were 6-3, 6-3.

It was the first defeat Miss Wills has sustained on the American courts since 1923, when she first won the national title from Mrs. Mallory, and established Miss Ryan as a formidable contender for the championship to be played at Forest Hills in a few weeks.

Miss Ryan's decisive margin of victory came as a complete and stunning surprise to the spectators who established Miss Wills as a strong favorite to win.

The court, drenched and soggy after an all-day and night rain, made the footing precarious, but this condition seemed to bother Miss Wills more than it did Miss Ryan, who discarded her shoes and played in her stocking feet after the first game of the opening set.

The softness of the turf permitted little bound to the ball and seemed to aid the sharply angled shots and well placed drives of Miss Ryan, whose court generalship was superior throughout to that of the American champion.

DRY AXES USED ON SUPPER CLUBS

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—As a result of the battering down with sledge hammers of the doors of two Broadway supper clubs by 12 prohibition agents five men were under arrest today and the value of the government's stock of seized liquor had increased $1000.

The raiders were gathered here recently by Federal Attorney Buckner from among agents of accomplishment on the Canadian border. Paddock proceedings have closed many clubs. Bargain week for petty bootleggers ended yesterday.

Other accomplishments of the day were a raid on a cutting plant with three arrests and seizure of $50,000 of liquor the breaking up of mail order plants that sent liquor in trunks and the forfeiting of bail bonds aggregating $400,000.

OREGON CITY GOLFERS PLAY ILLAHEE SUNDAY

Tomorrow, weather permitting, the Oregon City golf team will meet the members of the Illahee club in a tournament to be held on the local course. Graham Sharkey, professional of the club, has been working hard to get the course in shape and it will be in excellent condition by the time of the meet.

The visitors are bringing a team of twelve men to meet the locals and six women will also meet the local women. The matches are promising to be hard fought. The tournament is to start at 9 o'clock.

LIFE TERMER DISCOVERS FREEDOM TOO DIFFICULT

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 1.—After serving 25 years of a life sentence in Folsom prison, Bill Austin, 65 years old, found liberty presented difficulties with which he found he was unable to cope. Today he is on his way back to Folsom to complete his sentence.

Austin was convicted a quarter of a century ago of killing a fellow seaman in a brawl on San Francisco's Barbary Coast. Paroled a few months ago, he was picked up last May as a vagrant but escaped, being returned to prison as a parole violator when a sympathetic citizen learned his history and promised him permanent employment provided he would stay sober. This condition proved too severe for Austin.

"Life outside was too hard and I got blue and discouraged," he explained to parole officers.
