KIDNAPPED GIRL BRIDE FREED FROM ORDER OF COURT

The effect of the decree is to place the girl's martial status in the same position as though no pretending ceremony ever had been performed.

A number of matters concerning marital incompatibility were before Judge McMahan yesterday.

Another unusual proceeding was the filing of a stipulation between Zelma Godwin and James C. Godwin in which they both subscribe to the statement that they are wholly estranged and that there is no possibility of a reconciliation. As a result it is stipulated that the husband will have custody of the two minor children, and on granting of a divorce decree he is to pay the woman $50 in cash and give her a note for $100, payable within a year.

Clarence F. Higbee is granted a default decree of divorce from Virginia B. Higbee on ground of desertion. They were married in Salem October 14, 1912.

An order for default was entered in the divorce case of Gladys Tucker against Curtis C. Tucker.

cook at the hospital. Miss Fishback, general cook, will remain. Dan O'Donnel, gardner, has been associated with Miss Steele for years, and has stated that he will quit when she does.

Which makes a total of two, one special cook and one gardner, who will leave next fall, with the possibility that reports of others may prove to be more than mere gossip, and that some of them may secure positions elsewhere. It is generally conceded that the hospital staff as a whole is loyal to Miss Steele, but it is not believed that the loyalty will result in a general exodus from the hospital at the time she leaves.

There are a number of nurses in training at the hospital, who for the most part are expected to remain and continue their training, because a departure would interfere with their becoming professionals, if for no other reason.

CROSSED HALF CONTINENT TO FIND FRIENDS DEAD

Marshfield, Or., Aug. 5.—To drive half way across the continent in a covered wagon to be reunited with friends he had located after a quarter of a century only to find they had died before his arrival here, was the experience of Walter E. Wetmore. He arrived here from Colorado after 120 days on the way.

The friends whom he expected to see here were H. H. Hopps and Mrs. Hopps, who were burned to death with their three children in the Noble building fire last April.

Wetmore recounts that early in March he learned that his friends were in Marshfield, and made immediate preparations for the westward trip. He bought a team and prairie schooner and started.
