

DANGER LURKS IN RADIO WIRES ON POWER POLES

Warning was issued yesterday by W. M. Hamilton, head of the local branch of the Portland Electric Power company, against the "extreme danger encountered by careless radio fans in attaching antenna to poles carrying power lines."

"As evidence of the risk," he said, "that is to be taken when proper precaution is ignored, five cases of personal injury or property damage have been furnished by our engineering department in Portland." The five cases mentioned by Mr. Hamilton were as follows:

1—Fiftieth and Columbia boulevard, January 3, 1924, 5:30 p. m. (dark): Young man climbed on to pole structure carrying bank of transformers and 57,000-volt, 11,000-volt and 2300-volt lines with aerial wire trailing on ground and held in left hand. Shoulder came in contact with 11,000-volt fuse with fatal result.

2—Fifty-seventh and Powell Road, June 14, 1925: Aerial found attached to short strip of wood nailed to pole and extending up between legs of 11,000-volt line with aerial wire crossing over and within few inches of two legs of this line. Experienced linemen found it necessary to kill 11,000-volt line and climb through 2300-volt circuit to remove same. Aerial ran to corner of house with light porcelain insulators at ends.

3—East Nineteenth and Bybee avenue, on or about May 1, 1925: Aerial wire found attached to secondary arm on pole run up between legs of 2300-volt primaries over arm and attached to house. Party erecting same had left pliers hanging on primary wire and made the remark that linemen could have them as wire was too hot for him.

4—Eighty-fourth and Powell Valley road: Father and son erecting aerial seen by service man in act of pulling aerial wire over 2300-volt lines. Had string attached to end of wire to pull it over while one held wire on ground. If they had not been stopped before aerial wire reached live wire, probably would have resulted in serious accident or fatality.

5—Van Houten street, near Peninsula: Father and son pulled ### wire for aerial over 57,000-volt line, burning aerial wire in two and causing "kick out" on line. Had one end attached to tree and string with weight tied to it attached to end being pulled over line. The dry string alone prevented personal injury.

LAYS 36,000

BRICK A DAY

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 6.—Laying 36,000 brick a day or approximately three and one-half carloads, James Brown, an Indian and former Carlyle, Pa., football player, has gained a reputation among the construction workers on a highway near here as being the champion bricklayer of the world.

GREAT ENGLISH BEAUTY SECRET 'HOWARD'S BUTTERMILK CREAM'

Druggists told not to take anyone's money unless this delightful new vanishing cream quickly shows a decided improvement

BIG DEMAND, SAYS DRUGGIST

Buttermilk Cream creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that while it turns the dull, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, cross' feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

700 FIGHT FIRE MONTANA WOODS

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 5.—More than 700 men are now engaged in fighting fires in the Kanlow, Clearwater and Cour d'Alene forests in northern Idaho and western Montana. A labor shortage in this region is proving an obstacle to the recruiting of more fighters who are badly needed.

High winds also are hampering the work of those who are fighting. Some of the fires have been checked but others have spread in the last 24 hours so that the situation is virtually unchanged from yesterday.

Forty more men were sent to the fire at Tamarack creek near St. Regis, Mont., where the fire broke through the lines yesterday. The Falcon fire, one of the worst, is expected now to be checked at the Idaho-Montana line with crews rushing to that section from three directions.

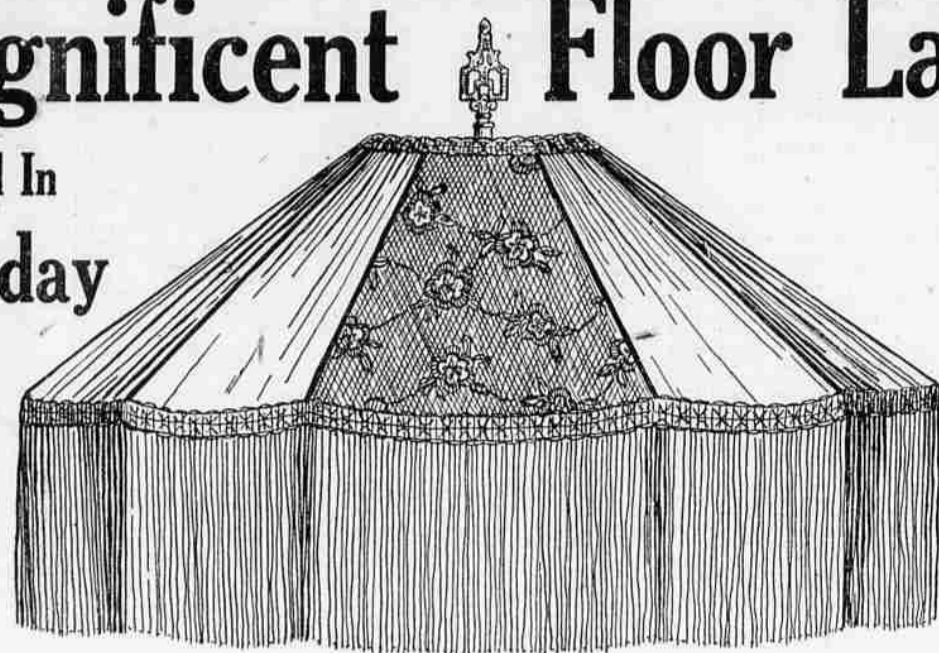

To prove this to your complete satisfaction, get a small quantity today at your favorite toilet goods counter with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money should you be dissatisfied.
