With Mr. Weeks withdrawal, the president's name state of Massachusetts will lose its representation in the cabinet and one of the greatest hopes of today was that Senator William Butler of that state, now chairman of the republican national committee, might be elevated to a place in the president's official family. Should such an appointment be made, Mr. Butler probably would become postmaster general, a post held by numerous party champions in the past, and Mr. New transferred to the war department.

EARLY MORNING MIST RELIEVES DRY SPELL HERE

With precipitation described as anything from a heavy mist to light rain seen in Salem this morning, residents of the city were relieved to find that old Jupiter Pluvius must be taking a few preliminary squirts from his rain can after passing the city up for a period of more than two months.

Thoughts of umbrellas, rubbers, raincoats and the like began to occur in the minds of the people of Salem for the first time since June 11, the last date on which the city was visited with a real rain. By noon, however, the sun had struggled through the clouds sufficiently to dispel any probability that there would be a rain today.

The maximum fine of $50 was assessed by Justice of the Peace Small today against Walter Fleming, who pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery on the person of his wife. Fleming has not yet furnished the money, and is in the county jail.

Just what the weather man intended to do by a question that is worrying most Salemites. Perhaps, some say, Jupiter was just giving the people a reminder of what he could do if he tried, and will not really start in to moisten things up for some time to come.

The year 1924 was far below normal in rainfall during the first half of the year, but was in general above normal during the last half. The present year may prove to be exactly the opposite.

JAPANESE SHIP DEFIES COURTS

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 12.—(Canadian Press)—Having defied the British Columbia division of the Canadian admiralty court, flouting the officers of that tribunal, the Kalkya Maru, a freighter of Kobe, was at sea today. She sank a tug and broke a water pipe in this harbor yesterday.

The tug was valued at $7,000 and the Kalkya was libeled. The Kalkya, lying here in English bay, was visited by two surveyors who were through a process that they called attaching her. The attachment did not prevent her from taking her departure as soon as dusk set in.

The departure discovered, a telegram was sent to a marshal at Victoria, B. C., 69 miles from here on the way to the Pacific ocean. The marshal, representing the court, went out in a launch and hailed the Kalkya as she steamed toward Japan.

The master of the Kalkya defied the launch tossed in a half gale. Then the Kalkya lowered a ladder, dropped her pilot and drew up the ladder before the marshal or a man he had with him could seize a rung.

The marshal then conversed with the skipper, who was on the Kalkya, and the skipper promised to put on the Royal Roads nearby, on Vancouver island, but would not receive on his ship anybody from the admiralty court of Canada. Today the Kalkya was not found in Royal Roads or that vicinity.

Aspirants For Weeks Post Many Among those outside the present cabinet, Charles D. Hillis of New York, is conceded to rank high among the available, but one influential action of the president will be to appoint to the cabinet an active attorney of the republic.

With Mr. Weeks withdrawal, the president's name state of Massachusetts will lose its representation in the cabinet and one of the greatest hopes of today was that Senator William Butler of that state, now chairman of the republican national committee, might be elevated to a place in the president's official family.

MRS. BRYAN SAYS SHE HAS NOT APPROVED PLAN

New York, Aug. 12.—Miss Dionesa Bryan, Evans of Minnesota, who originated the idea of a memorial to William Jennings Bryan at Cleveland, Fla., expressed herself today as much embarrassed by the statement of Mrs. Bryan that she had not communicated with Miss Evans nor given her approval of the project.

She said that she had heard from the latter that she did not wish that she should be known as the woman who had approved the plan. Mrs. Bryan at Coconut Grove, Fla., last night declared: "I do not know the young lady, never have heard of her and never have lent my approval to anything which she has suggested."

A memorial in Arlington cemetery at Washington is the only one that the commoner's widow has approved.

THREAT SEEN IN AMERICAN ACT EXCLUDING JAPS

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 12.—(A. P.)—A warning of possible serious results to Japanese-American relations from the immigration act passed by congress in 1924 was uttered at the Institute of Politics today by Professor George H. Blakeslee of Clark university. "For twenty years the United States has held to a policy of restricting Japanese immigration but in a way not to wound the susceptibilities of the Japanese people," he said.

The immigration act of 1924 put in force a totally different policy which has created a new issue. "If the Japanese people as a result of this are unwilling to cooperate with the United States in maintaining the policy of the open door and the integrity of China the situation will produce serious and far-reaching results."

YOUTH KILLS AUTOIST WHO HELPED HIM

The latter had given him a "lift" in his coupe. The youth, who yesterday confessed to having murdered Clawson, was arrested in Garden City, when officers there became suspicious of the blood stained car he was driving.

Auto Identified The car was identified by its license plate, but denied until yesterday the boy denied any knowledge of Clawson.

Late yesterday, however, he broke down and signed a confession, telling how he decided to hold up the man who had given him a ride. He drew a gun, he said, and when Clawson struck, he fired.

He took the wheel, drove on and dumped the body into a ditch near a culvert.

Body Not Found Sedalia, Mo., Aug. 12.—(A. P.)—Sheriff George H. Restor and deputies, aided by newspapermen searched all night for the body of Adam Clawson.

Numerous places were visited without finding any trace of the man alleged to have been killed by a boy giving him a ride. The search was resumed today near Lebanon, Otterville and other points.

May Be Missing Boy Wilmington, Ohio, Aug. 12.—(A. P.)—Henry Adams, father of Everett Adams, 19, left here last night for Garden City, Kan., where it is reported his son may be held in connection with the slaying of Adam H. Clawson of Cedarhurst, N. Y.

SAYS HUSBAND THREATENED TO BLACKEN NAME

Alpena, Mich., Aug. 12.—(A. P.)—Mrs. Edna J. Scott, testifying at the divorce trial brought by her husband, Congressman Frank D. Scott, today declared that on the eve of their separation in 1922, Scott had threatened to blacken her reputation.

"I'll drag your skirts through the mud so that no one will want to look at you," she quoted him as saying.

Under cross-examination, Mrs. Scott denied she had attempted to influence Mrs. Frederick Zihlman, wife of a Maryland congressman, not to make any deposition in the case, Mrs. Zihlman was abroad the summer Mrs. Scott was in congress.

She also denied ever having been unduly friendly with Captain Wilbur Sumner or with anyone else.

A charge that she had conspired with Congressman Joseph W. Fordney at Garden City, Mich., for advice as to the desirability of her becoming a candidate to oppose her husband at the last primary election was denied by Mrs. Scott.

Frederick B. Sikes, formerly a house employe at the Leo house, Washington, testified by deposition that Mrs. Scott had entertained Gilbert Benninger, a fellow guest at the hotel, in her room there. This was in 1923, after the Scotts had separated.

"I saw them often in Mrs. Scott's room," Sikes deposed. "I pecked through the keyhole and saw them sitting close together. She usually was sitting on his knees."

Sikes said Benninger was "supposed to be a bootlegger."

"Mrs. Scott said to me 'this fellow Benninger is awfully tight, but he's got lots of money,'" Sikes said.

He added that Mrs. Scott and Benninger "were half shot lots of times."

Sikes said he first got to know Mrs. Scott when she was struck by an automobile in front of the hotel and brought into the lobby. He carried her to her room, he said.

After she had been at the Leo house some time, she got a room next to the one occupied by Benninger, Sikes deposition said.

Mrs. Scott and Benninger went motoring in Benninger's car "three or four times a week and never were in before midnight," the deposition said.

Former Residents Visit Turner, Or., Aug. 12.—Mrs. L. M. Kirkpatrick and son, Hubert A., of Redwood, Cal., have been spending several days visiting old friends in Turner and vicinity.

The Kirkpatricks were former residents of Turner and are on their way home from the east. Hubert A. Kirkpatrick is employed by the Guggenheims as a hydro-electric engineer and has just returned from the Malay peninsula, where he has been connected with the company's tin mines.

On his way home he came by way of the Red Sea and Europe. Mr. Kirkpatrick was also employed by his company in Alaska for six years in their mines at Dawson. On their way home they will be joined at Medford by Mrs. Dr. Staples of Turner and her two cousins, Grace and Anna Malloy of Boston, Mass., who are now touring the Oregon Caves on their way home. Dr. Staples will accompany them as far as Lee Angeles.

BOOZE SLEUTH FINDS BOTTLE; TWO CLAMS MAKE IT THEIR HOME

Regardless of the fact that he was in Lincoln county, and outside of his jurisdiction, regardless of the fact that he searched no court order, had no search warrant, and was without authority in the premises whatsoever, Bremmer cabbaged onto the bottle, clams, barnacles and all, and brought it home with him. It now resides on a desk in the sheriff's office where all the world may see.

Whether or not he will be hauled back to Lincoln county, as "Bill" Leaven, state prohibition director, was hauled back to Klamath county, to answer to a larceny charge, remains to be seen. Leaven was charged only with taking an old gun from a Mexican, which never has been considered a crime, particularly along the Rio Grande.

While Bremmer swiped an empty whiskey bottle, which in these days is considered a hanging offense in any jurisdiction, anyway, the bottle in an exhibition, clams, barnacles and the recollection of old days clinging affectionately to it.

Hetrophoria

(Muscle Imbalance) Muscular imbalance can often be permanently overcome by a series of exercises properly given. There are six external muscles which move the eyeball in its socket; these muscles work in pairs and are delicately balanced to harmonize; if one muscle is either too weak or too strong it throws the others out of balance and we have discomfort because it is an effort to make both eyes focus on the same object. Rectifying Mistakes of The Farm

After the harvest is over, most farmers can look back and see how more profits could have been made by better equipment, more land, better stock and other things which are needed for the general welfare of the farm.

When these things are fresh in mind is the time to lay plans for next year. And lack of finances need not prevent you from carrying them out, for Hawkins & Roberts are always glad to loan money to farmers who can profitably use it in promoting their prosperity.

When money is needed, think of Hawkins & Roberts
