Many honest, sincere people are coming and being convinced that the bible is indeed the very word of God and that Jesus Christ is really alive from the dead with the same all mighty power as He manifested in the same days of the church. Read the Acts of the Apostles and then remember that we are commanded to "earnestly contend for the faith once delivered unto the saints." Jude 1. Don't take too much for granted or risk the eternal welfare of your soul on hearsay but come and hear the pure, unadulterated word of God in all its purity and power and see this wonderful Saviour confirming it with signs, wonders and miracles of salvation and healing. "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, today and forever." Heb. 13:8. Mark 16; Acts 2:28, 32.

CENTER ST. METHODIST—13th and Center streets. A. F. Himmer, pastor, 634 North Winter street. Sermon topic at 11 a. m. "Giving An Account." Sunday school at 10 o'clock. This closes the conference year.

UNITARIAN—Cottage and Chenoketa streets. Rev. Martin Ferezhelton, minister. Services will be resumed in September. The ministry is in town and has been all summer and is ready to serve all who need his ministrations. He may be reached by phone, 850 and by appointment any time. Mr. Ferezhelton is now working on his sermon subjects and he will be very glad to receive suggestions for sermon topics which individuals would like to have him consider. Due to the closing of the church for the summer someone has started a rumor that Mr. Ferezhelton has resigned. That is absolutely false. Every summer Unitarian ministers as a rule attend minister's institutes or study at various universities. However, the minister of the Unitarian church here has preferred staying and spending his vacation in Salem.

JASON LEE MEMORIAL M. E.—Corner North Winter and Jefferson streets. Take the North Commercial street car to Jefferson avenue. Thomas Acheson, pastor. Leroy Walker, assistant in charge of the junior church. This church gladly extends the word of welcome to the public for all of the services of the coming Lord's day, assuring all who attend of our sincere efforts to make everybody feel at home. School of religious education opens at 9:45 a. m. with classes for both young and old. The school is aggressive and growing. Harry Carpenter is superintendent. Public worship at 11 a. m. with an appropriate message by the pastor. At the same hour Rev. Walker will preach to the junior church downstairs. Young people up to 16 years of age invited. We specialize in young people's work. Open air service at Wilson park 4 p. m. Young people's hour at 7 p. m. The Wesley and Epworth leagues will meet in separate meetings. Public worship for devotional rooms downstairs. Welcome strangers and adult members of the church as visitors. Public worship at 8 p. m. Subject "Impressions of the Epworth League Institute." The pastor will be assisted by a group of institute young people in this service. The young people will also sing the song composed by one of the Jason Lee group that you first place against 40 other leagues in a song contest during institute week. Fine time assured. On Monday evening the monthly business meeting of the church will be held. Mid week devotional meeting for junior and senior churches on Thursday evening 8 p. m.

CENTRAL PACIFIC TO BUILD BUTTE CUT OFF

Washington, Aug. 15.—(A. P.)—The Central Pacific railroad asked the interstate commerce commission to permit it to construct the Black Butte cut-off, which will constitute 24 miles of new line from Weed to Grass Lake, both in California. New railroad will serve to connect up new construction which the Central Pacific and Southern Pacific have undertaken in Oregon. No estimate of cost of construction was given in the application.

WILSON MEN BELIEVE WILLOS WOULD CRINGE IF HE GOT INTO A GUN FIGHT IN THE OPEN, BUT MURRAY, IT IS BELIEVED, WOULD FIGHT TO THE DEATH. Zina Zinn, the taxicab driver whom the three men compelled to drive them into the country, says that Murray was boastful. One remark said to have been made by the convict was: "I sure got one of them. I shot him right between the eyes."

Some way the report has got out that the four escapes had agreed mutually to kill any of their number who might be seriously wounded. Just how the report got out is not known.

That "Oregon" Jones was wielding a knife as well as a gun is indicated by post-mortem evidence. A knife cut in the right shoe of Holman, one of the dead guards, and a corresponding cut in the foot caused considerable speculation until a search of the pockets of Oregon Jones was made. On his

KELLY SAID TO BE REMORSEFUL OVER MURDER

"We've done a terrible thing—we've killed a man."

These words are said to have been muttered over and over by Ellsworth Kelly, one of the escaped convicts from the Oregon penitentiary as he and his two companions, Tom Murray and James Willos, fled through the state hospital grounds Wednesday evening after having slain John Sweeney and J. M. Holman, guards at the state prison, and after losing their fourth member "Oregon" Jones.

Kelly was said to be in a highly nervous condition. He was the last to leave the prison yard, and is believed to have run down the stairs from guard post No. 1, while the other two men leaped to the ground.

Prison men believe Willos would cringe if he got into a gun fight in the open, but Murray, it is believed, would fight to the death. Zina Zinn, the taxicab driver whom the three men compelled to drive them into the country, says that Murray was boastful. One remark said to have been made by the convict was: "I sure got one of them. I shot him right between the eyes."

body was found a horn-handled knife, with double-edged blade, and blood along one of the edges. The knife was open in his pocket.

CALL OREGON JONES "BRAVE, NOBLE, VICTIM"

"Complimentary—with sincere sympathy to ye brave and noble victim of the system." This was the message written on a small white card attached to the lone floral piece that rested last night on the casket of "Oregon" Jones, slain desperado, just before his body left Salem for Grant's Pass, where it will be buried. The message was signed by R. H. Graves of Salem, whose name cannot be found in the city directory.

Jones' body was in charge of his brother, Dee Jones of Portland.

SALEM GOLFERS PLAY ALBANY

Tomorrow the members of the Illahoe Country club golf team will meet the Albany players on the local course. The visitors are bringing a strong delegation and are expecting to walk away with the bacon.

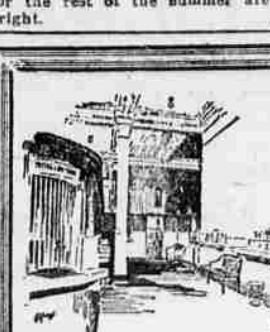

Members of the local club have been working hard to get into shape for the meet and they will give the Albany players a tough run for honors. The course has been put into tip-top shape, according to Graham Sharkey, professional of the club.

The locals have had some trouble this year in their meets so far but have improved considerably the last few weeks. It is rather hard to get the members out to the course.

practice as the club is out so far. Lately, however, the course has had a large attendance and the prospects for a good attendance for the rest of the summer are bright.

The course at Eugene is simply packed according to local members who have been there in the last few days. Last Sunday it was almost impossible to get near the course, claims Walter Cline, local member. As soon as the players ahead have taken their second shot another bunch starts off. The Eugene course is to be enlarged to 18 holes which will make quite a difference.

We Can Learn From Others

Every day the United States National has individuals come in who tell us their problems, what mistakes they have made and ask us to advise them accordingly.

Their problems are many times similar to the ones you are facing. Our experience in working with them can profitably be applied to your own development. Why not make your financial and business headquarters here? We are always glad to be of service.

Why you pay for quality—not freight when you buy the Veedol "film of protection"

THE map tells the story. It shows where Veedol comes from, where it is made, and how it is shipped to the Pacific Coast.

The pipe lines are Tide Water's. Through them are pumped the choicest Eastern crudes, carefully selected from Tide Water's own oil wells. The mammoth refinery at Bayonne, N. J., is Tide Water's own.

The map shows how Veedol is shipped to the Pacific Coast all the way by water. That explains why the cost of shipping Veedol is so low. It costs less than one cent a quart to bring Veedol out to the Pacific Coast, in the original sealed containers. You pay for quality—not freight.

Today drive up to the nearest Veedol dealer. The orange and black Veedol signs are everywhere. Ask specifically to have your crankcase drained and refilled with Veedol—and let the "film of protection" safeguard your motor from now on.

In its stills and agitators and filters, Veedol is refined. In its laboratories 3,000 tests a month insure the uniformity of the Veedol "film of protection."
