

SENATORS WIN PITCHING DUEL FROM CYCLES

The Salem Senators won a pretty pitching duel from the Cyclo nine of Portland here yesterday on the Oxford park diamond by a score of 2 to 1. Barham, Salem hurler, was the main factor in the Salem win, letting the visitors down with two singles and bringing the winning run across the plate in the seventh after the Cyclo had tied the score at 1 all in their half of that frame.

For six innings Barham hooked and crooked the visitors to death and it was with two men out in the sixth before the Cyclo were able to glean their first hit of the game. Big Bill Bottler next man up then got a walk but Reid forced him at second. Both hurlers pitched straight ball and received excellent support.

The Senators went along two innings without a sign of a hit but in the third with two men out Bouton, Salem short hit one of "Chinky" Covert's slow balls and it sailed over the right field fence giving the home team lead which they held until the seventh.

Rankin's Three Errors Ed Rankin proved to be up to his regular form yesterday when he made three terrible decisions on lead strikes on the locals. His first error came in the third on Proctor. The ball was nearly a foot on the outside of the plate but Rankin called him out. The next break came in the fourth on Schackman the ball being outside. Schackman showed his disfavor by breaking his bat on the plate but went out to his position without an argument. Another rotten decision was made in the Cyclo half of the fourth when Rankin called a pretty strike a ball which led Bottler to go to first on balls. Reid then walked to fill the bases but Barham then struck the next man out.

Both hurlers struck at least one man out an inning. Barham sent nine of the visitors back to the bench while ten of the locals hit the dust. Barham walked five of the Cyclo to three for Covert but three of the walks were issued to Bottler, home run king and two to Reid who is almost as dangerous as Bottler.

Score Tied In Seventh The visitors rallied in their half of the seventh and tied the score at one-all. Epps went to bat for McClusky and hit the first ball pitched against the fence for a single. Baker sacrificed him to second. Covert went out Proctor to Keene and Epps went to third. Scott hit one to Maples, Salem third baseman and with plenty of time to catch him he threw wild to first and Epps crossed the plate with the tying run. Scott was caught at second trying to steal a minute later.

In their half of the seventh the locals brought the winning run across. Edwards, first man up was safe on Simmons' error. The ball went to Covert but he was unable to handle it. It went to Simmons who kicked it just as he went to pick it up. Frisco was still miles away from the plate when Simmons picked it up near first base. After cornering the ball Simmons threw wild to first and Edwards made it. Coleman went in to run for him and went to second a minute later on Covert's balk. Barham hit a line drive for the longest hit inside of the field this year. Coleman stood on second for fear the ball might be caught and then dashed home with the winning run. The drive of Barham's went clear to the center field fence. Bouton got a hit and Barham went to second. Proctor sacrificed them to second and third while he went out at first.

The next play was a bonehead play on the part of the visitors. Maples was safe at first but Barham stayed at third. Bouton on second rounded third and was running Barham to the plate. Tuma started toward second to touch second and retire Bouton. Bouton then saw the play and dashed back toward second. Barham started toward the plate and the Cyclo stood around while Bouton made second in safety and Barham was safe on third filling the bases. Queenberry flew out to Simmons and Adolph, batting for Keene ending the inning by flying out to center field.

Barham in Fine Fettle Barham usually has trouble in the ninth inning but proved strong this time by striking out the first two men and causing Gressett pinch hitter for Covert to fly out to end the game. Barham was in fine fettle and proved to be too strong for the visitors who also played excellent ball. Next Sunday the locals are to clash with the Albany nine on the Oxford park diamond. The Albany team won over the Senators in the Interstate league series but the locals are out to get revenge this time.

The box score follows:

Salem		A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E.
Bouton	4	1	3	1	1	1
Proctor	2	0	0	4	4	0
Maples	3	4	0	1	0	3
Queenberry	4	0	0	1	0	0
Keene	1	0	0	1	0	0
Reinhart	3	0	0	2	0	0
Schackman	4	0	0	1	0	0
Edwards	4	0	0	0	0	0
Barham	4	0	0	0	0	0
Adolph	1	0	0	0	0	0
Coleman	0	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	31	2	6	27	12	2

Cyclo		A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E.
Scott	2	4	0	0	1	1
Buzzell	3	0	0	0	1	1
Simmons	3	0	0	1	1	1
Tuma	1	4	0	1	1	0
Bottler	4	0	0	3	0	0
McClusky	1	2	0	0	0	0
Epps	1	2	0	0	0	0
Baker	2	1	1	0	0	0
Covert	2	0	0	0	0	0
Gressett	3	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	28	1	2	24	9	2

*Batter for Edwards in 6th and 7th.
*Batted for Baker in 9th.
Score by innings:
Cyclo 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0-1
Hile 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 0-2
Salem 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 X-2
Hile 0 0 1 1 2 0 2 0 X-6
Summary—Struck out, by Barham 9; by Covert 10; base on balls, off Barham 5, off Covert 3; hit by pitched ball, Keene; balk, Covert; stolen base, Tuma; home run, Bouton; sacrifice hits, Proctor, Simmons, Baker.
Time of game, 2:04.
Umpires—Rankin and Kennedy.
 Toledo Defeats Albany
The Toledo baseball team continued its winning streak by defeating Albany, 8 to 2, yesterday. Art Beams, Toledo's star hurler two years ago and hurler for the Salem Senators in a game or two was on the mound for the Albany nine. He was batted out of the box in the seventh inning.
The score:
R H E
Albany 2 6 6
Toledo 8 12 3
Batteries—Beams and Armstrong; Strickmaster and Stapleton.
 Independence Beaten
The Salem-Woodburn all-stars defeated the strong Independence nine at Independence yesterday in a hard fought battle by a score of 3 to 2. The game went eighteen full innings before the game was decided.
Both hurlers pitched the full route although the winner's hurler was weak at times. Several times the Independence team had two or three on base with no out but the side would be retired with out scoring. Several men were caught at the plate.

Elli, winner third baseman came to bat in the eighteenth frame and after striking out four straight times hit the first ball pitched for a double from there he was able to score. The All-Stars held the Independence team scoreless in their half of the eighteenth. Keen and Towner formed the battery for the winners.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

"Discipline? There is none, thanks to Warden Dalrymple. How can there be discipline with two baseball games a day, gambling going on, ice cream being served and radio concerts at 10 o'clock at night? Does that sound like a prison?"

"I was 'fired' the middle of last month," continued Mr. Charlton yesterday, "on a false charge. The warden said he removed me for being drunk. I told him that was a lie and he knew it. I never took a drink in the prison—haven't drunk in years. And when I left I warned him that the way the institution was being conducted there would be hell break loose within six weeks."

Men Put in Bull Pen "Oregon Jones, who was killed trying to escape Tuesday, and Kelly, who was with him, defied me and said they wouldn't work. I pulled out my watch and told them they would have one minute to get started or I'd have the guns turned on them. They started. I put them in the bull pen. They told me that they'd be out of there in a week. I replied that they would remain in the bull pen until winter so far as I had anything to say. The day after I was ousted the warden removed them from the bull pen."

"I don't believe in being brutal because a man is in prison, but I do believe in discipline. You must be firm with them and treat the men square. Convicts know when discipline is expected, but they dislike seeing favorites played. I have been in the prison when men could only speak at certain times and smoke at certain times and there was no trouble with them."

London, Eng.—James J. Davis, the American secretary of labor, is making a tour of the industrial districts of north England, visited mills at Newport yesterday and astonished accompanying friends by seizing a pair of tongs and going to work on an anvil in masterly fashion. He explained he had worked in iron mills.

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 15—Young Harry Mills, San Diego negro featherweight was given a knock-out over Pat Mills of England, in the sixth round of their scheduled 10 round bout here last night. Referee "Dutch" O'Neil counted Mills out but ringiders were unanimous in declaring that Mills struck Mills twice while he was on the floor, once when a knee was touching and again with knee and hand on the canvas after a knockdown. Spectators did not leave their seats for some minutes after O'Neil's exit and sent a shower of cushions after him.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

FORMER KEEPER AT PRISON SAYS DISCIPLINE NIL

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Open Forum

Contributions to This Column must be plainly written on one side of paper only, limited to 300 words in length and signed with the name of the writer. Articles not meeting these specifications will be rejected.

To the Editor:—Referring to the statement of ex-Superintendent of Penitentiary James to the effect that Dalrymple was not discharged but resigned from his former position at the penitentiary may be true, but he should have added that he was due to be fired and was permitted, as an act of courtesy to tender his resignation. Mr. James may not have been advised as to what prompted the tender of Dalrymple's resignation as there were, unfortunately, many things happening around the institution that he was hardly alive to.

The dispatch referred to reads as follows:
Toledo, Or., Aug. 15.—Warden Dalrymple of the Oregon penitentiary was not discharged for cause while serving in a subordinate position at that institution, as stated by ex-Governor West in Portland, according to C. W. James of Toledo, ex-superintendent. Mr. James declared today that Mr. Dalrymple resigned of his own will.

London, Eng.—James J. Davis, the American secretary of labor, is making a tour of the industrial districts of north England, visited mills at Newport yesterday and astonished accompanying friends by seizing a pair of tongs and going to work on an anvil in masterly fashion. He explained he had worked in iron mills.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

YOUNG HARRY WILLS KNOCKS OUT PAT MILLS

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 15—Young Harry Mills, San Diego negro featherweight was given a knock-out over Pat Mills of England, in the sixth round of their scheduled 10 round bout here last night. Referee "Dutch" O'Neil counted Mills out but ringiders were unanimous in declaring that Mills struck Mills twice while he was on the floor, once when a knee was touching and again with knee and hand on the canvas after a knockdown. Spectators did not leave their seats for some minutes after O'Neil's exit and sent a shower of cushions after him.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

Portland, Aug. 17—"It's not a prison, but a paradise for crooks," declared Charles Charlton, formerly principal keeper of the Oregon state penitentiary, describing that institution.

L. T. Dick and L. M. Hum
CHINESE MEDICINE CO.
420 and 426 State St.

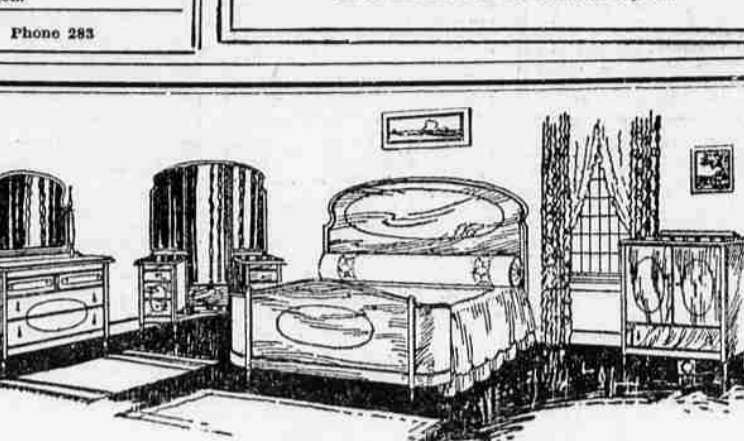

Has wonderful Chinese remedies which will cure any human ailment including: headache, stomach, kidney trouble, male and female. If ill consult us at once. Delay is dangerous.
Established 18 years in Salem, Oregon.

Phone 283

Ladd & Bush Bankers
ESTABLISHED 1868

General Banking Business

Office Hours from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

"HE PROFITS MOST WHO SERVES BEST"

—In Furnishing Homes as Elsewhere
We gain as we serve. The better we serve the more we gain. An infallible rule of life! And it applies to our business of furnishing homes too. We like to feel that we are selling service rather than so many pieces of furniture. We prefer to consider our business in the light of bringing comfort, beauty and utility—service—to the home. The better we make such service the larger we grow and the more we profit.

New Furnishing Ideas
Often we have discriminating home-makers come into our fine store just to look around for new ideas on interior decorating and furnishing. Now with the scores of new pieces on our floors such "shopping for ideas" is most profitable. We want everyone interested in a better home to feel free to come into this store and look about to their heart's content. You will not be bothered by salesmen unless their advice is solicited.

Advice on Re-furnishing
Our salesmen are trained specialists in interior decorating. They thoroughly understand effective room settings. We urge you to bring your re-furnishing problems to this store for advice and counsel. This is a part of our home-making service—and there's no charge whatever for it. The Drapery section offers a most interesting display of new hangings for fall.

Devoted to the Furnishing of Better Homes

Our Windows are for your inspection

C.S. Hamilton
GOOD FURNITURE

Use our deferred payment plan.

FLY TOX

Kills Moths

KILLS FLIES, MOTHS, MOSQUITOES, WACHES, FLEAS, RED BUGS, ANTS

Developed at World's Foremost Scientific Industrial Research Institute. Will not stain. Pleasant odor. Harmless to humans and animals.

Your Grocer or Druggist

FISK TIRES

Buy a Fisk

Heavy Duty
Balloons
Cords

It will pay you to get our prices

Hughes does
Expert Vulcanizing

Salem
Vulcanizing
Works

474 Ferry. Phone 364

Earning Power of Money

Your banker will tell you to practice thrift until your finances are of such proportion that investment is highly desired to give a greater earning power to your money.

When this time comes (perhaps it is now), consider the investments offered by Hawkins & Roberts. Each is secured by improved and income real property, thus affording Safety as well as a top notch return.

Be On the safe side by investing with us

MORTGAGE LOANS
BONDS AND INVESTMENTS

2nd Floor, OREGON BLDG
SALEM, OREGON

HAWKINS & ROBERTS INC.

Men's New Fall Suits

$25.00

SPECIAL OFFERING

Men's New Fall Conservative Model Suits in Hard Finish All Wool Worsted Material—Dark Brown and Oxford Grey Colors—Remarkable Value in Every Suit—Don't Buy Until You See These—Bishop Quality in Every Way

Mallory-Stetson Hats, Nettleton Shoes

It Pays to Trade at Bishop's

Bishop's
CLOTHING-WOOLEN MILLINERY STORE