Mrs. White Leaves For Cleveland

Mrs. Ralph L. White left this morning for a five weeks stay in the middle west. Going by way of California Mrs. White will spend the first two weeks in Cleveland, Ohio, in attendance at the convention of the American national association of dancing teachers of which she is a member. The principal and head teacher of the association is Stessno Mastedgo with whom Mrs. White studied two years ago.

From Cleveland Mrs. White will go to Chicago, her former home, and will take an advanced course with Adolph Bolm, well known Chicago dancing master.

Upon her return to Salem Mrs. White plans to open two branches of her dancing school. In Silverton she will hold classes in the K. P. hall with Miss Margaret Simms assisting. The Corvallis branch will be located in the New Benton hotel. Miss Fay Wasson will serve as her assistant there.

Salem assistants during the coming year will include the Misses Valerie Briggs, Pauline Maranch, Cynthia Delano, Maudie Myers, Bertha Babcock and Edith Haun with Mrs. James Teed the pianist.

A number of lovely gifts were showered upon the bride-elect who for the past two years has been attending O. A. C. She is a member of Delta Zeta sorority. Mr. Wilcox was graduated from O. A. The service was read by the Rev. Charles E. Baskerville at the First Presbyterian church of Vancouver. The ceremony was followed by a small reception in the church parlors, and later a wedding supper for the bridal party at the Goddard country home near Vancouver. The bride wore a gown of white satin with rose point lace and a coronet caught with orange blossoms. Her train was of silk. She carried Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Beulah De Honey, as the only attendant, was in orchid georgette with silver and carried a shower of pastel tinted sweet peas. The bride was given in marriage by Dr. Goddard. William Wells attended Mr. Turner as best man and ushers were Richard Montgomery and Ogden Johnson. Leona Martin was soloist for the ceremony and the wedding march was played by Miss Lillian Norgren. ## PLAN BURLESQUE ON "UNCLE TOM"

London, Aug. 21.—The spectacle of old Uncle Tom, who in other days quivered under the lash of Simon Legree, doing the Charleston across the stage to the tune of "Them Cotton Pickin' Blues" is a possibility in the new edition of Uncle Tom's Cabin, a musical comedy being prepared for English theater goers.

While few details are available, those few are plenty, as one newspaper says. They include a dramatic shooting of the villainous Legree, by Tom himself, intimidation of Eliza and the famous pounds and ice cake scene, introduction of a new comedy character named Jim Crow, and instead of the pathetic death of the old slave, his triumphant final appearance with a big wedding cake at the marriage of Lucy Rivers.

Startling new way of packing coconut

Now put up for the first time in airtight tins like fine fruits

It's Fresh Coconut, not dried or processed in any way, but just shredded and sealed at once with all its succulent tenderness—all its rich, delicious flavor

COCONUT like the fresh-grated! Now you can get it anywhere.

A new process has been discovered for putting it up moist—but without the milk—in its own juices in airtight tins like fine fruits.

Ever since coconuts were first brought to America from the West Indies, the taste for coconut has been growing. In the Southern cities where it can be got in its fresh state, perhaps sixty per cent of the dessert recipes of every housewife are coconut dishes. And all over the country, where it is generally known only in its dried form, it is increasing in popularity.

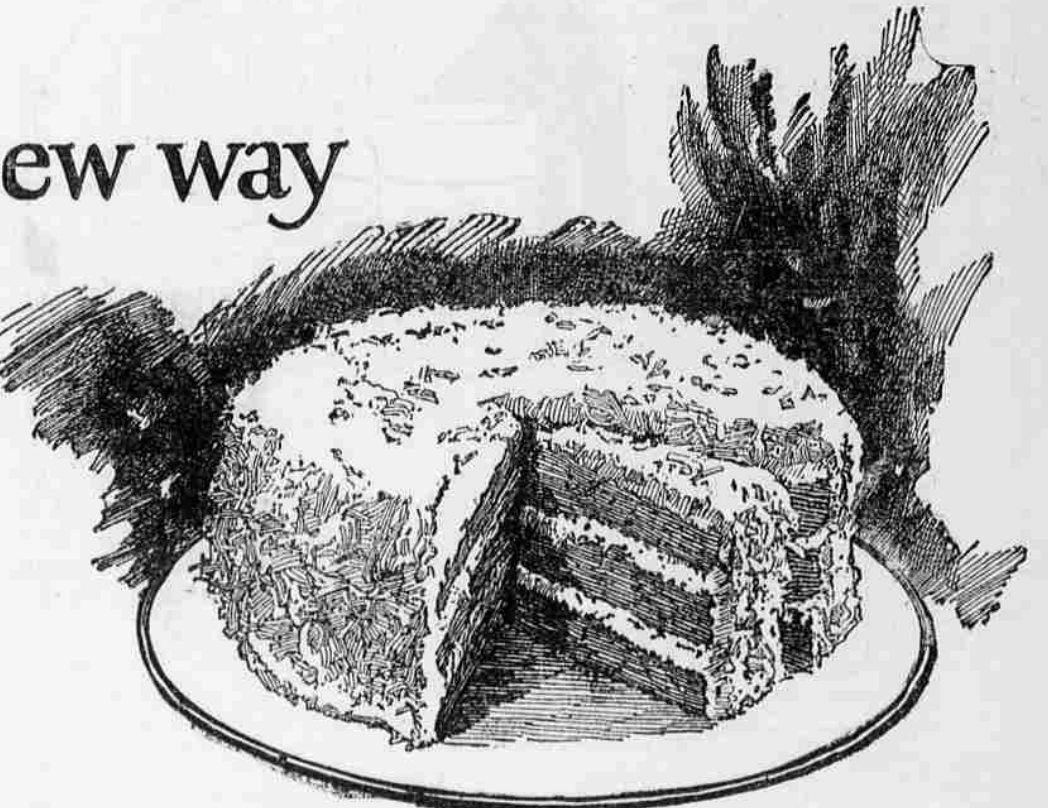

To meet the demand for this delicacy in its most delicious form, the largest coconut manufacturer in the world has for years been working to perfect a way of packing coconut that would give it to you fresh.

Baker's Coconut, Southern-Style, is the result. It is called Southern-Style because it brings to everybody everywhere coconut as fresh and delicious as once only the South could have it.

Cakes baked with coconut packed in this new way stay moist and fresh for days. And they have a new richness of flavor—a tenderer, more delicate texture.

TRY it in pies, puddings, all your popular coconut dishes and see how much better they are. Canned or sliced or stewed dried fruits served with Baker's Coconut, Southern-Style, seem like rich, expensive desserts.

Ask your grocer today for a can of Baker's Coconut, Southern-Style, and watch this paper every day next week for our big special introductory offer.
