

EGG VALUES START ON FALL UPWARD TREND

EGGS ADVANCE BUTTER WEAKER SUGAR HIGHER

Portland, Aug. 21.—Egg values have started on the upward trend in the local market after being dormant during the summer months. Fresh receipts up to the present time have been about sufficient for the local market requirements and prices have been held generally steady.

Today's bids are higher with extras and flats up a cent on the dairy exchange at 39 and 36 cents respectively.

Pullet eggs have advanced two cents overnight with quotations now posted at 34 cents. Current receipts are up a half cent at 31 cents net on the exchange.

Local buyers are out with bids of 30 cents for receipts delivered. Offerings are moderate and the demand brisk. Outside markets, too, are higher and this is a strengthening factor in the local situation.

As yet, few stocks, if any, have been pulled out of the coolers but should the market continue to advance, some storage eggs are bound to come out.

The local butter market is showing a weaker undertone after maintaining a good healthy condition during the past month. Declines in outside markets is the main factor, rather than any local condition. There has been very little increase in cream production, and while under the stock in a more plentiful there is still a shortage of real score butter in this market. Prices are unchanged on the local board today but buyers are less keen for shipping supplies.

The 10 cent advance in sugar prices is generally effective today. Local jobbers are quoting best cane at $4.30 and beet at $4.10 per sack.

PEACH ORCHARD 30 YEARS OLD IS AGAIN BEARING

Dallas, Aug. 21.—After a period of some 29 years, in which they have experienced all the vicissitudes that a peach tree is subject to, the surviving trees in a 30-year old peach orchard on the W. R. Howe place on the La Creole above Dallas has come back into championship form.

Twenty years ago, at the Lewis and Clark exposition, Mr. Howe's peaches won a gold medal for excellence. This week he was displaying peaches in Dallas which certainly would have every chance to repeat that feat were there an exposition to show them. The peaches are early Crawfords, large, well formed, and colored and luscious.

Only a few trees of the old orchard remain but this year these are loaded with peaches that remind Mr. Howe of old times.

WHEAT KEEPS OVER $1.60 MARK

Chicago, Aug. 21.—The wheat opening was 1/4¢ down with September at $1.59 and December at the same figures—$1.59 to $1.59 1/2. Considerable activity was shown in the May delivery, which advanced almost 2 cents over the opening figures.

After opening 1/2¢ down to 1/2¢ up, with September at $1.03 1/2 to $1.04 the corn market took a slight bounce and then fluctuated within narrow limits.

Oats started a shade 1/2¢ down with September at 40 1/2 to 40 1/2 and held near the opening figures. Provisions were firm and higher.

The wheat finish was 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ up with September at $1.61 1/2 to $1.64, and December at $1.60 1/2 to $1.63.

At the close corn was 1/2¢ to 1/2¢ up with September at $1.04 1/2 to $1.04 1/2.

NUT GROWERS BACK FROM TOUR

Only grafted trees of United varieties, preferably the Franquet, Maylan, and Maylan varieties should be grown and then only on soils adapted to nut growing.

These were among the principal conclusions of the Western Nut Growers' Association members after a two-day trip through groves of Willamette, Newberg and Dundee districts Wednesday and Thursday. Some forty cars carrying growers interested in the industry made the tour. Nearly a dozen local men were on the trip.

Six farms were visited where experts analyzed the conditions affecting the nut crops and suggested improvements for increasing the yield. Groves were visited where there were both good and bad yields and the causes of each were analyzed and discussed. C. V. Ruzak, soil expert; D. C. Mole, of the entomology department; C. L. Long of the extension service; and C. B. Schaefer of the horticulture department, all of D. A. C. were present to lead the discussions.

STAR STOLEN FROM OLD BATTLESHIP RETURNED

Boston, Aug. 20.—A brass star from the pedestal of "Old Ironsides" steering wheel came back today to be placed in its original position from where it was taken 10 years ago by a young midshipman, who "because of the devil" in my early youth did often take up his residence with me, did unswerving and pry from her wheel at the quarter deck a brass star.

The name of the culprit who returned the star and wrote the accompanying letter was withheld by Admiral L. B. Sturges of the Charlestown navy yard who is interested in restoring and repairing the old "U. S. Constitution," to its original state.

A Banquet That Was Almost A Tragedy

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had nothing else attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Free doses will convince or money refunded. J. C. Perry, D. J. Fry and drugists everywhere.—Adv.

PRESIDENT AND PARTY VISIT IN OLD HOME TOWN

Northampton, Mass., Aug. 21.—Back in his home town for a fleeting call, President Coolidge visited today with old friends and neighbors before continuing on his way to Swampscott.

Men and women who knew Calvin Coolidge, as a struggling attorney, a city councilman, mayor, member of the legislature, lieutenant governor and governor joined in respectfully honoring him as president.

A limited number of intimate friends had access to the home of Mrs. Elvira Goodhue, the president's mother-in-law where he and Mrs. Coolidge were over-night guests.

The president and his wife arrived here late yesterday, after a 135 mile dusty automobile ride from Plymouth, Vt., where they had spent six days at the home of the president's father. Their departure from Northampton today was timed to permit them to be back at the summer White House before nightfall.

Shortly after his arrival here the president signed the Belgian debt agreement brought here for his signature.

Despite his grueling motor trip yesterday, Mr. Coolidge after supper went to the building where he once had law offices, climbed a flight of stairs hoping to find his old law partner, Judge Ralph Hemmaway, but returned home, disappointed. Profiting by his experience of last night, President Coolidge armed himself with a key to his law office today, returned to the building in which it is located and succeeded in gaining admittance through the door which bears the lettering "Calvin Coolidge-Ralph Hemmaway law office."

Judge Hemmaway joined the president and for half an hour they indulged in reminiscences and discussed personal matters. The office walls are lined with law books belonging to Mrs. Coolidge and when he returned to the Goodhue home he took a batch of papers along for later perusal.

Mrs. Coolidge spent the morning visiting with her mother. Photographers and movie men, standing outside the house in a drizzle were rewarded when Mrs. Coolidge and Mrs. Goodhue came out on the porch and posed for pictures.

To please the photographers, Mrs. Coolidge went back into the house, returning with "Hians," a Boston terrier, who once lived at the White House, but because of his inability to get along with the other dogs there, has been making his home with Mrs. Goodhue for a year or more. With the pup clasped in her arms, Mrs. Coolidge posed for another series of photographs.

SALES OF WOOL DECREASE BUT MARKET STEADY

Boston, Aug. 21.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: "The volume of business in the wool market seems to have fallen off this week, although the market has steadied both here and abroad, especially due to the settlement of the Yorkshire textile strike which caused 80 per cent of the mills in Yorkshire to stand idle. The business done has been chiefly for fine and fine medium wools for the worsted trade, although rather more business has been done in medium wools also and slightly more inquiry is reported from the woolen mills. The mill situation, in respect to worsted is better. In the west there has been little or nothing happens, especially noteworthy.

"The big event in the foreign markets has been the settlement of the English textile strike, which has strengthened the Bradford market and has reflected added strength in the Australian wool auctions, where the best wools have been against the buyer."

The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations:

Scoured basis

Oregon—Eastern No. 1 staple $1.25@1.30; fine and fine combing $1.18@1.20; eastern clothing $1.10@1.15; valley No. 1, $1.10@1.15.

Indications point, also, to the Labish country producing the heaviest onion crop on record. It is understood that the Hayes holdings alone of about 300 acres will produce along in the neighborhood of 400 cars and arrangements are now being made for storing the largest production of onions ever secured on the Hayes properties in the Labish bottoms.

In addition there are numerous other large growers in the section who will have proportionately large crops for their acreages.
